TAKES FRENCH POSITION

KAISER'S REGIMENT CLAIMS BIG VICTORY

But Paris Quickly Follows With Emphatic Denial of Defeat in the Argonne Forest.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—(Via London, 3 p. m.)—The German official statement issued today claims the capture of a strong French position in the Argonne forest by Emperor William's own regiment.

The text of the communication read:

"In the western theater of war the enemy made insignificant advances, which were checked.

"In the forest Argonne a strong point of support of the enemy was taken by the Wuerttemberg infantry regiment, No. 120, his majesty's, the kaiser's own regiment. On this occasion two officers and about 300 of the enemy's troops were made prisoners.

"There is no news from eastern Prussia.

"In northern Poland the battles are taking their normal course.

"In southern Poland the enemy's attacks were repulsed.

"The report circulated in the foreign press that 23,000 prisoners taken by us at Kutno are included in the 40,000 Russian prisoners reported by us previously, is untrue.

"In the battles at Wloclawek, Kunto, Lodz and Lowicz the eastern army has taken between the 11th of November and the 1st of December over 80,000 wounded Russian prisoners."

TELLS ANOTHER STORY.

French Version of Incident Makes It German Repulse.

Paris, Dec. 2.—2:50 p. m.)—The French war office gave out an official announcement in Paris this afternoon as follows:

"In the region to the south of Ypres and Saint Eloy, an attack of the enemy against an intrenchment taken by our troops during the day, was repulsed by us. Our artillery inflicted damage on a group of three batteries of heavy artillery of the enemy.

"At Vermelles the chautan and the park surrounding it, two houses in the village and some trenches were brilliantly occupied by our forces.

"There has been a spirited artillery exchange in the vicinity of Fay, to the southwest of Peronne.

"In the region between Vendresse-Craonne there has been a violent bombardment to which the French artillery replied with success, accomplishing the destruction of a battery.

"In the Argonne a German attack against Fontaine Madame was repulsed and we made some progress in the occupation of a trench in the forest of Courtes Chaussee and a minor fortified position near St. Hubert.

"On the heights of the Meuse, in the Woevre district, and in the Vosges there is nothing to report."

Austrians Again Victor.

Semi-official advices received today by the Havas agency from Nish contain the admission that the Austrians have won further victories in Servia. After a number of rear guard actions during the last few days, the Servian troops were forced to fall back Dec. 1 from the region around Oudjitze and Kocieritch. The retreat it is said was made in good order. Heavy fighting has occurred near Souvabor, where the Austrians concentrated large forces and succeeded in capturing two important points. The fighting along the river Kolubara is said to have been attended with some success for the Servians. In an engagement near Lazarevatz on Nov. 28, the Servians are reported to have taken positions from the enemy, capturing 27 officers and about 2,000 men.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Heavy fighting has been renewed in the region of the Argonne forest, toward the eastern end of the battle line in France, and although today's French and German official communications disagree as to outcome, it was apparent that the conflict is marked with considerable violence.

The German emperor's own regiment was selected to make an assault on a strong French position, which the Berlin statement says was won. The French statement, in referring to what apparently was the same engagement, says the German attack was repulsed and that progress was made by the allied troops.

In Belgium infantry fighting has been resumed, although it is not clear whether the Germans have begun another general movement. The French war office reports that German attacks on entrenchments were beaten back and that Germans suffered heavily in the artillery duel. At other points in the line fighting has become no more spirited than had been the case for some time.

According to the French statement ground has been won by the allies in certain sections, including the occupation of German trenches.

Berlin says affairs in the east are progressing to its satisfaction, although no new details of the movement are given. It is stated that in the fighting in Russian Poland between Nov. 11 and Dec. 1 eighty thousand Russians were captured unwounded.

The situation in Servia is reported at Sofia, Bulgaria, to be critical for the home army, which is seeking to check the forward movement of Austria's invading forces. The Servians have been forced to fall back before strong natural positions and are now acting entirely on the defensive.

PARKER APPEALS TO CARDINAL GIBBONS

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 2.—Cardinal Gibbons today received a cablegram from Sir Gilbert Parker, the distinguished English novelist at Maastricht, Holland, appealing to the cardinal to assist the American commissioner for the Belgian relief in their "staggering task."

"Here I watch penniless, homeless Belgians fleeing from their naked land," the massage adds. "Many towns and cities are absolutely destroyed. Countless homes are stones and ashes. Hundreds of thousands lack food and clothes. They ask for bread and salt and no more and it is not forthcoming. The commission asks for half of a soldier's rations for each starving Belgian. In your land of plenty there are millions who would give if they knew. Will your eminence not help to make them known? In the name of Christianity and human compassion I make this appeal."

GUITERREZ TO BE DULY INSTALLED

Washington, Dec. 2.—Provisional President Gutierrez will enter Mexico City and be installed in the national palace there according to telegrams to the state department today.

Villa is at Tacuba, a suburb of Mexico City, where it is believed he conferred with Zapata. All today's reports to the state department indicate that the two chiefs are working in harmony in support of Gutierrez. Consul Carothers with Villa, today reported his arrival in Mexico City and will care for American interests with the Brazilian minister and John R. Silliman.

Latest dispatches from Tampico to the state department say Carranza forces have re-occupied Pauco which had previously been in the hands of irresponsible bandits. The reports added the Carranza garrison was maintaining order and had given guarantees to foreigners.

JOHN DAILY HAS ATTACK: APOPLEXY

John F. Daily, aged 70, was stricken with a stroke of apoplexy on East Wayne street, near the market, about 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and did not regain consciousness until after he had been taken to the St. Joseph hospital.

Mr. Daily suffered a similar attack one day last week on Lafayette street and was unconscious for fifteen minutes. The attack Wednesday afternoon was much more severe, although his condition is not regarded as critical.

Dailey, who has been rooming at 312 West Jefferson street, was for years a court bailiff and is well known. For several months he has been experiencing a dizzy feeling at times, but never lost counciousness until the attack last week. In the fall Wednesday afternoon he suffered an injury to the left side of his face.

CHICAGO GETS STAMP SUPPLY.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Receipt of a million war tax stamps and the announcement that the government had granted thirty days' grace on taxes due yesterday brought order today in the local internal revenue office. About 1,000 persons were in line when the office opened, but officials were prepared to handle their demands.

DR. RAWLES AGAIN HEAD

Bloomington Man Chosen President of State Tax Association.

CONFERENCE IS DEEP IN PROBLEM

Certain to Be Flood of Tax Bills Before Next Legislature.

Indianapolis, Dec. 2.—Dr. William A. Rawles, of Indiana university, was re-elected president of the Indiana State Tax association at the annual meeting here today. Dr. Rawles was chosen the first president of the organization of the provisional meeting of the association held at Bloomington.

Fred A. Sims, who was a vice-president of the association, was made executive secretary and will have charge of the Indianapolis headquarters. His place was taken among the vice-presidents by Aaron Jones, master of the Indiana grange. Other officers who were re-elected are: Dan M. Link, state tax commissioner; John B. Stoll, South Bend; L. S. Bowman, auditor Wayne county, and John A. Lapp, legislative librarian, vice-presidents; Fred B. Johnson, Indianapolis, secretary, and W. K. Stewart, Indianapolis, treasurer.

The Subjects Today.

John B. Stoll, of South Bend, was to preside over the final meeting of the conference which was to be held this afternoon and which was to be devoted to "What is the Remedy in Indiana?"

DISCUSS AMERICAN EXPORTERS' CLAIM

Washington, Dec. 2.—Protests from American exporters—notably western beef packers—against American consignments to Europe being held up by British authorities, were discussed today at a conference between Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the British ambassador, and Councillor Lansing, of the state department. The practice of American exporters consigning goods "to order," also was discussed. In all cases of detention so far the department has lodged a formal protest in writing.

The position of the British government is that it has information that Germany is receiving large quantities of [illegible]

RAIL PROBE TOPICS COVER WIDE RANGE

Vary from Engineer's Pay to Monkey Wrenches and Grease Cups.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Subjects varying from the pay under the proposed scale of an engineer on an express silk train to monkey wrenches and grease cups were touched upon at today's session of the arbitration board hearing requests of the engineers and the ninety-eight western roads employing them. Sixty-four thousand men are affected, according to a statement given to correct the prevailing impression that only 55,000 are involved. The silk train problem was elicited in the course of the cross examination of M. W. Cadle by James Sheean, counsel for the railroads. The pay of freight enginemen is at a higher rate per mile than that of men on passenger engines, as their progress is much slower. Though freight pay is demanded for various classifications of enginemen and for "classified service," such, for instance, as handling circus trains and snow plows. Mr. Sheean developed that silk trains are in the unclassified service and that they are run on passenger schedules.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, discussing the "surprise test" of enginemen, which the men want eliminated, stated that there was a law in Kansas against the test, "but it is disregarded," he added.

"I will say to that," replied Stone, "that in my twenty-five years as a railroad man, I never knew an emergency where the crew did not break every rule in the calendar when necessary."

SHOW MARKED DECREASE.

Custom and Internal Revenue Receipts Below Last Year.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Custom and internal revenue receipts for November showed a marked decrease from the same month last year. Customs receipts were $16,924,408, compared with $21,173,628 for November, 1913, while internal revenue receipts at $24,159,963 were nearly $5,000,000 less than in the same month last year. For the month the excess of ordinary disbursements over receipts was $15,880,863, compared with an excess of the same sort last year of $2,713,732.

QUIT? MOST SURELY NOT

Progressive Leaders Still Full of Fight at Chicago.

THEY RIDICULE TALK OF MERGER

Likewise Call Disbandment Rumor a Mere Idle Fancy.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—There was no outward hint of lack of enthusiasm for the progressive party manifested today by leaders from thirty-two states who met in conference with the members of the executive committee of the organization.

Reports that disbandment of the party was a possibility were characterized as idle fancies and that there was likelihood of amalgamation of the progressives with either the republican or democratic party was equally ridiculed.

George W. Perkins, of New York, chairman of the executive committee, presided at the conference, which first listened to chairmen who told of political conditions. After these talks it was the intention of the committee to go into session and take what action was thought necessary.

What Davis Says.

Speaking for the executive committee, O. K. Davis answered a question concerning the possibility of a message from Col. Roosevelt by saying: "Col. Roosevelt never has been a member of the executive committee; he never has been asked to attend a meeting of the committee; he never has sent a message to the committee and he is not expected to send one now."

The following members of the executive body were present when the conference began: George W. Perkins, of New York; Wm. Flynn, of Pennsylvania; Walter F. Brown, Ohio, and Jane Addams and Medill McCormick, Illinois.

Among the more prominent leaders in attendance were E. A. Van Valkenburg, Philadelphia; Senator Moses E. Clapp, Minnesota; Gifford Pinchot, Pennsylvania; Raymond Robins, Chicago; Chas E. Burbank, Massachusetts; Wm. Allen White, Emporia, Kansas; Victor Murdock, Kansas, and James R. Garfield, Ohio. Three women, among them Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, accompanied their husbands and were admitted to the conference. As the meeting began [illegible]

100,000 MILES IN PLEASURE JAUNTS

Fort Wayne Couple Starts on Journey South for Winter Months.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wessel, sr., left at noon Wednesday for Jacksonville, Fla., and their departure for a winter in the south probably marks them as Fort Wayne's record travelers, as they have covered more than 100,000 miles on pleasure jaunts.

Aside from several trips as mate on ocean liners, Mr. Wessel has crossed the Atlantic seventeen times on pleasure bent. He has spent six winters in California and is entering upon his seventh in Florida, and his good wife has accompanied him most of the time, being left behind only on one or two of the ocean voyages.

"Grandpa, shall I attend to your tickets for you?" asked John Wessel, jr., manager of the Fort Wayne municipal electric plant on Wednesday morning.

"Certainly not," was the rather testy reply. "I've been buying my own tickets for thirty years and I guess I can do it again."

The weight of eighty-nine years does not weigh heavily on Mr. Wessel, as he is able to arrange for all his tickets, sleeping car reservations and all of the details of travel. His wife is eleven years his junior.

The ocean trips on the Atlantic alone covered 51,901 miles on water. Then the travel in European countries is to be added to say nothing of one to South America and the journeys made in this country.

Mr. Wessel embarked in the grocery business at Lafayette and Wallace streets a great many years ago and retired with a goodly competence in 1880, and since that time he has spent, with his wife, a great part of his time in travel.

Both seemed very cheerful upon their departure from home and there was about them that air of confidence born of extensive travel.

PRESIDENT GREETS OHIO'S CORN BOYS

Washington, Dec. 2.—President Wilson today shook hands with 1,500 members of "corn boys' clubs," who were sent to Washington as a reward for winning agricultural contests in Ohio. The boys brought a cage full of white doves to the president in honor of his efforts in behalf of peace. Mr. Wilson addressed them briefly. "I am very glad to know of the really productive work which you are doing," said he. "It is a very fine thing to serve the country in so practical a fashion and I earnestly hope that you will have the greatest prosperity in everything you undertake."

BRYAN CALLS MR. SCHWAB IN

STEEL KING GIVEN GOVERNMENT VIEW

Is Told That There Must Be No Violation of American Neutrality.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Secretary Bryan today invited Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel company, to the state department and gave him the views of the American government on the building of submarines in this country for European belligerents.

Mr. Bryan declined to disclose what was the position of the American government. He declared the question was not yet concluded but "under consideration." Mr. Schwab, accompanied by two assistants, all refused to discuss their mission.

"Mr. Schwab came," said Mr. Bryan, "in response to our inquiry concerning the manufacture in this country of ships or materials for shipbuilding."

Reports in Circulation.

Recent reports that the Bethlehem Steel company had contracts to build submarines which would be shipped abroad in sections have been variously denied and partially confirmed. The visit of Mr. Schwab, however, revealed that the department had taken over cognizance of the subject, although Secretary Bryan announced yesterday that government officials after a thorough investigation had been unable to learn that any work was being done on foreign warships or part thereof.

It was believed, however, that the state department desired to consult with the steel company officials so there would be no violations of neutrality if contracts were taken. While the export of munitions of war such as guns, shells or ammunition is not prohibited by the neutrality laws, the fitting out of warships or armed expedition from American soil would be considered a violation.

Not Yet Ready for Peace.

Henry White, former ambassador to France and who recently returned from Germany, discussed the European situation today with President Wilson. "Europe is not yet ready for peace," said Mr. White. "There is not the slightest chance at present of getting a hearing for suggestions of peace. That time will come later and then it will be time for the United States to act."

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

SITUATION IN SERVIA IS CRITICAL.

London, ec. 2.—(1:55 p. m.)—In a dispatch from Sofia, Bulgaria, the correspondent of Reuters Telegraph company says reports received there indicate that the situation in Servia is critical. The Servian army, it is declared, has been withdrawn from Belgrade, and telegraphic communication between Belgrade and Nish, the present location of the capital, has been interrupted.

JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE IS VERDICT.

Atlanta, Ga., ec. 2.—A verdict of justifiable homicide was returned this afternoon by the coroner's jury after investigating the death of James B. Callaway, prominent broker and club man, who was shot and killed early today by W. B. Carhart, president of a local shoe manufacturing concern in the Carhart's apartments.

LAMAR WILL OFFER NO DEFENSE.

New York, ec. 2.—David Lamar, on trial in the criminal branch of the United States district court here, charged with impersonating Representative Mitchel A. Palmer, of Pennsylvania, with intent to defraud J. P. Morgan & Co., and the United States steel corporation, will allow his case to go to the jury without making any defense. His counsel so announced today after the government had rested its case and the usual motions to dismiss the indictments had been made and denied. Counsel declared Lamar was willing to allow the case to go to the jury on its own merits.

MACKENZEN ESCAPES THE FATE OF BAZAIN

Adroit German Commander Saves His Army Once Completely Encircled by Its Russian Foes.

London, Dec. 2.—(11:45 a. m.)—Russian Poland is still the center of interest in the war situation so far as military operations are concerned.

Reports from the rival headquarters indicate that any decisive results on either side is still in the balance, although on the face of the known facts the conviction is growing that the German general, Mackenzen, has done at Lodz what Bazaine in the Franco-Prussian war failed to do at Metz—he has saved his army after it was encircled by the enemy.

But it is equally clear that the German tactical plan for the taking of Warsaw again has failed, according to the prevailing opinion in England. Whether a counter invasion of Silesia has been rendered impossible for the present remains to be seen.

Little activity along the Austrian front is reported. An exception is the assertion from Vienna of an Austrian victory with the capture of quantities of prisoners and munitions of war along the southern line, but there is nothing to indicate that Russia has given way in her evident intention of invading the rich German provinces by way of Cracow. Later official reports from Vienna declared that calm prevailed on the Cracow front but that the fighting continued in the Carpathians.

Servian Eyes Hopeful.

Servian eyes are turned hopefully in the direction of those mountains in the expectation soon of seeing a Russian force under the walls of Budapest. This would relieve the pressure being exerted against Servia by half a million Austrian troops who have forced the Servians back into strong defensive positions within their own borders.

Army headquarters in Berlin reports a desperate three days' battle in Poland, accompanied by a successful effort on the part of Germans to break through the Russian ring. The German report admits heavy losses, but says there is the consolation of having inflicted severe punishment on the enemy.

Still Critical Points.

According to dispatches reaching here from Petrograd, Lowicz and Lodz still are critical points in the fighting in northern Poland where the final decision, when it does come, bids fair to be the most momentous of the whole war. Petrograd puts special emphasis on the capture of German ammunition barges on the Vistula river, near Plock, as indicating the cutting off of a convenient means of communication with the German armies in Poland.

In the political field today's meeting of the German reichstag is attracting much attention. Many members of the reichstag, a large number of them in uniform, already have gathered in Berlin in anticipation of this important session, which, it is expected, will provide a new war loan.

Quiet prevails along the western front, but alarming news has been received in the form of a report of a serious epidemic of typhoid fever in the Belgian army.

OFFERS HIMSELF AS CANCER SACRIFICE

Life Convict in New York Prison Makes Tender to Science.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 2.—In a letter to Thomas Mott Osborne, who became warden of Sing Sing prison yesterday, a life prisoner in the prison at Auburn, N. Y., offers himself as a sacrifice for inoculation with cancer germs to ascertain whether the disease is contagious. The new warden of Sing Sing prison, whose home is in Auburn and who was closely associated with reforms in Auburn prison, stated that he knows the prisoner well and vouched fully for his sincerity.

"He is a man of better than the average education, of refinement and had a family of great esteem," Warden Osborne explained last night. "He erred and was sent to Auburn for life. In prison he has read much on medical matters and has been intensely interested in cancer research. His hope also is that his sacrifice will benefit the many sufferers from cancer.

Warden Osborne said that he would take up the case with the new attorney general, Egbert W. Woodbury. It also became known that this man offered himself for the same purpose a year ago, but Attorney General Carmody ruled that the state of New York could not allow it.

Autos now carry mail between Salonica and interior towns.

HEAVY FOG HAMPERS NEW YORK BUSINESS

New York, Dec. 2.—A fleet of fifteen ocean liners at anchor in a heavy sea today at the entrance to New York harbor, fog bound in the thickest mist that has mantled this section of the western seacoast for fifteen years.

A half million commuters that come daily from New Jersey, Long Island and nearby New York state points were delayed from half an hour to an hour and a half. Trains crawled slowly past almost hidden semaphores. Ferryboats plying to New Jersey and Brooklyn crept through a cloak of mist so dense that one could not see a boat's length ahead. Hardly half the ferries were operated.

The local weather bureau said the fog extended over a wider area of country than was ever covered by a single fog before and placed its western boundary at the Mississippi river. Officials pronounced it the heaviest fog of the 20th century.

NO CATTLE AT PITTSBURG.

Market Unable to Operate Despite Lifting of Quarantine.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 2.—Although the foot and mouth disease quarantine against the Herr's Island stock yards was lifted last week and the yards declared open for the receipts of cattle from free territory, there is no cattle market here. Receipts have been too light to permit of quotations, there being no cattle whatever in the yards today. Brokers said they expected little improvement until the quarantine against Indiana and Ohio is lifted.

BELATED WAR TAX RETURNS COME IN

Total of $300 Collected Tuesday as Delinquency Penalty.

Three hundred dollars were collected at the Fort Wayne office of the internal revenue collector Tuesday from persons who were penalized for not paying their war tax in the time specified by law.

Deputies Thomas McLaughlin and E. B. Thumma are up against another proposition and one which will have to be settled by authorities higher up. Hundreds of money orders were received at the local office Tuesday, which, however, were sent out on Monday. To follow the strict letter of the law these persons are all delinquents and are subject to the additional charge, even though they sent their money orders Monday. Authorities on the subject declare that inasmuch as there was no intent to violate the law these persons cannot be penalized.

No stamps were received at the local office Wednesday and there is no telling when there will be. Deputy Thumma has received the following instructions from District Collector Kruyer, which will help the local situation wonderfully: "If unable to supply demand for documentary stamps for bills of lading, permit shipments to go forward; have record kept thereof, and affix or cancel stamps when received; notify railroads."

Few Pointers.

Documentary revenue stamps issued prior to October 22, 1914, under former revenue laws, cannot be used for the payment of taxes required by existing law, and the redemption or exchange of such old stamps is prohibited by statute. Ordinary postage stamps cannot be used for the payment of any internal revenue taxes.

As adhesive stamps may be sold by any person and readily pass at their face value in the market, provision has not been made for their exchange or redemption by the government. Where, however, such stamps are rendered useless by gumming or sticking together in transit or otherwise without the fault of the purchaser, they may be exchanged by a collector for other stamps of exactly the same quality and denomination.

Documentary and proprietary stamps cannot be used interchangeably. Documentary stamps only must be used upon papers, documents and instruments subject to tax.

Where a stamp of the proper denomination to pay the tax due on an article or document cannot be procured, two or more stamps may be used. In such case as few stamps as possible should be attached and each stamp used should be canceled in the manner provided by regulation.

DRIVEN FROM HOMES BY WIND AND RAIN

Houston, Tex., Dec. 2.—One person was killed and several injured and dozens driven from their homes by a terrific wind and rain storm here early today. Six inches of rain fell. Street car and train service was demoralized. A number of bridges were washed away and houses in low-lying sections were flooded.

E. E. Dasbit, an employe of a gas company, was killed by lightning which damaged a number of buildings. Information here is that the downpour was general over the coast section of Texas.

Elementary Contests Biggest Event of Kind Ever in New York.

New York, Dec. 2.—The indoor championship games of the city elementary schools to be held by the public school athletic league at Madison Square Garden Saturday afternoon, Dec. 19, will be the biggest athletic event of its kind ever held in New York.

There will be about 3,000 entries and 10,000 invited guests, including school children, school officials, athletic leaders and city officials. The games will commence with an Olympic parade, to be reviewed by Mayor Mitchel and General George W. Wingate, president of the league. To those finishing first, second and third respectively, in each event, gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded and an all around championship trophy will be awarded in each borough to the school scoring the greatest number of points for that borough. An all around championship trophy for the city will be awarded to the school scoring the largest number of points in the meet.

BUSINESS IS BETTER.

Letter on Trade Conditions Sent Out by Old National Bank.

Business conditions have greatly improved according to the monthly letter sent out by the Old National bank. The letter says that within a fortnight enough mills have resumed or increased their working forces to re-employ 25 per cent. of the idle and it is estimated that not more than 25 per cent. of the labor usually employed in the heavy manufacturing lines is idle at this time. While commercially the great change in sentiment has not been greatly felt the change has been distinctly felt in financial circles. The letter says that one by one the trade barriers are being removed and things are righting themselves rapidly.

STRAUS ISSUES A DENIAL.

Did Not Quit Japan Society on Account of German Sympathy.

New York, Dec. 2.—Oscar S. Straus, a member of The Hague tribunal and former secretary of commerce and labor in the cabinet of President Roosevelt, today denied the report that he had just resigned from the Japan society because he sympathized with Germany with whom Japan is at war.

"This statement is utterly false," said Mr. Straus. "I resigned from the Japan society a month ago as I did from a number of organizations. I did so because I wanted to cut off all unnecessary expense, and devote the money thus saved to the relief of those who suffered as the result of the war."

ALLAYS ALL FEAR OF PROSECUTIONS

Revenue Department Taking War Stamp Shortage Into Account.

Washington, Dec. 2.—International revenue collectors throughout the country had notice today from the internal revenue bureau here that the government does not intend to prosecute any one subject to the war revenue law who shows a willingness and readiness to buy the new tax stamps.

The notice was sent to allay fears on the part of thousands of persons all over the country who yesterday besieged the internal revenue offices in attempts to obtain revenue stamps to comply with the law and who because of their inability to do so became frightened over what might happen in the event they were not on the minute with their stamps.

There was no need for such fears and this was made clear in a telegram which Commissioner Osborn, of the internal revenue bureau sent to all collectors. The telegram was in response to frantic calls from collectors who told of crowds rushing their offices demanding stamps and it was hoped by officials today that the notice would relieve a situation which gave indications of causing embarrassment to thousands of persons and which also might have resulted in considerable confusion to railroads and shippers.

The telegram is as follows: "Date all special tax returns November 30th until you are able to handle applications promptly, unless you have information that no effort was made to file same prior to that date. If unable to supply demands for documentary stamps for bills of lading, permit shipment to go forward, have record kept and affix or cancel stamp when received. Notify railroads."

Officials of the internal revenue bureau here explain that while everything possible had been done to get ready to enforce the law they have been hampered in their work because of the failure of congress to appropriate additional money for that purpose.

MINISTER VAN DYKE TALKS WITH WILSON

Brings First Hand News of War Conditions in Europe.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Conditions in Europe, as viewed by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, American minister to the Netherlands, were up for discussion at a conference at the white house today between President Wilson and the minister. Dr. Van Dyke had been invited to be the luncheon guest of the president.

Fresh from observation of conditions generally in Europe, Dr. Van Dyke was ready to give President Wilson first-hand information. The minister already had discussed the subject with Secretary Bryan. While denying the report that he was the bearer of a personal letter from Queen Wilhelmina relative to peace, Dr. Van Dyke told the secretary that the queen and the people of Holland earnestly desire an early return to peace among the warring European nations. That the present does not appear to be a propitious moment to advance definite proposals for terms of peace, however, was made clear by the minister following his conference with Mr. Bryan. "The desire of the United States for peace," he declared, "is a well known fact. The decision as to the proper moment for us to act is in the hands of my chiefs. The president and the secretary of state can be trusted to determine when that moment arrives."

COMPROMISE IN PROSPECT.

New Effort to Settle Prolonged Ohio Coal Strike.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 2.—Efforts to settle the strike of 15,000 eastern Ohio coal miners which was begun eight months ago were to be made here today at a conference between representatives of the miners and operators. The miners' representatives are said to be prepared to demand 47 cents a ton on the "run of mine" basis while the operators are expected to offer 44 cents a ton. Prospects of a compromise, however, are said to be bright.

CARD OF THANKS.

I sincerely thank all those who have shown attention and sympathy during the illness and death of my son Clarence. I especialy thank the relatives and friends for their beautiful floral offerings. Sincerely,

MRS. WM. COONRAD.

"It's Getting Dark Earlier"

Earlier to some than others. If you find you are the one who calls for light first, it's a pretty sure sign your eyesight is failing—that it is getting dark earlier in life than it should.

Have us examine your eyes and fit you with needed glasses. Glasses now will very likely lengthen the days for you—stop that squinting that means wrinkles—stop headaches; end that nervousness due to eye strain.

MAD BULL SLAYS HORSE IN FIELD

Kills Animal Almost Instantly and Then Attacks James Listenfelt, the Owner.

Hartford City, Ind., Dec. 2.—James Listenfelt, aged about 40, foreman of the Lupton farm, east of the city, had a narrow escape from serious injuries yesterday afternoon, when a large bull, suddenly developing a fit of frenzy, attacked a valuable mare.

The furious charge of the heavy bull caused the horse almost instantaneous death. Eleven other bulls in the same field were kept under control by keeping them from the scene.

Listenfelt had just brought a load of fodder into the field. Seeing the bull was about to charge one of the horses he was driving, the foreman seized a standard from the wagon and faced the onslaught of the infuriated animal. Listenfelt struck the animal, but was himself knocked down, alighting under the horses. Grabbing the tongue of the wagon, he worked his way out between the two horses.

Meanwhile the bull had killed the horse. Frank Widdup, another employe of the Lupton farm, hearing the disturbance, came to Listenfelt's assistance with a pitchfork and drove the animal away. The beast was killed Tuesday afternoon at one of the slaughter houses.

The animal had heretofore been very gentle and it was because of this that the attack came so unexpectedly. Listenfelt's escape from serious injuries seems very remarkable, for, when he was thrown under the horses, he was in grave danger of being stepped on. The man's side and one arm were slightly injured.

COUNTY OFFICIAL INDICTED.

Grand Jury at Van Wert Returns Bill Against Surveyor Simon.

Van Wert, O., Dec. 2.—As the culmination of the many charges and countercharges which have been flying about the county for the past year or more, as to the conduct of affairs in the office of County Surveyor Carl Simon, the grand jury, after an investigation lasting three days, yesterday afternoon returned an indictment against that gentleman, charging him with having falsely and fraudulently issued a voucher for a warrant upon the county treasury, an offense against the laws of the state, punishable by imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary for from one to ten years.

As soon as the indictment had been returned against Mr. Simon and the warrant for his arrest issued, Deputy Sheriff Wilson served the document. Mr. Simon, however, had evidently felt that he was about to be charged with a serious offense and had already engaged Mr. H. L. Conn as his attorney, and secured a bondsman, Mr. B. B. Leeson, furnishing bond in the sum of $500 for Mr. Simon's appearance in court from day to day.

SUIT IS COMPROMISED.

Columbia City, Ind., Dec. 2.—The case of Andrew Jackson Lippincott, of Washington township, against Martin Luecke, a wealthy and prominent farmer of the same township, in which a demand for damages in the sum of $5,000 was made, and which was docketed for trial today, has been closed up. Luecke agreed to pay Lippincott the sum of $500 and defray the costs in the case. The case grew out of an escapade at a wet and dry election held in Washington township a year ago last March. Lippincott was serving as a sheriff for the drys, and as Luecke went into the booth to vote he pushed Lippincott off a chair on which he was sitting, and in coming out repeated the performance. Lippincott was injured in the fall and brought suit against his assailant for damages.

VICTIM OF ACID THROWERS.

Wabash, Ind., Dec. 2.—Floyd Circle, aged 19, residing at the corner of Washington and Walnut streets, in this city, was the victim of a carbolic acid throwing plot shortly before 6 o'clock when he was unexpectedly accosted by two men while walking east on Walnut street, and the liquid thrown upon his face and clothes. Circle was walking to his home at the time, and according to a statement made by him today, believes he was taken for some one else, as he has no enemies who would attempt such an act. His raincoat was rained and one side of his face blistered by the acid.

KILLED ON THE TRACK.

Kendallville, Ind., Dec. 2.—Frank Burby, aged 58 years, who for the last three months had been making his home with Elmer Apple, farmer residing near Allen Chapel, was struck and killed by a Grand Rapids and Indiana train south of the city near the Wabash street crossing. The body was thrown to the [illegible] is a matter of conjecture. Nothing is known concerning the man, who came here a stranger.

CLOSE NORTH WEBSTER SCHOOLS.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 2.—The schools of North Webster were closed today on order of County Health Officer Dr. C. W. Burket, several cases of diphtheria having been discovered in that locality. The homes of Paul Popenfoose and Harley Miller are under quarantine and the exposure may result in a number of more cases being put under quarantine. None of the cases is at present in a dangerous stage, but the health officers thought it better to close the schools for a short time until all danger of an epidemic is passed.

AT 85 HE ASKS DIVORCE.

Wabash, Ind., Dec. 2.—After only ten months of married life, George W. Porter, eighty-five, has filed suit for divorce against Alice Porter. They lived together only sixty days, when the plaintiff declares he found he could no longer endure the yoke of matrimony and they separated.

TO HAVE A NEW PASTOR.

Athens, Ind., Dec. 2.—The Athens [illegible] and evening and also on Monday evening. The new pastor has been engaged in evangelistic work for some time and for eight years has been on the lecture platform. For the past several months Mr. Harrington has been taking a special course in theological work at Butler college. The new pastor will commence his work at once.

ROBBERY STORY WAS PURE FAKE.

Hartford City, Ind., Dec. 2.—Jacob Webb, twenty-two, of Franklin, Ind., weakened when given a grilling in the sheriff's office here and made a full confession that the story he told of having been held up by two men under the Pennsylvania railroad viaduct and at the point of a revolver robbed of $22 was false. Webb admitted that he had concocted and told the story to gain sympathy. "I've got a wife and baby in Franklin and have no money. I hoped to get funds by my story," said Webb. He caused much excitement and had the whole police force working on the scene of the supposed robbery.

SCHOOL HEADS TO MEET.

Goshen, Ind., Dec. 2.—About fifteen superintendents of schools of various northern Indiana towns and cities are [illegible] diana Superintendents' association. Superintendent Mendenhall, of Goshen, is largely instrumental in the effort to form this organization, he having invited school authorities to Goshen for that purpose.

QUARANTINE IS LIFTED.

Kendallville, Ind., Dec. 2.—The diphtheria quarantine was lifted in the city at noon yesterday in so far as adults are concerned. It was raised on children today, except in those families where the disease still prevails. Churches, theaters, lodges, clubs, societies, poolrooms and other such places are again open to the public after being closed for eight days. Only adults shall be admitted for the present, however.

DECATUR PAIR RUN OFF TO WED.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 2.—Dorus Statler, twenty-one, and Miss Catherine Roop, eighteen, both of Decatur, Ind., came here and procured a marriage license and were united in wedlock in the office of the county clerk. Rev. Isaiah Wilson performed the ceremony. The bridegroom is a prosperous Hoosier farmer.

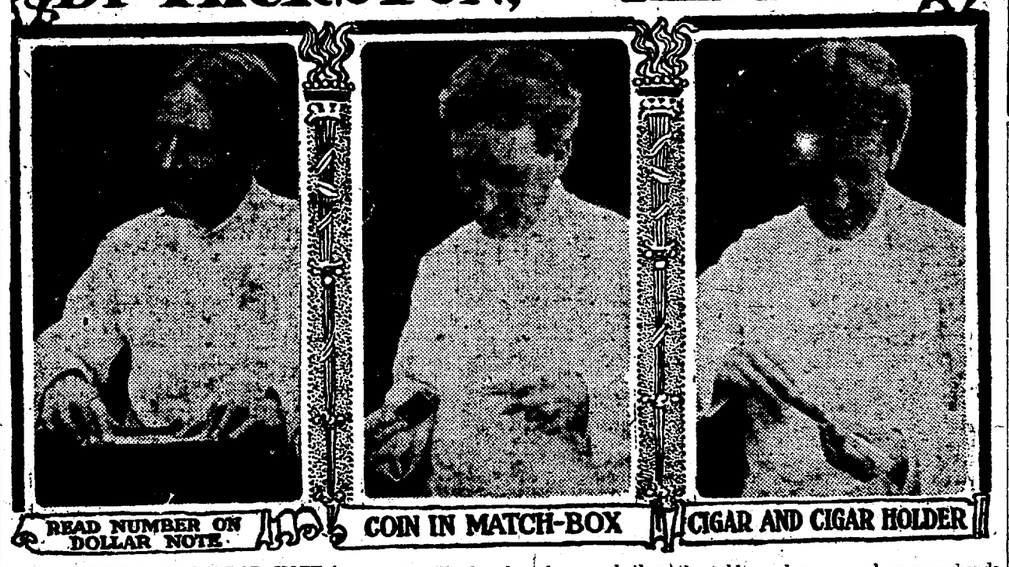
COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Thickness and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur receipt at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is highly recommended for its purity and freedom from sticky or greasy ingredients.

PARLOR MAGIC EXPLAINED BY THURSTON, THE MAGICIAN



READ NUMBER ON DOLLAR NOTE.

Ask anyone to take a dollar note and observe whether the number on the face of the bill is odd or even, and then lay it face up on the table, covering each of the numbers which appear on the right and left of the bill, with the right and left thumbs. The performer now touches the person's forehead, and instantly tells whether the number is odd or even.

The secret: Every dollar is plainly marked in the upper left and lower right-hand corners with one of the four letters, A, B, C, D. If A or C, the number on note ends with an odd figure; while if B or D, it is an even figure.

While the thumbs are covering the numbers you can plainly see the letter, and will therefore know whether the number is odd or even.

COIN IN MATCH BOX.

A small safety match box is shown to be empty, then closed, and, upon opening, a quarter is found therein.

The outside, or cover, of the match-box is held by its top between the first finger and thumb. The quarter is concealed on the underside of the top and held by the first finger.

Then insert the sliding, or inside portion of the match box in its proper place, when the quarter will become wedged between the sliding portion and the top.

Now place the whole of the box upon the table, and you can show your hands to be unmistakeably empty. Pick up the box, close it quickly, and, when opened, the quarter is seen therein.

CIGAR AND CIGAR HOLDER.

How to place a cigar in a paper cigar holder, and upon tearing the cigar holder in half, the cigar is found to have vanished. Hold the paper holder near its opening, between the first finger and thumb. Under the pretense of sliding the cigar into the holder with the right hand, it is simply pushed back of the right hand, where it is held and secreted. The holder is then torn in half, cigar has vanished and can be produced from the nose.

Revelation 1:9-20.

9 I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,

11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches, which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks;

13 And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire;

15 And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seven stars; and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last;

18 I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter;

20 The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

Happy Ever Afterward

The record of a recent romance is chronologued thusly:

Went to the play at 8:15 p. m.; saw her at 8:20; gazed soulfully till the curtain fell at 11 p. m.; dreamed of her all night. Next day, found a friend who knew her; was introduced; took her to dinner; met again after the play; proposed; married next morning.

Why that giggle? He had the price. Besides, how do you know they won't be happy? Or, putting the question the other way round, how do you know that, had he courted her in the conventional, slow-as-molasses way, there's have been any greater certainty of happiness ever afterward?

Marriage, anyhow, is a series of adjustments. Unless it develops a spirit of give and take, of mutual sacrifice and forbearance, it's bound to end in a smash-up, no matter how long the courtship.

There was happiness in marriage even in cave days, when wooing was done with a club.

It's not the "before," but the "after" that counts.

President Wilson's opposition to Representative Gardner's proposed congressiinal investigation into the preparedness of the United States for war at this time will be generally commended by those who realize the possible danger of a threshing over of the subject at this juncture of affairs. Indeed, Mr. Gardner's launching of the movement in a speech in which he manifested hostility toward Germany supplies a definite example of just what the American people should desire to prevent. It is well to take careful note of the military lessons taught by the present war, but this is assuredly not the time to invite discussion that might embarass the United States in its announced purpose of absolute neutrality.

Speakers at the Indiana state tax conference are calling attention to one patent fact that most of us seem to have overlooked, to-wit, that the advance in taxes over which so much complaint is made is largely due to the public demand for larger governmental undertakings. We have been insisting that federal, state, county and city governments broaden their work, undertake more things for public benefit and contribute more largely to public comfort and public sightliness. All of them cost money. Taxes might be lowered if we were content to require less, but we do not believe public sentiment today would countenance a backward step in its governmental affairs any more than it is willing to revert to older methods in its way of living.

The two county jail prisoners who took leg bail and made their escape in safety while engaged in public work along the river banks at least made it clear that the grave state of health which made it impossible for them to work on the first day the new plan of working prisoners was tried did not involve their sprinting equipment. Their action, however, in indulging in flight in this summary fashion has probably placed them in contempt of that famous kangaroo court maintained by their erstwhile companions in the lockup.

Bloomingdale citizens have launched another movement to secure improved street railway service, and a study of the extensive area in that section of the city that is now remote from the street cars will make it quickly evident that they should have it. The project has been broached a number of times previously in one form or another without the attainment of the improvement, but the north side understands that the way to get anything it wants is to keep hammering away long enough. More power to 'em.

The request of the authorities of the Indiana school for feeble-minded youth for but $24,000 with which to tide it over in the matter of improvements for the coming two years is so modest that the legislature will scarcely have the heart to question it for a moment. It is a

THE FARMER AND THE WAR.

(Indianapolis News.)

A report lately issued by the government bureau of statistics shows that the northern farmer is getting his full share of increased export business, which this country is at present carrying on. Wheat exports for October, for instance, exceeded the total for October, 1913, by about twelve million bushels, but the September shipments this year were larger than the October by about seven million bushels. This is due in part to reduced facilities for shipping—a condition which will probably not prevail long. In contrast to the increased volume of exported wheat, the cotton exportations fell off more than a million bales from last year's total for October, but the planter is being relieved by the cotton pool from which he will be able to borrow money on his unmarketed crop.

Reports from Europe that cotton seed oil is being utilized extensively for food are confirmed by the increased demand for export purposes. In October, 1913, 12,000,000 pounds were exported, while during the corresponding month this year the total was about 16,500,000 pounds. This demand serves to alleviate the troubles of the southern planter. Corn shipments were also very much larger than in October, 1914, the figures being 343,899 bushels last year, as against 1,034,614 bushels this year, which is by no means a record for the month, but which is good, considering the unprecedented demand for wheat, and the fact that the corn crop is, as yet, not moving freely. Wheat exportations, on the other hand, far exceed those of the corresponding month in many years.

A rough idea of the demand which the war has created for commodities which the belligerent nations have heretofore supplied themselves may be got from the fact that in October, 1913, this country sent abroad breadstuffs to the value of $13,324,894, while this year the October shipments amounted to $38,247,570. Thus the government figures bear out the prediction that before long the armies of some of the warring nations would be going into battle on food from mid-western farms. And as the war proceeds this dependence on the United States will probably become more evident, and extend eventually in many unforeseen directions, and the farmer will very likely find himself the beneficiary in every case.

PRESS COMMENT ON LEO FRANK'S CASE.

"Dubious Evidence."

Philadelphia Press:—"Leo Frank, of Atlanta, Ga., was convicted of murder on extremely dubious evidence. He was tried amid most hostile surroundings."

"The Jury."

Baltimore Sun:—"Sometimes the public is almost justified in feeling that the twelve men in the jury box deserve hanging even more richly than the accused."

"No Trial at All."

Boston Transcript:—"A trial that is conducted in the face of mob menace is no trial at all, and whatever the guilt or innocence of the prisoner he was entitled to all the protection that the law provides for those who are charged with the law's violation."

"Larger Question."

"South Has Suffered."

New York Mail:—"The South has suffered enough from the charge, often ill founded, sometimes well established, that it denies fair trial to negroes. Can it afford to rest under the imputation that the same is true with regard to its attitude to the Jews?"

"Governor Slaton."

New York Post:—"It is to be hoped that Governor Slaton will subject the case to a searching examination, and will allow nothing to interfere with his taking such action as may then recommend itself to his conscience."

"Second Trials."

New York Globe:—"It is amazing, in a land where many second trials are granted on slender grounds, that the courts of Georgia have stubbornly refused a second trial in a case where all the circumstances seemed to require it."

TWELVE CLEAR DAYS.

Weather Forecaster Makes Report for the Month of November.

There were only twelve clear days during the month of November, according to the monthly summary of Weather Observer W. S. Palmer. The rainfall amounted to a total of .75 inches, which is the lightest ever recorded in Fort Wayne with the exception of 1904, when .19 was the lightest. The total rainfall in November of last year was 2.44. The mean temperature in November was 41.4 and the highest temperature 70 on the seventh. There were six partly cloudy days and twelve cloudy days. The total snowfall was four-hundredths of an inch.

BETTER SERVICE WANTED.

Residents of Bloomingdale Are Circulating Petitions.

Petitions are being circulated by residents residing in Bloomingdale asking for better street car service for that part of the city. The petitions ask that a car line be established on Second street to form a loop either with the Huffman car line or the West Main street line. Ten petitions are being circulated and there is no trouble in getting plenty of signers.

John and Perry C. Archer, brothers, and their uncle, Andrew Archer, have purchased the City Trucking company from E. H. McDonald. The business will be conducted from the same barn on North Clinton street.

DOCTORS REFUSE TO TREAT PATIENTS

Many Sick People Beyond Relief Are Refused Treatment by Great Specialists.

No Incurable Cases Are Accepted, Only Cases Which They Can Benefit.

Yesterday was another busy day for the Inter-State Doctors, who now have their Fort Wayne institute permanently established on the second floor at 205 West Berry street.

All day long the waiting rooms were crowded with patients eagerly waiting their turn for consultation with these great specialists. A number of cases were accepted for treatment, but many were refused treatment, as it is the invariable rule of the Inter-State Doctors not to accept any case for treatment unless they are sure it can be benefited. These specialists want the reputation of relieving every case they treat, so they are careful in selecting their patients.

John L. Burroughs, of Kendallville, was among those in the waiting rooms. Mr. Burroughs said: "I brought my wife to these specialists because I have heard so much of their work in other cities. My brother lives near Girard, O., and he was cured by the Inter-State Doctors in their Youngstown institute, after four good doctors had given him up to die of Bright's disease."

All who call on the Inter-State Doctors before December 15 are treated free, be they rich or poor. This free offer, except as to charge for medicine is made to secure a large number of patients quickly to show the public what this wonderful treatment will do for sick people, even after all others have failed.

The diseases treated by the Inter-State Doctors are diseases of the nerves, blood, skin, stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels, including rheumatism and gall stones, weak nerves, heartburn, epilepsy, catarrh, goitre, appendicitis, asthma, eczema, scrofula, diseases of men and diseases of women.—Adv.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

The ladies of the Christian church are serving dinners in the Schmitz block.

Col. R. S. Robertson will leave for Salt Lake City Thursday on duty connected with his position as one of the Utah commission.

Contractor James Madden and a party of twenty men from this city this morning commenced the plumbing job in the new insane hospital at Richmond.

Operations have been suspended at the Barber asphalt plant in the southwest part of the city for the season. The plant will be maintained permanently in this city.

John E. Dalton, formerly of the Electric works offices, sends to friends here copies of Lynn, Mass., newspapers containing accounts of the big fire in that city, where he is now employed.

Thomas Davidson, charged with the murder of Thomas Davidson, his aged uncle, near Arcola, was arraigned before Justice France yesterday afternoon and the hearing was set for the 12th inst.

Consumers of natural gas in this city have taken some apprehension from reports that the supply of natural gas is failing at Richmond in this state. The supply of manufactories in that city will be shut off.

Saturday afternoon a team belonging to Joe Mason, a farmer residing on the Bluffton road, broke their halters and ran away charging into a barb wire fence and mutilating themselves so badly it is believed they will have to be killed.

The annual election of E. S. Walker camp, Sons of Veterans, was held last night and the following chosen: E. H. Bookwalter, captain; A. E. Dougherty, first lieutenant; W. F. Geller, E. C. Close and Theodore Hardendorf, camp council; W. F. Geller, representative to the grand encampment, and William P. Bidwell, alternate.

At the congregational meeting of the Zion Lutheran church yesterday afternoon it was decided to build a church edifice on the site of the old one at the southeast corner of Creighton avenue and Hanna street. The new structure is to be a handsome one and will cost above $30,000. Work on it will be commenced in the early spring.

PARK BOARD CALLS MEETING THURSDAY

Asks Residents of Southwest Park District to Confer.

Messrs. David N. Foster, Louis Fox, Louis Dorn and Abe Ackerman, members of the board of city park commissioners, today issued the following call for a meeting to the residents of the Southwest park district:

"For a couple of years our board has been urged to proceed to the improvement of Foster park without further delay, said improvements to consist of a graded and improved roadway, next to private property, the whole length of the park; the laying out of additional walks; planting of additional trees; the erection of a low dam, furnishing a boating course some four miles in length; the putting up of boat sheds and dock; a combined refectory and shelter house, with public comfort facilities included; the laying out and building of a battery of six to eight tennis courts; the preparation of a river bathing pool, with dressing rooms upon the bank; an athletic field running course, with baseball diamonds in center and football ground; a shelter house, including public comfort facilities, located between the tennis courts and athletic field; additional seats and play apparatus and such other minor improvements as will become necessary.

"All of this work can be done by an average assessment of $5 to $6 upon each piece of property in the southwest park district, the nearby properties paying more than those at a distance. The demands for maintenance and minor improvements upon our various parks absorb nearly all of the regular revenues of our board so that many years must pass before any considerable part of this necessary work can be done in any other way.

"At the request of many citizens in this southwest district our board hereby calls a meeting of the interested property holders, at the assembly room of the South Wayne school house, corner Indiana and Cottage avenues, for Thursday evening, December 3, at 8 p. m., to confer with our board upon this proposition. If you will come together and instruct us that it is your desire that the work shall go forward we shall be glad to comply with your wishes."

SOCIETY

Mrs. George W. Beers and her daughter, Mrs. William McKay, entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Beers a number of friends in a most informal manner. The ladies took their sewing or crocheting or whatever bit of work they are making for Christmas, but there was more conversation than sewing. The serving of some delectable refreshments made a fitting climax for the sociability of the gathering.

* * *

The first of two afternoon companies Mrs. John A. Shoaff is giving this week was enjoyed by about twenty ladies this afternoon at her home in Spy Run avenue. A game of bridge was followed by the serving of a luncheon of most tempting things to eat and drink. The guests spent a delightful time. Mrs. John Hoagland, of Chicago, was an out of town visitor who was present.

* * *

Mrs. Ben Rothschild gave the second of two very attractive bridge parties of the week this afternoon at her home in West Berry street.

* * *

Mrs. C. A. Dunkelberg has introduced an innovation in the afternoon bridge game which, while not new everywhere, is not common in Fort Wayne. The change is to play two games of auction, then have tea at 4 o'clock and two games of cards afterwards. With the tea Mrs. Dunkelberg follows the English custom of serving pound cake and bread and butter. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Dunkelberg gave the fifth of a series of card affairs and nearly thirty ladies were delighted with their entertainment.

* * *

Mrs. M. S. Mahurin went to Indianapolis today for a visit with relatives.

Miss Maude Geake has returned to Elgin, Ill., after a few days' visit with her sisters here.

Mrs. John Gilbert's guest, Mrs. Corey Bryan, has returned to her home in Marshall, Ill., after a few days' visit here.

Mrs. Mary L. King, of Muskegon, Mich., who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. D. Fox, of West Wayne street, has returned home.

Mrs. S. T. Remmel, who has been spending the week with her son, Arthur K. Remmel, and wife, returned to her home in Winchester Tuesday afternoon.

A former Fort Wayne resident, Miss Clara Lukens, of Brewster, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Arthur Edgerton, of Indianapolis, for the winter months.

The South Side Tennis club will be entertained tomorrow evening at dinner and cards at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dunkelberg. Mrs. W. H. Crighton is to be the assisting hostess.

Miss White, of Providence, R. I., who has been here visiting Mrs. Don Mungen and who was the honor guest at a number of small parties, left Tuesday for her home.

Mrs. John Hoagland, of Chicago, who is the guest of Mrs. Sturgis and Miss Rudisill, of Spy Run avenue, met a few of her girlhood friends in a most informal manner yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Hoagland will return home tomorrow.

Ruth Pape, of 815 High street, was six years old yesterday and her mother, Mrs. Theodore Pape, arranged to have a few of Ruth's small friends enjoy a birthday party. The guests and the little hostess had a happy time. The children were Dorothy Katt, Dorothy Stahlhut, Eleanor Busching, Helen Buuck, Erma Franke, Helen Mueller and Gertrude Pape.

A luncheon at the English tearoom on Saturday noon will be given in honor of Miss Charity Dye, of Indianapolis, who is to be here to talk before the Woman's League on "Dramatic Possibilities of Historic Indiana." The program for the meeting is in charge of Miss Flora Wilber, principal of the Normal school, who is much interested in an historic pageant of Fort Wayne and who supervised a charming outdoor entertainment along that line given by pupils of the Lakeside school early in October.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Thurston, the Magician, at the Majestic Starting Thursday.

Magic on the stage nowadays is no such simple thing as it was in the early days. Audiences can no longer be satisfied with card tricks, disappearing glass balls, restless handkerchiefs and hats full of paper flowers. Nowadays up-to-date magicians have a much more strenuous task.

Thurston, who is the attraction at the Majestic three nights and Saturday matinee, starting Thursday, Dec. 3, doesn't limit himself to juggling ducks and eggs. He juggles men, women, lions and pretty girls. He deftly passes the latter into trunks and baskets, causes them to reappear high above the audience—palms them, in fact as successfully as the amateur palms his glass balls or his china eggs.

Chief among Thurston's new sensations for this season are "The New Woman," "The Evolution of the Negro," "Noah's Vision," "Aerial Fishing," "Balaam and His Donkey," and "Animated Sketches."

AT THE TEMPLE.

With everything even bordering on the suggestive rigorously barred and with the censorship carried even further than it might be absolutely necessary to do, the Temple's management daily is making good its original claims that the Barton wheel of burlesque relies on clean comedy, rapid-fire action, tuneful melodies and graceful pretty girls for its success rather than the basis of lewdness that formerly held sway in the burlesque world. "The Frolliques of 1914" fairly sizzle with the speed with which the comedy lines tumble over one another to find a way across the footlights to the big appreciative audiences that have been rocking the theater with their gales of applause ever since the show opened its current week.

"Uncle Sam's Girls" is the next Barton booking for the Temple. This combination originally was headed for Cincinnati for next week, but when Mr. Barton saw how kindly Fort Wayne was taking to the Frolliques he arranged to

THE GIRL WITH THE "PEARLY SMILE."

The "golden smile" has faded away.

The gold tooth has been pulled—yanked out by art and fashion.

And the yawning cavity has been filled with "pearl," that is with "pearly porcelain" and when Gladys or Irene, Polly or Pansy smile now their coral lips no longer frame a splash of gold, not even the tiniest gilded filling dazzles the eye for the gold tooth is passe. It has passed on with the tube skirt, false hair and willow plumes.

It was the highbrow art critics of New York who pulled the golden tooth, banished the "golden smile." Esthetic taste revolted against the vulgarity of the "headlight" beaming from pearly banks of eye-teeth, wisdom teeth or plain molars. Art yearned for pearly smiles—and it got it.

Fashion took a tip from art. It frowned darkly on the "golden smile," it began a wholesale white washing of golden teeth. Incidentally it gave out these "dont's" to girls who would cultivate the new "pearly smile":

Don't put your hairpins in your teeth.
Don't bite threads.
Don't bite your fingernails.
Don't bite anything except your food.
Don't forget the "don't" and the "pearly smile" will be yours.

AT THE EMPRESS.

It is surely a dandy bill that is now on view at the Empress theater. The bill is one of those pleasing kind that has plenty of novelty, bright songs, plenty of action and mighty clever people. It's small wonder that Fort Wayne theater-goers are coming back to the theater to see the bill a second time.

Those clever comedians and excellent singers, Morris and Allen, headline the bill. Their act is one of distinct class. Murry Livingston, the noted charcter actor, appears on this bill in an offering which bears the title of "The Man from Italy." The Phillippi Four are playing some splendid music at the Empress. Smith and Farmer have an act that is a dandy. Miss Smith has a superb voice. Wolgas and Girlie combine beauty and strength in an attractive manner.

THE ORPHEUM.

"THE NEWLYWEDS" ARE HERE.

Photo-Play Taken in Fort Wayne Opens Two Day Engagement at Orpheum.

The long looked and wished for "Newly-Weds in Fort Wayne" moving pictures are here at last, booked for a two days' engagement at the Orpheum. It is safe to say that there are but few people in the city who have not heard about this adventurous couple, and how a few months back they posed for a real moving picture (real plot and all) using well known stores and well known localities in and about Fort Wayne as a background.

The story is very romantic and tells of a young man who comes to Fort Wayne and takes a trip out to Robison park. The young man has no acquaintances in the city, and hence, is very lonesome. Now, owing to some peculiar circumstances, there is a young lady wandering about the park beset by the very same emotion, and when Manager Williams notices these two very agreeable people looking very bored and disinterested at their surroundings, he forthwith acts in his capacity as host in general and introduces the two. Of course, after that everything is lovely. As they grow better acquainted the young man prolongs his stay in the city and takes the young lady for numerous trips about the town.

Special music has been arranged for the pictures by the Orpheum orchestra, while Miss Lyons will sing Irving Berlin's tremendously popular success, "I Want to Go Back to Michigan."

AT THE JEFFERSON.

WILLIAM FARNUM IN "THE SPOILERS."

Heralded and acknowledged as the greatest photo-play ever produced in America, "The Spoilers," Selig's titanic photograph adapted from Rex Beach's well known novel of that title, comes to the Jeffreson today, starting a two day's engagement.

When men are big enough, and brave enough to go into unknown country such as Alaska was in 1898 and find their sacrifices to secure a foothold among its primal treasures about to be snatched from them by a perversion of the law in corrupt hands, they fight, and fight hard and wickedly. That is the story of "The Spoilers." But Rex Beach could never have reached so straight and true to the sympathies through print or even stage drama as the moving picture of his novel reaches. It is the fullness of relation in swift presentation, a suspense beyond description, maintained and with climatic scenes and acts numerous and thrilling. It takes nine reels to tell the story, as W. N. Selig has produced it and there are no dull moments for the observer. These are reels of swift developing drama. The characters are drawn from the every day life of Americans placed in circumstances which call forth the best and worst in human nature. The photography is excellent and the staging unsurpassed so far in the moving picture world. It is a great human story told of people with rich red blood in their veins, facing supreme difficulties and fighting with sublime or demoniac fierceness as well as patience to maintain their position in the world old struggle for power.

Ethel Barrymore in "The Nightingale," at the Lyric, tonight.

The members of the Mizpah Shrine patrol will be the guests of Thurston, the magician, at the performance at the Majestic theater Thursday evening. Mr. Thurston, who is a Shriner, was present at the national meeting at Los Angeles, three years ago, when the local patrol won first prize in the drills. Here he became well acquainted with several members of the patrol. He instructed his advance man to call on E. H. Kilbourne, the captain, and invite the body to attend the performance.

Those on the program were Dan M. Link, state tax commissioner; John A. Lapp, director of bureau of legislative information; State Senator Evan B. Stotsenburg, New Albany, and M. Bachelder, Indianapolis. The meeting was to close with a general discussion.

The showing was made today that about every state that has found it possible thus far to get away from the old general property tax system has done so in various degrees ranging from classification and specific rates for certain classes of property, and limitation of tax rates, to the income tax enacted by Wisconsin and now part of the legislative action in Massachusetts and approaching the second consideration and ratification. The showings made today also were that nineteen states other than the twelve or thirteen that have already broken away, now have constitutional amendments pending.

Will State Its Findings.

It is probable that before the conference adjourns this evening resolutions will be adopted concisely stating the findings of the conference so drafted as to bring the facts before the legislature for its consideration. If those conclusions are in line with the speeches that have been made in the conference there can be no reason to doubt that they will point to serious defects in the present taxing system in Indiana and also in its administration.

There was a strong movement noticeable today to create a state-wide committee to digest the great mass of reports and points made in this state conference, to get in touch with different sections of the state and to meet again in Indianapolis just before the legislature convenes to map out a policy for the 1915 legislative year. It has become apparent that the legislature is going to be deluged with tax bills this year.

Repressive Force Needed.

It is evident, conference leaders say, that it is going to be vitally necessary to have a well-posted "repressive force" at work which will be able effectively to point out what are half-baked, inadequate or bad measures, and to be ready to offer the service of students, practical business men and real tax experts of this and other states to the legislature for its aid. It remains to be seen whether the conference will cause the drafting of any bills or measures, or stand for any one policy, but all are impressed with the need of a guard against ill-advised measures.

The Indiana state tax conference has been commented on by several as being probably the most representative body of men that has met in Indianapolis for some years on a state question. At least fifty townships scattered all over the state have sent delegates; probably as many villages and towns have delegates in the conference, at least a third of the counties are officially represented, and every one of the important cities in Indiana has one of more delegates. In addition to these Governor Samuel M. Ralston, various state officials and thirteen congressional delegates appointed by the governor represent the state. Aaron Jones, master of the state grange, and other official delegates representing agricultural interests are here. Indiana organized labor, bankers, manufacturers, lawyers, women's organizations and a long list of various state organizations have official representatives present.

Ohio's Experiments.

Interest in the session this morning centered pretty much in Ohio's experiments with placing a limitation on the tax rate and in the centralization under state control, of assessing machinery organized on the basis of efficiency for the work and protected by civil service. Prof. Lockhart was unable to attend, but his address was read by Fred H. Lemen, chairman of the tax committee of the Richmond, Indiana, chamber of commerce, who has been making an investigation of that system. The showing was the uniform one—that the property tax system had "broken down;" that intangibles would not pay a tax which demanded half or most of income and that such capital was getting out of the state, or into hiding. The situation was illustrated by the fact that the total intangible property listed in the state in 1912 was only $307,000,000, though there was actually in the banks of the state shortly after tax listing day $746,000,000 of deposits—and deposits are only one item of personal property. The limitation on tax rates, which are not under any conditions to go over 1½ per cent., and the new efficient state-centralized assessing machinery are producing results. Mr. Lockhart produced a tabulation of nine counties, well scattered over the state which show that the valuations in 1913 show an increase of 8.4 per cent. in the case of real estate, that the increase of tangible personal property is 1.1 per cent. and intangible property show an increase of 5.1 per cent.

The Wisconsin Way.

Alfred F. Holt, a special commissioner for Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin, presented a survey of the reasons why Wisconsin went to the income tax and state centralized assessment of property and also of the results.

"One thing Wisconsin with all its wonderful educational system had failed to accomplish," said Mr. Holt, "that was to get people to stop lying about their personal property when the tax assessor came. They would tell the truth under any other temptation to prevaricate—would sacrifice business, social position or political preferment on the altar of personal integrity—but when it came to naming the number of dollars they had in bank or loaned out they would lie about it just as brazenly as anybody in Indiana. This evasion went on until the owners of real estate, the builders, the men who improve and make the state and create its industries and trade and the demand for money, were paying all the taxes and carrying all the burden of government as they are increasingly doing in Indiana. Finally everybody realized that the general property tax was a farce. Thus came into existence in 1911 the Wisconsin income tax."

Mr. Holt described the system in detail. Income taxation, he said, could be pronounced an unqualified success as efficiently administered in Wisconsin.

It produces abundant revenues, he said, and he showed that in equalizing the burden it lightened the burden on all. The speaker touched on the high efficiency of the state centralized system

When cooking vegetables remember that all vegetables which grow above ground should be put into boiling water, and all which grow underground in cold water—with the exception of new potatoes.

Mackintoshes, when dirty, can be easily cleaned at home. Spread out the garment flat on the table and scrub with warm water and yellow soap in which a little carbonate of ammonia has been dissolved. Rinse in cold water and hang in the air to dry. On no account put it near the fire.

To tint curtains cream color mix a bowl of cream starch and another of white. Add a small quantity of the cream starch to the white before each curtain is starched. This makes the curtains all the same tone, which would not be the case were they put directly into the cream starch.

An excellent wash for cleaning painted walls is made by dissolving two ounces of borax in two quarts of water. Add one teaspoonful of ammonia, use half of this mixture to a pail of water and use no soap. After washing the walls rub them with clean cloths until dry.

GO OUT TO LOCATE NEW BRIDGE AND DAM

City and County Boards to Get Ready for Fourth Street Work.

Messrs. Singrey, Kelly and Hilgeman, of the board of works, City Engineer Randall and County Commissioners Butt, Schwier and Black went out Wednesday afternoon to locate the proposed Fourth street bridge over Spy Run, just below Lawton park. The bridge will be built early the coming year and in connection with it will be constructed a concrete dam to back up Spy Run to the pool that furnishes water for the condensers in the city light and power works. The commissioners expect to get the appropriation from the county council for the bridge this month. The city will pay for the dam.

PARK BOARD ECONOMIES.

Changes Planned That Will Save the Department's Funds.

At a meeting of the council committee on parks, public buildings and grounds with members of the park board at the city hall Tuesday evening, changes were planned that if carried out will do much to effect economy in the expenditure of park funds. It was decided that the offices of park superintendent and city forester should be combined and the dual position given to Carl J. Getz, the present city forester. Another place will be found for August W. Goers, who for seventeen years has been superintendent of parks. Park Engineer Marriott Price will be transferred to the city engineering department and will give his services to the park board when needed. The board of park commissioners says that Engineer Price has so far worked out the engineering phases of the scheme of improvements contemplated by the board that not much of his time will be needed next year. The city engineering department, on the other hand, is badly in need of an increased force. Since the stenographer in the park department does much of the work for the city engineering department it is considered proper that Engineer Price's salary be paid by that department as an offset. The matter of combining the forestry and park superintendency was left entirely with the park board. The councilmen expressed the opinion that the park department should not be assessed for street and sidewalk improvements along parks nor for sewers draining territory in which parks are located. The conference was attended by President Bayer and Members Rogge, Hartman, Welch, Mills and Keller, of the council, and Park Commissioners Foster, Fox and Dorn and Park Board Secretary C. J. Steiss.

TAKES JAIL SENTENCE AND THANKS JUDGE

Henry Langhor Prefers Imprisonment to Giving Ex-Wife Money.

"Thank you, judge; that suits me."

So said Henry Langhor in the superior court Wednesday, when Judge Yaple sentenced him to sixty days in jail for contempt of court in having failed to obey the court's order to pay an allowance to his divorced wife, Ollie Langhor. Langhor had steadfastly refused to pay money to his former wife, and when arraigned on the contempt charge assumed the air of a martyr. He declared he would break jails and prisons before he would give her a cent and accepted his penalty with good grace. Judge Yaple told him he could any time relieve himself of the penalty by promising to obey the court's order, and also told him he was headed for prison. That did not move Langhor and he went contentedly to jail.

Leininger Given a Chance.

After sentencing John Leininger to from one to seven years in the state prison at Michigan City for neglecting his children, Judge Eggeman in the circuit court suspended the sentence on Leininger's promise to support his four little offspring. He was given into custody of Frank G. Klotz, who is going to employ Leininger and who will hold out $6.50 each week of the man's pay for the benefit of the children. Leininger's first wife got a divorce in May. The day following his second marriage last week he was arrested. Judge Eggeman gave him a grilling and warned him that any delinquency would cause him to be sent to prison.

Says He Struck Her.

In a divorce complaint filed in the superior court Elizabeth Raber says Harvey Raber called her vile and indecent names, struck her and is a habitual drunkard. She got a restraining order to prevent him from molesting her or interfering with her rooming house business at 113 Brackenridge street. They were married in September, 1913, and separated last June.

Is Brutal and Jealous.

Dessie Shroll says Ernest Shroll was cruel and inhuman in his treatment of her from the beginning of their married life, May 8, 1908, made no proper provision for her support, did not make a home for her, has an ungovernable temper, calls her names too filthy to put in a complaint, is jealous, spies upon her continually, follows her from place to place, when angry would threaten her with bodily injury and said he would kill her, drinks to excess and spends his money for drink. They separated November 30.

Sued for Death of Employe.

Vassilios H. Theodore, as administrator of the estate of the late Andrew Theodore, has begun action in the circuit court against the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad for $1,000 damages for the death of Andrew Theodore, who was an employe of the road, last February. The complaint alleges that while Theodore was employed in repairing a switch track in Fort Wayne he was struck by a switch engine and caboose and killed. It is charged that the blowing of steam from an engine on the main track made so much noise that Theodore did not hear the approach of the other engine, which gave no warning of [illegible]

William Hatfield vs. William P. Walsh and Frank Durand, the court finds that there never was a process issued or served on Walsh and that such omission never having been waived, it finds for the plaintiff against Durand in the sum of $200 damages. Durand is the man who married a Fort Wayne woman, spent her money, abandoned her and has since been floating large amounts of fraudulent checks on Fort Wayne financial institutions. The suit was on a contract.

Notes of the Courts.

The superior court has fixed March 29, 1915, as the date for hearing the suit of Allie Burrier vs. Lela H. Ashton, et al.

The suit of Keziah Starkey vs. the Adams Express company for $20,000 for personal injuries has been sent to Wells county on a change of venue.

The circuit court has dismissed the suit of Anna Meyers vs. Jacob Cupp, the case having been settled, and has also dismissed the suit of John A. Swayzee vs. Cyrus A. Swank, which came up on an appeal.

After thirty-four years of married life, Anna C. Medsker has brought suit in the superior court for a divorce from John H. Medsker. They were married in April, 1880, and separated October 20, 1914. She charges failure to provide during the last four years.

In the superior court Evelyn E. Purcell has brought suit against Thomas and Louise Roach to foreclose a mechanic's lien, demanding $530.

Judge Carl Yaple has returned from Mendon, Mich., to which place he was called by the serious illness of his 8-year-old son. The child is much better and was brought home. Judge Yaple has returned to his duties on the superior court bench.

In the suit of the German-American Realty association vs. Caroline C. Baumgratz, et al., title to real estate was quieted in the plaintiff, and similar judgment was entered in the case of Frank J. and Theresa Steinacker vs. Theodore E. Brackenridge, et al., by the superior court.

Wilbur G. Carpenter, Guy Colerick and David Hogg are a committee of lawyers who will examine Alvin O. Smith in the superior court for admission to the bar.

AMERICAN WOMEN'S DISPUTE SETTLED

London, Dec. 2.—The long standing dispute of two American women, Lida Eleanor Fitzgerald and Josephine Moffitt, as to which was entitled to style herself Princess Victor of Thurn and Taxis, was settled in the chancery court today in favor of Mrs. Fitzgerald. The court allowed Mrs. Fitzgerald $500 damages, gave her the cost of the trial and granted her an injunction against Miss Moffitt. The prince is now serving in the Austrian army.

Prince Victor of Thurn and Taxis, a member of a well known Hungarian family, came to the United States in 1906, and in New York contracted a matrimonial alliance with an American actress named Josephine Moffitt, who came originally from Jacksonville, Fla. The prince later left Miss Moffitt and in 1911 he was married to Mrs. Fitzgerald, former wife of Gen. Gerald Fitzgerald, at Uniontown, Pa.

The difficulties of the prince and the women who claim to the right to use his title have been up from time to time in the courts of New York and London.

Deputy Revenue Collectors Thumma and McLauhlin announced late Wednesday afternoon that they had just received a new supply of internal revenue stamps and that they would be on sale Thursday morning at the office of the collectors in the federal building. The supply consists of 1, 2, 3 and 10-cent denominations.

THOUGHTFUL YOUNGSTER.

Little Boy Spends Money for Seals Instead of for Candy.

When Stephen Bond, jr., the ten-year-old son of Stephen Bond, sr., went downtown Tuesday to purchase a nickel's worth of candy he spent his money for Red Cross seals instead, greatly to the surprise of his parents.

The sale of seals is going merrily on, a total of 119,150 having been sold in Fort Wayne to date. More seals have been sold in Fort Wayne than in any other city in the state. Following are the sales up to 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon: Gilmartin Lumber company, 85; Centilvre hotel, 85.

There will be a regular meeting of Lawton-Wayne Post, G. A. R., Friday evening, Dec. 4, at Vollermark hall, 624 Calhoun street. The annual election of officers will be held. All members are expected to be present.

Society

(Contined from Page 6).

Miss Olga Rice, of Dixon, Ill., arrived in the city last evening and is the guest of the Misses Christine and Anne Shryock.

Mrs. Jessie Allhands and daughter, Faye, of Marionville, Mo., are here for an extended visit with their uncle, J. W. Thompson and family, of 448 West Williams street.

Miss Alice Knight is coming home from New York city next Wednesday, where she has been visiting friends for some weeks. Miss Knight will have as her guest Miss Maud Stevenson, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. Kitty Alter, of East Leith street, entertained the Sindle club last evening, assisted by her daughters. Some excellent musical selections were furnished by Miss Clara Offenloch. The next hostess will be Mrs. Charles Offerle, of Centlivre avenue.

One of the best films ever seen in the city was that at the Lyric featuring Miss Ethel Barrymore yesterday and today. Miss Barrymore's popularity was well demonstrated by the crowds of people who went to see her in the new role of a beautiful singer who has many trials and much trouble. Miss Barrymore's acting was excellent and the supporting company good.

Mrs. Byron Somers, of Webster street, entertained the officers of Shiloh chapter, No. 141, Order of Eastern Star, on Monday evening in honor of Worthy Matron Matie Garwood. A contest of writing words from the letters found in Mrs. Garwood's title furnished a lot of fun. Mrs. Garwood was presented with an electric coffee percolator as a token of esteem from the guests. There were present Ada Carter, Mary Smith, Stella Phillips, Lottie and Olive Current, Mary Pietz, Hattie Ault, Anna Hartshorn, Bertha Pfeiffer, Sue Stiver, Byrl Nelson, Maud Stock, May Titsworth, Jessie Ashley, Amy Fitzsimmons, Edna Eckloe, Lavon Chapman, Grace McMillan, S. B. Dustman, C. A. Carter, C. Comincavish. The hostess served a lunch.

THE DEATHS.

SCHULER.

Mrs. Rinda Schuler, aged 27 years, wife of Albert Schuler, of St. Joseph township, seven miles north of the city on the St. Joe road, died at the family residence Tuesday noon. Death was due to blood-poisoning and followed an illness of but one week.

Mrs. Schuler was born in Perry township and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Parker. She was united in marriage to Mr. Schuler [illegible] DeKalb county; Mrs. Lizzie Frederick, of Michigan, and Rena and Maud Parker, of Perry township.

Funeral service Friday morning at 8 o'clock at the residence and at 9 o'clock at the St. Vincent church.

ARM IS BROKEN.

Carl Manor Falls Fifteen Feet, Alighting on Cement Walk.

Falling from a ladder a distance of fifteen feet to a cement sidewalk, Carl Manor, aged 27, residing at 516 LaSalle avenue, suffered a broken right arm about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. He was engaged in putting on brackets on a house on Freeman street when the ladder on which he was standing slipped out from under him and he was thrown violently to the cement walk below. He is a lineman for the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company.

NOT A SINGLE DEATH.

According to the annual report of the secretary of Home lodge No. 342, Free and Accepted Masons, which was read Tuesday evening at the regular meeting, there was not a single death in the lodge during the past year. The secretary reported a membership of 507.

PUBLICITY IS NOT SOUGHT BY T. COBB

Says Feelings Have Been Hurt and He Will Quit in 1918.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 2.—Thousands of people religiously hold the belief that if the bright spotlight of publicity were denied him Ty Cobb would freeze to death. They see in Tyrus a vain, boastful, elephantine-headed egotist. They're all wrong, absolutely misinformed.

Off the field Ty is first a gentleman, affable and retiring. He's not the bellicose, blatant butcher-beater that he has been pictured. On the contrary, he's what Robert Burns would call a "discontented ghost, a perturbed spirit." Ty has a grievance.

Cobb, unquestionably the greatest ball player on earth, the highest salaried individual in the rank and file of the diamond army, believes he has been made a martyr to publicity, a sacrifice offered to Mammon by avaricious club owners.

The writer located Cobb at his hotel after a particularly brilliant performance on the ball field, one evening with the hope of ascertaining how much money the "greatest player in baseball" had appropriated from the Elysian fields of frenzied baseball finance. The subject does not appeal to Ty, who, however, was anything but loath to be interviewed.

"I have saved my money and I have invested it well," said Tyrus, "and besides I have been well paid; but I will tell you a secret: My mind is set on quitting baseball in four more years, no matter what my services on the diamond may command at the time. I am 27 years old, and physically fortified, I believe, to go on as long as Wallace or Lajoie. But I have set 1918 as the absolute limit of further participation in baseball.

"I haven't been treated any too well. I have been successful, it is true, but my feelings too often have been wounded by undesirable notoriety. I'll explain.

"I have been pictured a 'tough' fighter, a user of 'cold steel,' so often that loads of people with whom I'm not personally acquainted regard me almost as a barroom gladiator. That's putting it rather strong, but it's my aggravated view of a serious matter. Let me give you some history.

"My career in the big league has been fraught with excitement. I broke in at the age of 18, with all the aggressiveness which a healthy young boy should have, but I was in baseball only a few days before I was forced to fight Eddie Sievers, a pitcher, because he heaped insults on me for losing a ball game. He said things which no man with red corpuscles in his blood could stand. So I whipped him.

"Since that day nothing I have done has escaped the news columns. They even probed into my private affairs and things are exaggerated and magnified until I'm often astonished at myself. Take the New York episode, when I went into the stand after a fan. The man who would have ignored the insults offered me by that fellow I don't care to meet. He isn't a man.

"But I warned that fellow three times to stop before I went after him. Every player on my club was with me and most of them advised the course I pursued. But what did I get? The most thorough scourging any player ever received.

"In Detroit one afternoon a butcher called Mrs. Cobb a liar. What would you do? Somebody had to apologize, and when I forced the apology, a personal affair with me, I again broke into the papers as a rowdy. There have been other incidents, but not one in which the most minute details have not spread far and wide."

FEDERAL PLAYERS SEEK OLD PLACES

Back After One Season Asking to Be Taken Into the Fold.

That the Roy Keener case is to be repeated a number of times in baseball is one of the possibilities of the season of 1915. It will be remembered that at Terre Haute in 1913 Keener refused to go in and pitch a game of baseball to help out a staff of hurlers that was badly overworked.

He had been successful in the box that season and had no excuse to offer for his refusal other than that he was an outfielder and didn't have to pitch.

This didn't register with James Thomas Burke. James T. was strong on discipline and strong on language to enforce this same discipline so he forthwith suspended Keener and told him to pack and "git." It developed that he had been tampered with by Bill Phillips, manager of the Indianapolis Federals, and in a short time he was playing the outfield for this organization.

He repented and wanted to get back. Claude H. Varnell needed him and probably would have given him a place but the national commission, supreme ruler in baseball, said nay and the nay went.

Last season Mr. Keener's name didn't appear in the Indianapolis lineup and there is some question as to what did become of him, but it is highly probable that he was left to pick up as much of a living as could be picked up about the town of Grafton, W. Va., which is a division point on a railroad.

Twenty players will constitute each Federal league roster in 1915, and the players who are likely to be left out in making up this number are seeking admittance to the old organization They may get in but some of them undoubtedly will open minor league pay envelopes every fifteen days and find therein a stipend far below the amounts drawn while they were in good standing in organized baseball.

The fellows who got three year contracts with guarantees are safe, of course. They had little confidence from the first in the stability of the new league and required that their money be so arranged that they could get it whether the new league blew up or not.

All of the men were not in position to demand terms of this kind and these are the fellows who want back. Baseball needs some of them and it is not just and proper that they should be deprived of the means of making a living but they will find it pretty difficult sledding.

If they continue at the game they must accept reductions because they will go to the minors and the minors must retrench. They have paid salaries that were way beyond the amounts justified by gate receipts and the prodigals are the fellows who will feel the ax more keenly than those who stuck to organized ball and refused the temptations held out to them by the new organization.

The Federal will continue probably for another year. Some of the men in the league would have been welcomed to organized ball under a peace pact but when it came to a showdown the magnates did not have the money to swing the deals that were proposed and negotiations, so far as the public is concerned, were declared off.

There may be some sort of an agreement between the owners that the public does not know of. These agreements often exist and are kept under cover for the reason that if they were known they would disrupt the league by causing discontent and uncertainty in the playing ranks.

Then there is another lesson to be taught. Baseball players must be shown that when they sign contracts they must respect them. None of them ever signed one that he did not understand thoroughly and when they violated their contracts they knew they were acting in bad faith.

These men probably will be taught by organized ball that they cannot treat contracts lightly and that once they are entered into they must be kept inviolate.

PLAYED HOOKEY FROM SCHOOL TO TAKE BOXING LESSONS---NOW HE'S MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMPION

JIMMY CLABBY IS A BASEBALL BUG AND AN ALL-ROUND ATHLETE—HE'S THE PLUTOCRAT OF THE BOXING GAME.

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—Jimmy Clabby, middleweight champion of America, and possessed of a strangle hold on the world's title for the same division, made his mark under his own name.

The Indianian was introduced in his youth to the squared circle by his father, who took him to the first mill he ever witnessed. When asked as to whether there were parental objections to his embarking in the game, Clabby answered:

"What, my father kick at boxing! Why, he'd travel in his stocking feet over a hard shell road just to see two good, clever fellows mix!"

Clabby is a son of good down-east stock. He hails from Norwich, Conn. His recollections of his birthplace are scanty for he was a baby of 4 when his father, a steel rolling mill man, migrated to Hammond, Ind.

Some nine years ago, when Jimmy then 14 years of age, was escorted by his daddy to see a couple of boys don the gloves, he was introduced to Ole Oleson, the featherweight, who was well known in the middle west not many years ago, and that was what started Clabby ringward. He admits playing hookey from school on various occasions just to take some lessons from Oleson—and Father Clabby had no protest to offer when the real facts became known.

Clabby's first bout was at Laporte, where he put on the gloves with some unknown in a six-round affair that was called a draw.

"Right there was where I turned professional," explains the king of the middles. "They took up a ringside collection and I received $6 for my services, the first money I ever earned."

Incidentally it gave Jimmy the idea of how to make a living. Already he had been expelled from school because of his tendency to settle arguments with his fists, and there was nothing to hinder his turning into an out and out gentleman of the padded ring.

The years 1906 and '07 saw Clabby a full fledged performer in the short round game around his home state and finally he increased his prestige until he was doing nicely in Milwaukee.

Now the champion boasts proudly that he has taken part in more twenty round contests than any pugilist in the ring at the present time. Twenty-seven is Clabby's record.

Where did he acquire the cleverness that makes him so much of an attraction and so successful?

Even Clabby is pressed to answer.

"Just picked it up, I guess," was his reply. "Boxing always seemed to come naturally to me.

"I have the leverage system. When boxing I put my oppopent's body to one side then swing him around. Ever see Frank Gotch wrestle? Well, that's one of his stock moves. It works as well in boxing as it does in wrestling."

Clabby likes to box. Outside of his profession, Jimmy has a dozen hobbies, most of them of the open air variety that keeps him in good shape.

"He's a baseball bug of the virulent type and can shake hands and call by name 60 per cent. of the big leaguers, for he never misses a game when the opportunity affords.

JIMMY CLABBY.

He's a tennis sharp and an all-round athlete.

Clabby likes to read good books—not the trashy sort—and to attend first night performances.

He's of a saving disposition. Several years ago Clabby opened up a cafe and restaurant in Hammond, a city of some 35,000 population, and his dad is installed as the boss. Also he has accumulated some bank stock that returns an investment of 12 per cent. and he's the owner of an apartment house.

As the money comes in from his fistic ventures Clabby sends a fair proportion of it to Indiana, so that it will be awaiting the time when he is done with the game.

"What are you going to do when you're through with boxing?" brought from Clabby, "Back to Hammond and go into business with my father."

TRANSFER A TERM TO BROOKLYN LOT

New York, Dec. 2.—Plans to continue the fight against the Federal league, among others, the proposal to transfer the Jersey City club to Brooklyn, will be discussed at the annual meeting here next week of the National and International leagues. Advance statements from club owners of the two leagues, who will attend the big annual winter baseball conference indicate that peace negotiations between organized baseball and the so-called outlaw Federals have been abandoned and that the fight will be resumed next season.

The only obstacle in the way of transferring the Jersey City club of the International league to Brooklyn lies in the ownership by Charles Ebbits and the McKeever brothers of the Brooklyn National league club, of the Newark franchise, which they wish to sell before consenting to assume the joint responsibility of directing two teams on Ebbits field in a campaign against the Brooklyn Federals for patronage.

It became known today that among the bidders for the Newark franchise is Arthur Irwin, scout for the New York American league team. Irwin is said to have the backing of an organization of Newark business men who seek control of the franchise to insure baseball in that city.

NEW BASKET BALL CLUB IS READY

Federals Will Seek Berth in City League for Present Season.

(By Morton B. Williams).

The Federal basketball team of the Lyceum Athletic association has been organized for the season, and, if charges of professionalism against some of the players are not held will enter the City league. The manager has attempted to have the charges proved unfounded but thus far has been unsuccessful. The Federal club is one of the strongest in Fort Wayne, and in the event that it is not accepted by the league, intends to book games with Zanesville, which was so well received last year, Corby hall and teams of that caliber.

The Feds have been practicing three nights a week for a month, and are confident of winning a big percentage of their games. The regulars as picked a week or so ago are Miller, Flaherty, Loos, DeWald and Brown. Their play is speedy and the whole team seems able to shoot baskets from all part of the floor and at any angle. About twenty-five reported for practice, and from these aspirants for basketball fame have been chosen the five stronges. The lineup this year reads much the same as the Federals of last season and it will undoubtedly put up the same high standard of basketball.

Miller, the former St. Mary's player forward, is at the same position with the Feds and is playing a shade better than before. His work at forward is speedy and accurate and very few shots for goals go bad from him. He shoots baskets with apparently as much ease from the center of the floor as from under the goal.

Next in line is Flaherty, the other forward, whose style of playing is clean and fast. He is much faster than Miller, although not so accurate.

Big Loos, the center, hardly needs introduction since nearly everyone about town who follows basketball has seen him work. He tried out with the Friars at the beginning of last season and played parts of several games. He is almost indispensable to the Feds since his general all around play keeps them together and working in harmony.

At guard is DeWald, who was with the Lyceum team last year, and whose work in that capacity materially assisted to give the former team the reputation that they deserved. He is also a good man on long range basket shots.

The other guard is held down by Brown, who also played on last year's team and who is playing his usual game. His play is steady and he covers his opponent in good form. If he gets half a chance he can be counted on to score a couple of points for his team. Taken on the whole the teams that run into the Lyceum bunch are going up against a stiff proposition and will have to work their hardest to win.

The team will secure the Lyceum auditorium to play in if a plan on foot goes through, and it will be a most desirable court. The floor is smooth, and with the addition of a wire net and a glass back board will certainly be a great place for the game. The auditorium will comfortably seat 650, with standing room for a large number additional.

The Aeolians.

The second Lyceum team in the field is the Aeolians, who have just had their first practice and have chosen their manager, Willard Daley. The captaincy is to be left vacant until after two or three try-outs. The Aeolians will accept games with the best second string teams in and out of the city.

FRANK CHANCE IS GIVEN A PANNING

(By Ed Bang).

Cleveland, O., Dec. 2.—You can say for me that Frank Chance stands forth as the biggest individual failure in the history of the American league. That's the sum and substance of what B. B. Johnson, president of the American league, said a short time since when the "Peerless Leader" came up for discussion, "and what's more you can write a story to that effect and quote me as strong as you like," Ban continued.

President Johnson had great hopes of Chance molding a winner in New York, and when, after almost two years as the leader of the Yankees, he quit a dismal failure, the blow all but floored Ban for the count. The American league has always played second fiddle to the Giants in New York, and Ban and other American leaguers figured that Chance was the man to bring about a change in the condition of affairs.

But Chance fell down. His failure couldn't have been worse. Little wonder Johnson took it so to heart. Ban believed he made a ten-strike for the American league when Chance was secured to manage the Yankees. He had visions of the teams in his league playing to the 25,000 and 35,000 crowds that have greeted the Giants and their opponents time and again. But it was not to be.

"Chance had the material in New York and I think any other man would have made as success of the venture," said Ban. "Surely no one could have done any worse. Of all the players that were on the New York roster in 1913 and 1914, and there were any number of likely looking recruits, Chance failed to develop even one man of class. Why, it was an outrage.

"And then when he made up his mind that he was a failure, or at least when he was ready to step down and out he had the unmitigated nerve to ask for pay for services that he had not performed. That surely was gall, to say the least. Why, Roger Peckinpaugh, youth, though he is, displayed far more class as manager of the Yankees in the short time he was at the helm than Frank Chance ever did."

A. C. W. HOLDS ITS FIRST ANNUAL MEET

Banquet and Election is Attended by Over 300 People.

Organizing in June and accomplishing some notable attainments during its short existence, the Associated Christian Workers of Fort Wayne Tuesday evening held its first annual banquet and election of officers at the Simpson M. E. church when over 300 young people were in attendance.

The meeting opened at 5:15 o'clock when a short business session was held in the auditorium of the church at which time minutes of the last annual meeting of the Local Union of Christian Endeavor societies and the reports of all the committee chairmen were read. The treasurer's report showed the financial standing in good condition.

Following this session all retired to the basement where the Ladies' Aid society of the Simpson M. E. church had prepared a four-course banquet. It was a very elaborate affair and the eatables were so savory that they even attracted the attention of a passing canine friend who caused quite a bit of merriment when he almost insisted in crawling through an open window. However, he

CLIFFORD J. HUTCHINSON,
President of A. C. W. for 1915.

At the close of "the sumptuous feast," as someone expressed it, a very delightful program of musical numbers and talks was rendered. E. A. K. Hackett as a representative from the Lyon evangelistic campaign executive committee gave an address on the work that he said was sure to be accomplished if the young people would assist.

The most enthusiastic speech of the evening was given by Rev. Edward H. Clifford, pastor of the East Creighton Avenue Church of Christ, who spoke on the subject, "The Possibilities of the A. C. W." He said in part:

"Since the A. C. W. is composed of young people and since young people know not what failure really is, the possibilities of the A. C. W. will only be limited by our common humanity." He closed by saying: "The day is coming when all young people's organizations of the country will be united in one great federation and the A. C. W. of Fort Wayne has started this great movement."

Another very interesting address and one that was received with a hearty applause was the one given by Rev. J. H. Clemesen, of the St. Paul M. E. church on "Association." He said that as either win or lose. He further said that the A. C. W. as a whole were appreciative for the work that was done during the past year by the retiring officers and that he believed everyone present was of an appreciative spirit due to all the happenings of the evening. He referred to the canine friend and said that even the dog was appreciative for after he had been given something to eat he came back the second time for more.

An instrumental duet by Miss Georgia Wirth and A. Leslie Jacobs and a vocal solo by Joseph Fitch were also well received. Other talks were given by Winston Stone, C. J. Hutchinson and F. Beatrice McCormick, who gave a summary of the work of the A. C. W. of the past year. Glenn A. Smiley acted as toastmaster and his many toasts of humor brought forth long peals of laughter.

The report of the tellers who counted the ballots was read at the close of the program and showed the following officers elected: President, C. J. Hutchinson; first vice-president, Clarence Aiken; second vice-president, Paul Burt; secretary, Evelyn Roberts; treasurer, Joseph Fitch. Following are the chairmen of the various committees: Devotional, Esther Fritz; social, Marie McKeeman; missionary, Hazel Shoub; temperance, P. A. Riblet; publicity, Ethel Brandon; efficiency, Silas Arick; devotional, Avajean Kincade, and orchestra and music, Frederick Brown.

FIRST SHIPMENT ON BIG CONTRACT

Bass Foundry and Machine Works Sends First of Lot of Seventy-Six East.

The first carload of large steel tanks built by the Bass Foundry and Machine works on an order for seventy-six left the works yesterday for New York and will be followed at the rate of two or three carloads a week until the contract has been filled. It is estimated that there will be fourteen or fifteen carloads in all. This contract came in three parts. First, W. C. Slater, representing the Bass company, went east and secured a contract for thirty-one tanks two weeks ago. A few days later the mail brought a duplicate order and early this week the telegraph brought another order for fourteen tanks, making the total seventy-six. They are badly needed by the purchaser and orders have been given the local works to push the work with all possible speed. As a result the boiler shop is working a big force day and night and is undoubtedly the most active industrial plant in the city today.

THE PAY DAYS.

The Pennsylvania and the Grand Rapids and Indiana pay masters will be in Fort Wayne this week. The Pennsy paymaster will pay the road men, the office men and maintenance of way men Friday. The G. R. & I. paymaster will pay the employes of that line between Grand Rapids and Fort Wayne, including the office force here, Thursday afternoon, go to Richmond Friday morning and return here at noon, when payment of the Pennsylvania shopmen will commence. They will receive their pay Friday afternoon and Saturday.

WABASH CLUB'S NEW SECRETARY.

The following contribution, which will explain itself, was picked up at the Wabash shops this morning: "Wentz Gabriel has resigned the office of secretary of the club at the Wabash shops, as his time is taken up with his poultry yard. His successor has not been chosen. There are several eligible and very good men who will take it, it is said. One is Machinist L. D. Miller and another Machinist James A. Lechler. Either would be acceptable to the members."

WILL DO ITS OWN WORK.

Commencing yesterday the Pullman company took over all work connected with the lighting of its cars and cancelled a contract it had with the Pennsylvania company. Hereafter the Pullman company will furnish all labor, material for repairs, batteries and light devices, clean all lamps and furnish all the material in connection therewith. This work was formerly performed by men on the Pennsylvania pay rolls. The change effects only such terminals as Chicago and Pittsburg and does not affect Fort Wayne.

SHIPPING TONS OF CANDY.

The Hite-Miller-Lau company are engaged this week in sending out the holiday candy supplies to the dealers in the towns within its trade territory. Monday heavy shipments were made over the Pennsylvania, the G. R. & I. and the Wabash and yesterday about thirty tons of the sweets were shipped over the Lake Shore and the Lake Erie and Western. Despite the general depression in business, the candy trade is as heavy this year as last.

MR. WOOD GOES HOME.

General Manager W. B. Wood, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana company, passed through the city at 8:50 o'clock this morning, in his private car on train No. 7. Mr. Wood had been east on railway business and incidentally visited his relatives. Supt. Benj. H. Hudson, Trainmaster R. G. Casey and Division Engineer C. L. Barnaby accompanied General Manager Wood from this city to Grand Rapids and discussed railway matters with him.

HOST AT THEATER PARTY.

Twelve to fifteen office men and foremen at the Wabash shops will comprise a party which will attend the vaudeville at the Masonic Temple this evening. Mr. Granger, a prince of good fellows, will chaperon the party. The "boys" anticipate a fine time.

WILL GIVE CARD PARTY.

Nickel Plate division, No. 513, will give a card party at the B. L. E. hall, corner of Cherry and West Main street, tomorrow afternoon.

AT CHICAGO ON BUSINESS.

Art V. Williams, foreman of the Pennsylvania toolroom, went to Chicago this morning on business that will keep him there two or three days.

IN CHICAGO ON BUSINESS.

General Manager F. S. Hunting and Factory Supt. E. A. Barnes, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, are in Chicago today on business for the company.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Herb Smith, an apprentice at the Wabash blacksmith shop, is sick and off duty.

C. L. Clodfelter, Lake Shore agent at Corunna, Ind., was a Fort Wayne visitor yesterday.

H. J. Yergy, Pennsylvania car clerk, is in Altoona on business connected with the car department.

Division Storekeeper C. P. Cherry, of the Pennsylvania, is in Pittsburg on business for the company.

Hammersmith Owen Barry, of the Pennsylvania shops, is off duty for the purpose of attending court.

The Painters and Decorator announce business of importance at the meeting tonight and want a good attendance.

Henry Lamaster, Wabash machinists' apprentice, returned to work yesterday after spending several days in Toledo.

After a week's sickness, Machinist E. C. Rehling resumed work at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

W. L. Wilt is in New York this week on business for the motive power department of the Pennsylvania Northwest system.

Frank Zack, Wabash shop laborer, and his sister, went to Chicago this morning to spend the remainder of the week with friends.

George Henschen, a car inspector on the Wabash, and his family have returned from a fifteen days' visit with relatives in Nebraska.

T. T. King, of the engineering department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, is looking after some business at Louisville for the company.

Charles R. Smith, of the Electric works, is preparing to move into a new house out in the southwestern part of the city about the holidays.

William J. Murphy, an armature winder at the Electric works, was sent to St. Mary's, Ohio, yesterday to make some repairs on a lighting plant.

Frank E. More, Pennsylvania motive power inspector, is still confined to his home with a severe attack of lumbago. He has been unable to get to his office for over a week.

W. O. Thompson, master car builder of the New York Central lines, with headquarters at Buffalo, left yesterday for that city after a business visit of two days in this city.

Machinist W. H. Miller, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is kept from his work by the serious illness of his father, who will be taken to the hospital for a surgical operation.

Machinist J. Moran, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, was summoned home this morning by a message stating that his mother, who lives with him on Leith street, is seriously ill.

Mrs. Moering, wife of Pennsylvania Machinist J. T. Moering, expects to visit relatives at Delphos the latter part of the week. Mr. Moering may join his wife there Saturday and stay over Sunday.

Ten homeseekers left yesterday via the Lake Erie and Western railroad for Dundee, Fla. The party was piloted by D. R. McCready, a local real estate agent. Nine left for Texas yesterday via the Wabash.

W. G. Cartwright, wire chief of the G. R. & I., was at Kalamazoo yesterday to see his sister, who has been taken to a hospital for a surgical operation, the second within the past three months. Her condition is serious.

J. B. Hurley, general road foreman; J. E. McLone, shop and engine inspector, and H. C. Bohls, round house foreman at Toledo, of the Wabash, were in the city today looking after business connected with their departments.

John T. Scott called at The Sentinel this morning to request a correction concerning an alleged injury to himself, in which the attending surgeon is alleged to have taken several stitches in closing the wound. The item originated from a practical joker.

A. W. Eylenberg, who recently completed an apprenticeship in the Wabash machine shop, is in San Francisco. This news was conveyed to his father, John H. Eylenberg, the telegraph operator, in a card from his son, which was mailed from San Francisco.

Robert Getz, weight nine pounds and appearance all that fond parents could wish for, arrived last evening. The happy father is Art Getz, chief clerk for Road Foreman A. L. Lopshire, at the Grand Rapids and Indiana offices, who had on tap a box of good cigars for all callers at the office today.

With revolvers flashed in their faces the crew of second 51, Nickel Plate freight train, was held up on the Buffalo division of the road Saturday night. Ten or a dozen men were in the holdup crowd, according to the report of the trainmen, and cars were completely looted, much of their contents being taken.

Hogs from the northeastern part of Indiana are being shipped to Indianapolis in greater quantities than ever before. Nearly every day the Lake Shore and the Lake Erie and Western handles some business of this kind. Yesterday six car loads of hogs passed through the city over those lines, consigned to Indianapolis packers.

Bulletins from General Passenger Agent B. F. Horner, of the Nickel Plate, announce that with the expiration of December 27 will come the withdrawal of the dollar Sunday rate. It went into effect last April and its popularity is attested to by the many thousands of people who took advantage of the rate to enjoy a visit with friends in other towns without spending much money for railway fare.

Engineer George Ek is again an extra passenger man on the Pennsylvania, after being in the freight department for some time. The change is probably due more to many of the regular passenger engineers wanting off duty for various reasons at this season of the year, more than to heavy travel on the road. One, Engineer H. E. Wagner, left a few days ago, with his wife, for California to be absent all winter.

C. W. Nelson, employed on the second floor of the Electric works, under Foreman William Wehrs, sustained a painful wound on his right hand at 10 o'clock this morning. He was grinding a tool, when his hand came in contact with the emery wheel and the flesh was cut badly between the first and second fingers and the tendon of the index finger was also cut. Dr. Schulz had to take several stitches in dressing the wound.

DETECTIVE RAY SAYS HE SHOT HASSELGREN

Nickel Plate Officer Puts in New and Clean Tale at His Trial.

Charles A. Ray, a Nickel Plate railway detective, went on the stand in the city court Wednesday and reversed himself in complete fashion, freely confessing, after repeated and persistent denials to the police, that he had fired shots from his revolver at William Hasselgren, the gigantic young Swede, who was wounded in the leg by a bullet, Saturday afternoon, November 14.

Judge Kerr, after hearing testimony for nearly two hours, took the case under advisement until 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Hasselgren and a fellow tramp named George Williams, aged 23, were making their way westward near the Mayflower mills, west of the city, and the Swede had gone into a clump of trees south of the Nickel Plate tracks. Ray came along the track on his bicycle. He questioned Williams and searched him. Then he called to Hasselgren to come back. Hesselgren started to walk away and Ray drew his revolver and fired. The Swede then started to run and Ray fired a second time. One of the shots took effect in Hasselgren's leg and after running through Lindenwood cemetery to the road he got a man who was passing in an automobile to take him to St. Joseph's hospital. The police gathered from Hasselgren's description of the man who fired that it must have been Detective Ray. Twice when questioned by the police Ray denied all knowledge of the shooting, but was nevertheless ordered locked up by Chief Lenz. In court Hasselgren and Williams fully identified Ray as the man. When Ray took the stand in his trial for assault and battery with intent to kill, he "came clean," and said he knew he had made a mistake in denying his guilt, but said he had been afraid to tell the truth. He admitted that while in the employ of the Lake Shore road as a special officer in Erie, Pa., he had shot a man.

Boy Burglars Are Held.

Walter Seabold and Eugene Miller, each 19 years old, pleaded guilty in the city court to burglary charges and were bound over to the circuit court under bonds of $500. Tuesday night the lads broke into the saloon of William Shorey, 1716 Broadway, and stole cash in pennies and nickels from the register and a slot machine. The robbery was committed between 11:15, at which time Shorey went riding with a friend, and 11:50, when he returned and found his place had been burglarized. Later an attempt was made to burglarize the Goeglein saloon, 2006 Broadway. Detective Sergeant Peter Junk, who was put on the case, traced the job at Shorey's to young Seabold and Miller, and arrested them. They took the officer to a place on Nelson street, near the Rastetter factory, where they had buried the pennies near a fence post. After being taken to headquarters Wednesday morning the lads confessed that they had robbed not only Shorey's place, but were guilty of the robbery at the Gephart saloon on the Bluffton road several weeks ago, when $9 in pennies was taken from the slot machines. They denied that they were guilty of burglarizing the Gephart saloon some days earlier, when the cash register, containing $15, was carried down to the river bank, broken open, looted and left there.

Mauled on His Own Doorstep.

Rudolph Langas and Ed J. Barry were fined $20 and costs each and given suspended sentences of twenty days in jail for assault and battery on Charles Breight, of 1201 Elm street. Barry, who is Breight's brother-in-law, and Langas went to the Breight home Monday and asked Mrs. Breight if they might speak to her husband. She invited them in, but they insisted on having Breight come out on the porch. When he emerged the pair set upon him and gave him a terrible beating.

Other City Court Cases.

Fred Messenger, who got drunk and was ejected from the "Beehive," on West Superior street, and then rammed his fist through a plate glass window of a fish market near by, was fined $10 and costs for malicious trespass. He is said to be wanted at Auburn for horse-stealing.

A man who gave the name of Joseph Mommer was turned loose after pleading guilty to a drunk charge, and so was Charles Stuckart, a loiterer.

Dr. Dave Brothers, the veterinary surgeon, was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness, and Frank Anderson, another drunk, was fined $1 and costs.

MAY BE STOLEN PLUNDER.

Detective Sergeant Charles Spillner Wednesday forenoon arrested a fellow who gives the name of C. D. Smith and booked him for loitering. The man had a package that contained six new boxes of ribbon silver solder, such as is used by dentists or jewelers, one new leather specie purse of large size, six new lead pencils, thirty-five 2-cent and eighteen 1-cent postage stamps, four war revenue stamps and a pair of pince-nez colored eyeglasses. Smith said he found them near the Grand Rapids and Indiana railway tracks this side of Decatur, from which city he claimed to have come. He was on Calhoun street when arrested.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Sage Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.—Adv.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Advancing cables together with reports of a strong foreign demand put the wheat market today on the upgrade. After opening unchanged to ½c up, prices reacted a trifle, but soon rose higher than before.

The close was the same as last night to ¾c higher.

Less favorable weather made the corn market firm. The opening, which ranged from ½c to ¾c higher, was followed by a moderate further gain.

Closing prices were steady at ¼@⅝c above last night.

Oats hardened with other cereals.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Dec. 2.—Extreme dullness characterized the opening of the bond market on the stock exchange today. Trading in the first ten minutes embraced less than ten issues and transactions were in small lots. Only a few changes were noted, Central Leather 5s advancing ¼ of a point. St. Paul convertible 4½s, Southern Pacific convertible 5s and Texas company convertible 6s declined minor fractions.

Business during the morning session was lighter than on the previous day. The greater part of the transactions recorded were for five to ten bonds and less. The trend was again downward, with losses of two to five points in Atlantic Coast line collateral 4s, St. Louis and San Francisco refunding 4s, Brooklyn 5s and New York Gas and Electric 4s.

from twenty-five states met here today to discuss the future of their party.

Those in attendance included members of the progressive national executive committee, of which George W. Perkins, of New York, is chairman, state chairmen and others prominent in the party councils. O. K. Davis, secretary of the committee, said a statement regarding the future program of the party would be issued at the close of the conference. The impression prevails among the early arrivals, it was reported, that the conference would not attempt to formulate a policy for the presidental election of 1916.

Neither Colonel Theodore Roosevelt nor Governor Hiram Johnson, of California, vice presidential candidate in 1912, was present. California, however, was represented by four delegates reported to be prepared to launch a boom for governor Johnson for president in 1916.

200 INDIANA BOYS TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Efficiency in Training to Be Taught Sunday School Youth.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 2.—Two hundred boys from sixteen to twenty-one years of age who are actively identified with Sunday school work in Indiana are to hold a conference at Crawfordsville, January 8, 9 and 10, to inaugurate a movement that is entirely new to Sunday schools in this state. The meeting will bear the name of "Older Boys' Conference," and it will be held under the auspices of the Indiana Sunday School association, which makes its headquarters at 417 Law building, Indianapolis. The conference is open to the older Sunday school boys of the whole state, but it is intended primarily for the youth from northwestern Indiana. It will be followed by conferences of the kind in other sections of Indiana.

The state association is now making out the list of counties which are to be represented by boy delegates. With each two delegates an adult leader in boys' work may also attend. The boys are to pay their railroad fare, fifty cents for registration fee and twenty-five cents for Fellowship supper, but they will be entertained free as guests in Crawfordsville homes. No school is to send more than two boys and one adult leader.

The purpose of the conference is to get the delegates away from the environment of their home town, give them new visions of their duty toward their Sunday schools and the boys of their community, and send them back home with increased enthusiasm for Sunday school work. It is expected that the conference will be followed with much renewed activity in the Sunday schools that are represented by delegates, especially in work among the older boys.

The general theme of the conference will be "Training for Efficiency." A very attractive program is being made up, which will be largely of a round table character, and one of the chief speakers will be John Alexander, of Chicago, superintendent of the "teen age" division of the International Sunday School association, and a specialist in work among boys. The conference is to open with a banquet. Music will be another feature, under the direction of F. E. Hathaway, of Chicago, a noted convention and evangelistic song leader.

The conference will be under the immediate direction of E. T. Albertson, superintendent of the "teen age" work in the Indiana Sunday School association, and he is now making up the details of the program. This will be, it is thought, the most popular movement that has ever been started among the Sunday school youth of Indiana. It will later be followed with conferences of girls.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Cloudy tonight and Thursday, with probably rain; colder tonight.

For Indiana: Cloudy tonight and Thursday, with probably local rains; colder tonight and in southeast portion Tuesday.

For Ohio: Cloudy and colder tonight and Thursday with probably local rains.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Cloudy, foggy, and rainy weather has continued general over the central and eastern states, with unusually high temperatures for this season of the year. No freezing temperatures are reported this morning east of Minnesota and Iowa. A storm which is central on the west gulf coast seems to be spreading northward, as it is giving rains this morning as far north as Missouri and central Illinois.

Moderately cool weather prevails over the upper Missouri valley, but in the extreme northwest temperatures have begun to moderate again.

Cloudy weather will continue in this section tonight and Thursday, and the southern storm will probably spread far enough northward to give us some rain. While it will be slightly colder tonight, no very cold weather is indicated for the next two or three days.

TO RESUME WAR ON PIGEONS THURSDAY

Unless something unforseen prevents, shooting the pigeons that have been making their home for these many years around the court house will be resumed Thursday morning. More than one hundred of them were killed Monday by Rodney Fleming and William Wiegmann, two of the best shots in this section of the country.

Already there are fewer pigeons in the vicinity of the court house than perhaps ever before and by the time the two executioners finish Thursday they will have been pretty well eradicated.

The pigeons will soon learn that their presence at the court house is not desired and they will hunt for new quarters. A large per cent of them already realize that the court house is no safe place to light.

Before starting the war on the pigeons Mr. Fleming consulted with the officers of the humane society and others and all agreed they were a nuisance and should be gotten rid of if possible. Officials at the court house and those having business there are rejoicing that this action is being taken.

Suffragist Will Rid Politics of All Its Cobwebs

Mrs. Geo. A. Armes.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—A cobweb in the office of Secretary Tumulty provided Mrs. George A. Armes, president of the Democratic Women of America, with an argument for woman suffrage when she called recently at the white house.

"Give women a voice in politics, give them offices and they will sweep the cobwebs out of your office and out of your politics too," was Tumulty's plea sent to the president. He swore as he pressed a button for the committee lady to disappear.

OHIO RAIL CONCERN NOW UNDER INQUIRY

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 2.—The Ohio public utilities commission today took steps to further investigate the Lake Erie and Youngstown railroad company, organized two years ago to build a steam railway. A report of an engineer retained by the commission shows only $61,000 worth of work actually has been done, although about $200,000 of the $9,000,000 securities authorized by the state commission have been issued. The company failed to make periodical reports to the commission as ordered, according to the report.

Among the expenditures of the new company are $10,000 for legal services rendered by J. L. Woodruff, of Springfield; $8,000 for two trips to Europe taken by officials of the company; $4,500 for engraving bonds; $5,000 to the National Trust and Investment company, of London, for cancelling a contract to buy $240,000 securities.

FOUR LOCAL LODGES NAME NEW OFFICERS

Four secret orders in Fort Wayne elected new officers Tuesday evening. Wednesday evening the election of officers will be held by Red Men lodge, No. 106, in Aldine hall, and the Eagles lodge in their hall on West Berry street.

Members of herd No. 1, Benevolent Order of Buffaloes, elected the following officers: Avery M. Groves, bison; Morris C. Elder, vice-bison; Guy Stookey, scribe; C. C. Case, treasurer; Edward Miller, chaplain; Samuel Lewis, inside picket; J. Ebner, outside picket; William Elder, trustee; N. Clippinger, guide. The musician and physician will be named at the next regular meeting.

Members of Wayne tent, No. 54, Knights of the Maccabees, have elected the following officers: Warren Byrer, sir knight commander; Carl Keller, lieutenant commander; N. H. Crawford, record keeper; S. G. Throckmorton, finance keeper; S. H. Dahlkamp, chaplain; F. G. Somers, sergeant; M. G. Rasmus, master-at-arms; B. W. Bright, first master of guards; V. E. Speck, second master of guards; C. W. Habecker, sentinel; E. F. Altekruse, picket; L. H. Dahlkamp, trustee for three years. M. G. Rasmus, C. W. Habecker and Henry Tieman were selected as members of the entertainment committee. Arrangements are being made for a Christmas entertainment.

The following officers were elected by Edward camp, No. 3127, Modern Woodmen: Harry Kline, V. O.; Joseph Michaels, W. A.; F. L. Waff, clerk; W. J. Fels, banker; Walter Knoche, escort; Charles Fels, inside guard; Foster Keller, outside guard; William Hensel, trustee for three years; Edward Tumblesson, trustee for two years.

Home lodge, No. 342, Free and Accepted Masons, elected the following officers: A. F. Keplinger, worthy master; Judge John H. Aiken, senior warden; D. Burns Douglas, junior warden; Fred Owen, secretary; Fred Hilt, treasurer. The new officers will be installed next Tuesday evening.

NEW COMMITTEE IS HARD AT WORK

Information is Sought Regarding Graduates of Vocational Schools.

For the purpose of getting information from different parts of the country regarding ways and means to advance apprentices in the trade, Edward Miller, chairman of the newly appointed apprentice committee of the Fort Wayne Typographical union, No. 78, is sending out hundreds of letters to the typographical unions in other states. The other members of the committee are R. A. Crosby, Perse R. Ball and O. S. Humphrey.

The committee is making an effort to see that all international and local laws to protect apprentices are enforced; to see that they do not shirk on the job; to stop their exploitation by proprietors and managers who are only looking for revenue; to weed out apprentices who are incompetent, and to get an agreement with proprietors and managers that will assure that when the apprentice is out of his time that he will be a printer.

The committee is making an effort to ascertain what is done with graduates of vocational schools where printing is taught.

USED MAILS FOR SWINDLING.

Frederick Nugent, With Many Schemes, Is Sentenced to Prison.

New York, Dec. 2.—Frederick Nugent, long known to the postal authorities as the "supreme ruler" of the "Tridescent Order of Iris," head of the "occult school of science" and also as President Jean d'Astro, astrologer, and Professor Frederick, palmist, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Clarence W. Sessions, in the criminal branch of the federal district court, to serve a term of eighteen months in the United States prison at Atlanta, Ga. Nugent pleaded guilty to an indictment charging the use of the mails in the operation of a number of swindling schemes.

The prisoner had offices in this city, which were raided by postoffice inspectors on March 14 last.

BUY WHEAT FOR BELGIANS.

Immense Purchases Made in Chicago to Aid Sufferers.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Purchasing agents of the Rockefeller foundation bought 585,000 bushels of wheat in Chicago markets yesterday for relief of the starving Belgians, it was learned today. The Belgian relief association also bought 300,000 bushels.

The wheat will be shipped free of charge to eastern ports.

WAR OVERTURNS FETISH.

Boon to American Musicians, Composers and Teachers.

Philadelphia, Dec. 2.—The European war is proving a great boon to American musicians, composers and teachers, according to Dr. Hugh A. Clarke, professor of music at the University of Pennsylvania, who yesterday addressed the annual convention of the Synfonia Phi Mu Alpha fraternity. "The war has been the means of overthrowing the great European fetish which was held sacred by Americans," he said. "Formerly no American artist could appear as a soloist with an orchestra unless he could claim foreign finish. The American public is beginning to see the true worth of their artists and will hereafter furnish the support which they have so long been denied."

OLDEST ODD FELLOW DIES.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 2.—William B. Emmal, 97, said to be the oldest Odd Fellow in the world, died here last night. He joined the order in 1829.

PULL THE TEETH AND BEAUTY FADES.

It seems that in England it is a common practice to pull all the teeth in order to cure pyorrhoea, or Riggs' disease. Sir John Goodheart, the famous surgeon, has raised an earnest protest against this. He said in the Lancet: "To one not an expert it seems more reasonable to hold that so long as teeth are in their sockets, free from intense pain and serviceable for mastication, there is something to be said on the side of keeping our own rather than to take others that we know not of." Store teeth detract from health and beauty. When you find the teeth or gums are sore, painful to the touch of food or tongue, sensitive to heat or cold, loose in their sockets, brittle, get on edge easily, tender, or the gums shrink from the necks of the teeth, it is time for you to begin the work of destroying the microbes that infest the cracks or crannies of the teeth.

You can readily overcome these conditions by getting four ounces of fluid ergan from the druggist (you don't need more), and using a teaspoonful morning, noon and night, simply gargling the mouth with this for a minute or so. The microbes will be washed out, the cracks cleaned, the teeth become strong and firm in the gums, the hard foreign substances dissolved and the yellow peel off. In the morning you will again see the white of your own teeth. wed-sat to dec 12

But Paris Quickly Follows With Emphatic Denial of Defeat in the Argonne Forest.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—(Via London, 3 p. m.)—The German official statement issued today claims the capture of a strong French position in the Argonne forest by Emperor William's own regiment.

The text of the communication read:

"In the western theater of war the enemy made insignificant advances, which were checked.

"In the forest Argonne a strong point of support of the enemy was taken by the Wuerttemberg infantry regiment, No. 120, his majesty's, the kaiser's own regiment. On this occasion two officers and about 300 of the enemy's troops were made prisoners.

"There is no news from eastern Prussia.

"In northern Poland the battles are taking their normal course.

"In southern Poland the enemy's attacks were repulsed.

"The report circulated in the foreign press that 23,000 prisoners taken by us at Kutno are included in the 40,000 Russian prisoners reported by us previously, is untrue.

"In the battles at Wloclawek, Kunto, Lodz and Lowicz the eastern army has taken between the 11th of November and the 1st of December over 80,000 wounded Russian prisoners."

TELLS ANOTHER STORY.

French Version of Incident Makes It German Repulse.

Paris, Dec. 2.—2:50 p. m.)—The French war office gave out an official announcement in Paris this afternoon as follows:

"In the region to the south of Ypres and Saint Eloy, an attack of the enemy against an intrenchment taken by our troops during the day, was repulsed by us. Our artillery inflicted damage on a group of three batteries of heavy artillery of the enemy.

"At Vermelles the chanlau and the park surrounding it, two houses in the village and some trenches were brilliantly occupied by our forces.

"There has been a spirited artillery exchange in the vicinity of Fay, to the southwest of Peronne.

"In the region between Vendresse-Craonne there has been a violent bombardment to which the French artillery replied with success, accomplishing the destruction of a battery.

"In the Argonne a German attack against Fontaine Madame was repulsed and we made some progress in the occupation of a trench in the forest of Courtes Chausse and a minor fortified position near St. Hubert.

"On the heights of the Meuse, in the Woevre district, and in the Vosges there is nothing to report."

Austrians Again Victor.

Semi-official advices received today by the Havas agency from Nish contain the admission that the Austrians have won further victories in Servia. After a number of rear guard actions during the last few days, the Servian troops were forced to fall back Dec. 1 from the region around Oudjitze and Kocieritch. The retreat it is said was made in good order. Heavy fighting has occurred near Souvabor, where the Austrians concentrated large forces and succeeded in capturing two important points. The fighting along the river Kolubara is said to have been attended with some success for the Servians. In an engagement near Lazarevatz on Nov. 28, the Servians are reported to have taken positions from the enemy, capturing 27 officers and about 2,000 men.

BULLETIN.

Vienna, Dec. 2.—(Via London, 6:47 p. m.)—Austrian troops today occupied Belgrade, Servia.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Heavy fighting has been renewed in the region of the Argonne forest, toward the eastern end of the battle line in France, and although today's French and German official communications disagree as to outcome, it was apparent that the conflict is marked with considerable violence.

The German emperor's own regiment was selected to make an assault on a strong French position, which the Berlin statement says was won. The French statement, in referring to what apparently was the same engagement, says the German attack was repulsed and that progress was made by the allied troops.

In Belgium infantry fighting has been resumed, although it is not clear whether the Germans have begun another general movement. The French war office reports that German attacks on entrenchments were beaten back and that Germans suffered heavily in the artillery duel. At other points in the line fighting has become no more spirited than had been the case for some time.

According to the French statement ground has been won by the allies in certain sections, including the occupation of German trenches.

Berlin says affairs in the east are progressing to its satisfaction, although no new details of the movement are given. It is stated that in the fighting in Russian Poland between Nov. 11 and Dec. 1 eighty thousand Russians were captured unwounded.

The situation in Servia is reported at Sofia, Bulgaria, to be critical for the home army, which is seeking to check the forward movement of Austria's invading forces. The Servians have been forced to fall back behind strong natural positions and are now acting entirely on the defensive. It is reported that the Servian troops have been withdrawn from Belgrade and that communication between that city and Nish, the temporary capital, has been cut off.

PARKER APPEALS TO CARDINAL GIBBONS

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 2.—Cardinal Gibbons today received a cablegram from Sir Gilbert Parker, the distinguished English novelist at Maastricht, Holland, appealing to the cardinal to assist the American commissioner for the Belgian relief in their "staggering task."

"Here I watch penniless, homeless Belgians fleeing from their naked land," the message adds. "Many towns and cities are absolutely destroyed. Countless homes are stones and ashes. Hundreds of thousands lack food and clothes. They ask for bread and salt and no more and it is not forthcoming. The commission asks for half of a soldier's rations for each starving Belgian. In your land of plenty there are millions who would give if they knew. Will your eminence not help to make them known? In the name of Christianity and human compassion I make this appeal."

GUITERREZ TO BE DULY INSTALLED

Washington, Dec. 2.—Provisional President Gutierrez will enter Mexico City and be installed in the national palace there according to telegrams to the state department today.

Villa is at Tacuba, a suburb of Mexico City, where it is believed he conferred with Zapata. All today's reports to the state department indicate that the two chiefs are working in harmony in support of Gutierrez. Consul Carothers with Villa, today reported his arrival in Mexico City and will care for American interests with the Brazilian minister and John R. Silliman.

Latest dispatches from Tampico to the state department say Carranza forces have re-occupied Pauco which had previously been in the hands of irresponsible bandits. The reports added the Carranza garrison was maintaining order and had given guarantees to foreigners.

JOHN DAILY HAS ATTACK: APOPLEXY

John F. Daily, aged 70, was stricken with a stroke of apoplexy on East Wayne street, near the market, about 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and did not regain consciousness until after he had been taken to the St. Joseph hospital.

Mr. Daily suffered a similar attack one day last week on Lafayette street and was unconscious for fifteen minutes. The attack Wednesday afternoon was much more severe, although his condition is not regarded as critical.

Dailey, who has been rooming at 312 West Jefferson street, was for years a court bailiff and is well known. For several months he has been experiencing a dizzy feeling at times, but never lost consciousness until the attack last week. In the fall Wednesday afternoon he suffered an injury to the left side of his face.

CHICAGO GETS STAMP SUPPLY.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Receipt of a million war tax stamps and the announcement that the government had granted thirty days' grace on taxes due yesterday brought order today in the local internal revenue office. About 1,000 persons were in line when the office opened, but officials were prepared to handle their demands.

FIRST EXECUTION OCCURS.

Vera Cruz, Dec. 2.—The first execution since the Mexican troops returned here occurred yesterday. It was that of a soldier who was detected in an attempt to steal ammunition. He was tried by summary court martial and shot within an hour after his arrest.

DR. RAWLES AGAIN HEAD

Bloomington Man Chosen President of State Tax Association.

Certain to Be Flood of Tax Bills Before Next Legislature.

Indianapolis, Dec. 2.—Dr. William A. Rawles, of Indiana university, was re-elected president of the Indiana State Tax association at the annual meeting here today. Dr. Rawles was chosen the first president of the organization of the provisional meeting of the association held at Bloomington.

Fred A. Sims, who was a vice-president of the association, was made executive secretary and will have charge of the Indianapolis headquarters. His place was taken among the vice-presidents by Aaron Jones, master of the Indiana grange. Other officers who were re-elected are: Dan M. Link, state tax commissioner; John B. Stoll, South Bend; L. S. Bowman, auditor Wayne county, and John A. Lapp, legislative librarian, vice-presidents; Fred B. Johnson, Indianapolis, secretary, and W. K. Stewart, Indianapolis, treasurer.

The Subjects Today.

John B. Stoll, of South Bend, was to preside over the final meeting of the conference which was to be held this afternoon and which was to be devoted to "What is the Remedy in Indiana?"

DISCUSS AMERICAN EXPORTERS' CLAIM

Washington, Dec. 2.—Protests from American exporters—notably western beef packers—against American consignments to Europe being held up by British authorities, were discussed today at a conference between Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the British ambassador, and Councillor Lansing, of the state department. The practice of American exporters consgning goods "to order," also was discussed. In all cases of detention so far the department has lodged a formal protest in writing.

The position of the British government is that it has information that Germany is receiving large quantities of supplies consigned through neutral countries.

The state department is standing on the principle that even semi-contraband goods, when carried in neutral bottoms to neutral countries, are exempt from interference.

RAIL PROBE TOPICS COVER WIDE RANGE

Vary from Engineer's Pay to Monkey Wrenches and Grease Cups.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Subjects varying from the pay under the proposed scale of an engineer on an express silk train to monkey wrenches and grease cups were touched upon at today's session of the arbitration board hearing requests of the engineers and the ninety-eight western roads employing them. Sixty-four thousand men are affected, according to a statement given to correct the prevailing impression that only 55,000 are involved. The silk train problem was elicited in the course of the cross examination of M. W. Cadle by James Sheean, counsel for the railroads. The pay of freight enginemen is at a higher rate per mile than that of men on passenger engines, as their progress is much slower. Though freight pay is demanded for various classifications of enginemen and for "classified service," such, for instance, as handling circus trains and snow plows. Mr. Sheean developed that silk trains are in the unclassified service and that they are run on passenger schedules.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, discussing the "surprise test" of enginemen, which the men want eliminated, stated that there was a law in Kansas against the test, "but it is disregarded," he added.

"I will say to that," replied Stone, "that in my twenty-five years as a railroad man, I never knew an emergency where the crew did not break every rule in the calendar when necessary."

SHOW MARKED DECREASE.

Custom and Internal Revenue Receipts Below Last Year.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Custom and internal revenue receipts for November showed a marked decrease from the same month last year. Customs receipts were $16,924,408, compared with $21,173,628 for November, 1913, while internal revenue receipts at $24,159,963 were nearly $5,000,000 less than in the same month last year. For the month the excess of ordinary disbursements over receipts was $15,880,863, compared with an excess of the same sort last year of $2,713,732.

FOUR FROZEN TO DEATH.

Canadians Perish When Canoe is Crushed in Ice.

Quebec, Dec. 2.—Four men were frozen to death in the waters of the Lake Septite when their canoe was crushed between heavy cakes of ice, according to information that reached here today. The men were Lawrence Page, a paper and pulp contractor, his guide and helpers. They were last heard of on Nov. 17, when they started for the remote region above Three Rivers. A relief party has found the ice battered canoe. The bodies have not been recovered.

QUIT? MOST SURELY NOT

Progressive Leaders Still Full of Fight at Chicago.

THEY RIDICULE TALK OF MERGER

Likewise Call Disbandment Rumor a Mere Idle Fancy.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—There was no outward hint of lack of enthusiasm for the progressive party manifested today by leaders from thirty-two states who met in conference with the members of the executive committee of the organization.

Reports that disbandment of the party was a possibility were characterized as idle fancies and that there was likelihood of amalgamation of the progressives with either the republican or democratic party was equally ridiculed.

George W. Perkins, of New York, chairman of the executive committee, presided at the conference, which first listened to chairmen who told of political conditions. After these talks it was the intention of the committee to go into session and take what action was thought necessary.

What Davis Says.

Speaking for the executive committee, O. K. Davis answered a question concerning the possibility of a message from Col. Roosevelt by saying: "Col. Roosevelt never has been a member of the executive committee; he never has been asked to attend a meeting of the committee; he never has sent a message to the committee and he is not expected to send one now."

The following members of the executive body were present when the conference began: George W. Perkins, of New York; Wm. Flynn, of Pennsylvania; Walter F. Brown, Ohio, and Jane Addams and Medill McCormick, Illinois.

Among the more prominent leaders in attendance were E. A. Van Valkenburg, Philadelphia; Senator Moses E. Clapp, Minnesota; Gifford Pinchot, Pennsylvania; Raymond Robins, Chicago; Chas E. Burbank, Massachusetts; Wm. Allen White, Emporia, Kansas; Victor Murdock, Kansas, and James R. Garfield, Ohio. Three women, among them Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, accompanied their husbands and were admitted to the conference. As the various reports from the states represented were made there were repeated bursts of applause.

100,000 MILES IN PLEASURE JAUNTS

Fort Wayne Couple Starts on Journey South for Winter Months.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wessel, sr., left at noon Wednesday for Jacksonville, Fla., and their departure for a winter in the south probably marks them as Fort Wayne's record travelers, as they have covered more than 100,000 miles on pleasure jaunts.

Aside from several trips as mate on ocean liners, Mr. Wessel has crossed the Atlantic seventeen times on pleasure bent. He has spent six winters in California and is entering upon his seventh in Florida, and his good wife has accompanied him most of the time, being left behind only on one or two of the ocean voyages.

"Grandpa, shall I attend to your tickets for you?" asked John Wessel, jr., manager of the Fort Wayne municipal electric plant on Wednesday morning.

"Certainly not," was the rather testy reply. "I've been buying my own tickets for thirty years and I guess I can do it again."

The weight of eighty-nine years does not weigh heavily on Mr. Wessel, as he is able to arrange for all his tickets, sleeping car reservations and all of the details of travel. His wife is eleven years his junior.

The ocean trips on the Atlantic alone covered 51,901 miles on water. Then the travel in European countries is to be added to say nothing of one to South America and the journeys made in this country.

Mr. Wessel embarked in the grocery business at Lafayette and Wallace streets a great many years ago and retired with a goodly competence in 1880, and since that time he has spent, with his wife, a great part of his time in travel.

Both seemed very cheerful upon their departure from home and there was about them that air of confidence born of extensive travel.

PRESIDENT GRFETS OHIO'S CORN BOYS

Washington, Dec. 2.—President Wilson today shook hands with 1,500 members of "corn boys' clubs," who were sent to Washington as a reward for winning agricultural contests in Ohio.

The boys brought a cage full of white doves to the president in honor of his efforts in behalf of peace. Mr. Wilson addressed them briefly. "I am very glad to know of the really productive work which you are doing," said he. "It is a very fine thing to serve the country in so practical a fashion and I earnestly hope that you will have the greatest prosperity in everything you undertake."

BRYAN CALLS MR. SCHWAB IN

STEEL KING GIVEN GOVERNMENT VIEW

Is Told That There Must Be No Violation of American Neutrality.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Secretary Bryan today invited Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel company, to the state department and gave him the views of the American government on the building of submarines in this country for European belligerents.

Mr. Bryan declined to disclose what was the position of the American government. He declared the question was not yet concluded but "under consideration." Mr. Schwab, accompanied by two assistants, all refused to discuss their mission.

"Mr. Schwab came," said Mr. Bryan, "in response to our inquiry concerning the manufacture in this country of ships or materials for shipbuilding."

Reports in Circulation.

Recent reports that the Bethlehem Steel company had contracts to build submarines which would be shipped abroad in sections have been variously denied and partially confirmed. The visit of Mr. Schwab, however, revealed that the department had taken over cognizance of the subject, although Secretary Bryan announced yesterday that government officials after a thorough investigation had been unable to learn that any work was being done on foreign warships or part thereof.

It was believed, however, that the state department desired to consult with the steel company officials so there would be no violations of neutrality if contracts were taken. While the export of munitions of war such as guns, shells or ammunition is not prohibited by the neutrality laws, the fitting out of warships or armed expedition from American soil would be considered a violation.

Not Yet Ready for Peace.

Henry White, former ambassador to France and who recently returned from Germany, discussed the European situation today with President Wilson. "Europe is not yet ready for peace," said Mr. White. "There is not the slightest chance at present of getting a hearing for suggestions of peace. That time will come later and then it will be time for the United States to act."

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

MOVEMENT ON FOOT TO REMODEL TEMPLE

Old Theater May Pass Out When Present Lease Expires.

The four Masonic blue lodges in Fort Wayne, together with the York Rite bodies of Masonry may take over complete occupancy of the Masonic Temple property when present leases on the theater expire, nearly a year hence, and devote the building entirely to Masonic purposes.

The movement has not yet taken definite shape, but it is known to be under serious consideration, and it involves also legal action to clarify the title to the property from the outgrowth of complications which developed in the early history of the building. The change, if it is brought to consummation, will eventually mean the passing of the oldest theater in the city.

It is said the Masonic organizations are in splendid financial shape to finance the proposed change, and that they badly need the enlarged quarters the new arrangement would bring.

ARRANGEMENTS ALL MADE.

Will Rush Through American Gifts to Germany and Austria.

Genoa, Via Rome, Dec. 2.—The American consul general, Dr. John Edward Jones, has made all arrangements with the proper authorities for the free and speedy transportation by rail of the American Christmas gifts to the orphans of Austria and Germany.

MACKENZEN ESCAPES THE FATE OF BAZAIN

Adroit German Commander Saves His Army Once Completely Encircled by Its Russian Foes.

London, Dec. 2.—(11:45 a. m.)—Russian Poland is still the center of interest in the war situation so far as military operations are concerned.

Reports from the rival headquarters indicate that any decisive results on either side is still in the balance, although on the face of the known facts the conviction is growing that the German general, Mackenzen, has done at Lods what Bazaine in the Franco-Prussian war failed to do at Metz—he has saved his army after it was encircled by the enemy.

But it is equally clear that the German tactical plan for the taking of Warsaw again has failed, according to the prevailing opinion in England. Whether a counter invasion of Silesia has been rendered impossible for the present remains to be seen.

Little activity along the Austrian front is reported. An exception is the assertion from Vienna of an Austrian victory with the capture of quantities of prisoners and munitions of war along the southern line, but there is nothing to indicate that Russia has given way in her evident intention of invading the rich German provinces by way of Cracow. Later official reports from Vienna declared that calm prevailed on the Cracow front but that the fighting continued in the Carpathians.

Servian Eyes Hopeful

Servian eyes are turned hopefully in the direction of those mountains in the expectation soon of seeing a Russian force under the walls of Budapest. This would relieve the pressure being exerted against Servia by half a million Austrian troops who have forced the Servians back into strong defensive positions within their own borders.

Army headquarters in Berlin reports a desperate three days' battle in Poland, accompanied by a successful effort on the part of Germans to break through the Russian ring. The German report admits heavy losses, but says there is the consolation of having inflicted severe punishment on the enemy.

Still Critical Points.

According to dispatches reaching here from Petrograd, Lowicz and Lodz still are critical points in the fighting in northern Poland where the final decision, when it does come, bids fair to be the most momentous of the whole war. Petrograd puts special emphasis on the capture of German ammunition barges on the Vistula river, near Plock, as indicating the cutting off of a convenient means of communication with the German armies in Poland.

In the political field today's meeting of the German reichstag is attracting much attention. Many members of the reichstag, a large number of them in uniform, already have gathered in Berlin in anticipation of this important session, which, it is expected, will provide a new war loan.

Quiet prevails along the western front, but alarming news has been received in the form of a report of a serious epidemic of typhoid fever in the Belgian army.

BELATED WAR TAX RETURNS COME IN

Total of $300 Collected Tuesday as Delinquency Penalty.

Three hundred dollars were collected at the Fort Wayne office of the internal revenue collector Tuesday from persons who were penalized for not paying their war tax in the time specified by law.

Deputies Thomas McLaughlin and E. B. Thumma are up against another proposition and one which will have to be settled by authorities higher up. Hundreds of money orders were received at the local office Tuesday, which, however, were sent out on Monday. To follow the strict letter of the law these persons are all delinquents and are subject to the additional charge, even though they sent their money orders Monday. Authorities on the subject declare that inasmuch as there was no intent to violate the law these persons cannot be penalized.

No stamps were received at the local office Wednesday and there is no telling when there will be. Deputy Thumma has received the following instructions from District Collector Kruyer, which will help the local situation wonderfully: "If unable to supply demand for documentary stamps for bills of lading, permit shipments to go forward; have record kept thereof, and affix or cancel stamps when received; notify railroads."

Few Pointers.

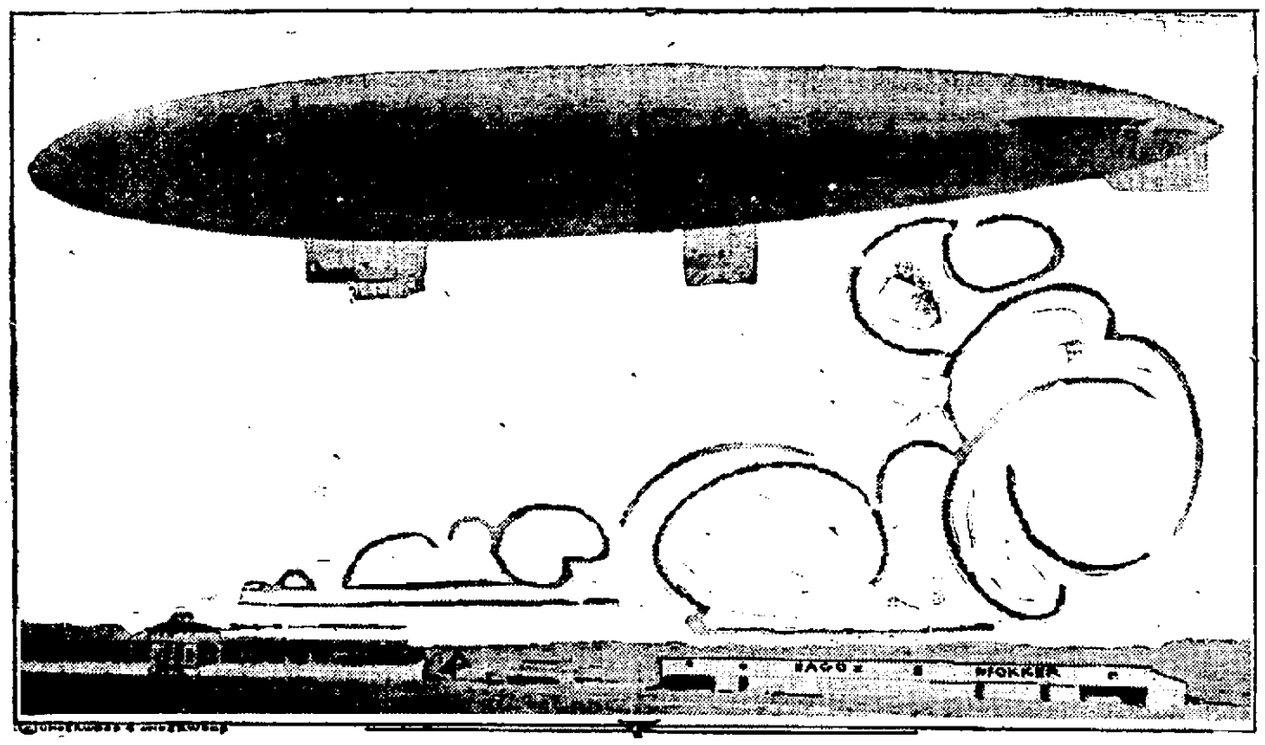
Documentary revenue stamps issued prior to October 22, 1914, under former revenue laws, cannot be used for the payment of taxes required by existing law, and the redemption or exchange of such old stamps is prohibited by statute. Ordinary postage stamps cannot be used for the payment of any internal revenue taxes.

As adhesive stamps may be sold by any person and readily pass at their face value in the market, provision has not been made for their exchange or redemption by the government. Where, however, such stamps are rendered useless by gumming or sticking together in transit or otherwise without the fault of the purchaser, they may be exchanged by a collector for other stamps of exactly the same quality and denomination.

Documentary and proprietary stamps cannot be used interchangeably. Documentary stamps only must be used upon papers, documents and instruments subject to tax.

Where a stamp of the proper denomination to pay the tax due on an article or document cannot be procured, two or more stamps may be used. In such case as few stamps as possible should be attached and each stamp used should be canceled in the manner provided by regulation.

WILL ZEPPELIN CARRY TERROR TO LONDON'S MILLIONS?



A GERMAN WAR ZEPPELIN RETURNING TO ITS BASE AT JOHANNISTHAL, GERMANY.

Life Convict in New York Prison Makes Tender to Science.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 2.—In a letter to Thomas Mott Osborne, who became warden of Sing Sing prison yesterday, a life prisoner in the prison at Auburn, N. Y., offers himself as a sacrifice for inoculation with cancer germs to ascertain whether the disease is contagious. The new warden of Sing Sing prison, whose home is in Auburn and who was closely associated with reforms in Auburn prison, stated that he knows the prisoner well and vouched fully for his sincerity.

"He is a man of better than the average education, of refinement and had a family of great esteem," Warden Osborne explained last night. "He erred and was sent to Auburn for life. In prison he has read much on medical matters and has been intensely interested in cancer research. His hope also is that his sacrifice will benefit the many sufferers from cancer.

Warden Osborne said that he would take up the case with the new attorney general, Egbert W. Woodbury. It also became known that this man offered himself for the same purpose a year ago, but Attorney General Carmody ruled that the state of New York could not allow it.

Autos now carry mail between Salonica and interior towns.

HEAVY FOG HAMPERS NEW YORK BUSINESS

New York, Dec. 2.—A fleet of fifteen ocean liners at anchor in a heavy sea today at the entrance to New York harbor, fog bound in the thickest mist that has mantled this section of the western seacoast for fifteen years.

A half million commuters that come daily from New Jersey, Long Island and nearby New York state points were delayed from half an hour to an hour and a half. Trains crawled slowly past almost hidden semaphores. Ferryboats plying to New Jersey and Brooklyn crept through a cloak of mist so dense that one could not see a boat's length ahead. Hardly half the ferries were operated.

The local weather bureau said the fog extended over a wider area of country than was ever covered by a single fog before and placed its western boundary at the Mississippi river. Officials pronounced it the heaviest fog of the 20th century.

NO CATTLE AT PITTSBURG.

Market Unable to Operate Despite Lifting of Quarantine.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 2.—Although the foot and mouth disease quarantine against the Herr's Island stock yards was lifted last week and the yards declared open for the receipts of cattle from free territory, there is no cattle market here. Receipts have been too light to permit of quotations, there being no cattle whatever in the yards today. Brokers said they expected little improvement until the quarantine against Indiana and Ohio is lifted.

DRIVEN FROM HOMES BY WIND AND RAIN

Houston, Tex., Dec. 2.—One person was killed and several injured and dozens driven from their homes by a terrific wind and rain storm here early today. Six inches of rain fell. Street car and train service was demoralized. A number of bridges were washed away and houses in low-lying sections were flooded.

E. E. Dasbit, an employe of a gas company, was killed by lightning which damaged a number of buildings. Information here is that the downpour was general over the coast section of Texas.

The United States produced in 1913 about five thousand one hundred tons of hemp.

3,000 ENTRIES IN SCHOOL ATHLETICS

Elementary Contests Biggest Event of Kind Ever in New York.

New York, Dec. 2.—The indoor championship games of the city elementary schools to be held by the public school athletic league at Madison Square Garden Saturday afternoon, Dec. 19, will be the biggest athletic event of its kind ever held in New York.

There will be about 3,000 entries and 10,000 invited guests, including school children, school officials, athletic leaders and city officials. The games will commence with an Olympic parade, to be reviewed by Mayor Mitchel and General George W. Wingate, president of the league. To those finishing first, second and third respectively, in each event, gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded and an all around championship trophy will be awarded in each borough to the school scoring the greatest number of points for that borough. An all around championship trophy for the city will be awarded to the school scoring the largest number of points in the meet.

BUSINESS IS BETTER.

Letter on Trade Conditions Sent Out by Old National Bank.

Business conditions have greatly improved according to the monthly letter sent out by the Old National bank. The letter says that within a fortnight enough mills have resumed or increased their working forces to re-employ 25 per cent. of the idle and it is estimated that not more than 25 per cent. of the labor usually employed in the heavy manufacturing lines is idle at this time. While commercially the great change in sentiment has not been greatly felt the change has been distinctly felt in financial circles. The letter says that one by one the trade barriers are being removed and things are righting themselves rapidly.

STRAUS ISSUES A DENIAL.

Did Not Quit Japan Society on Account of German Sympathy.

New York, Dec. 2.—Oscar S. Straus, a member of The Hague tribunal and former secretary of commerce and labor in the cabinet of President Roosevelt, today denied the report that he had just resigned from the Japan society because he sympathized with Germany with whom Japan is at war.

"This statement is utterly false," said Mr. Straus. "I resigned from the Japan society a month ago as I did from a number of organizations. I did so because I wanted to cut off all unnecessary expense, and devote the money thus saved to the relief of those who suffered as the result of the war."

VALUE OF THE X-RAY.

Dr. C. C. Grandy read an interesting paper Tuesday evening at the regular weekly meeting of the Fort Wayne Medical society in the assembly room of the court house on "The Diagnostic Value of the X-ray in Obscure Abdominal Lesions." After he had finished the subject was discussed at length by other physicians in attendance.

ALLAYS ALL FEAR OF PROSECUTIONS

Revenue Department Taking War Stamp Shortage Into Account.

Washington, Dec. 2.—International revenue collectors throughout the country had notice today from the internal revenue bureau here that the government does not intend to prosecute any one subject to the war revenue law who shows a willingness and readiness to buy the new tax stamps.

The notice was sent to allay fears on the part of thousands of persons all over the country who yesterday besieged the internal revenue offices in attempts to obtain revenue stamps to comply with the law and who because of their inability to do so became frightened over what might happen in the event they were not on the minute with their stamps.

There was no need for such fears and this was made clear in a telegram which Commissioner Osborn, of the internal revenue bureau sent to all collectors. The telegram was in response to frantic calls from collectors who told of crowds rushing their offices demanding stamps and it was hoped by officials today that the notice would relieve a situation which gave indications of causing embarrassment to thousands of persons and which also might have resulted in considerable confusion to railroads and shippers.

The telegram is as follows: "Date all special tax returns November 30th until you are able to handle applications promptly, unless you have information that no effort was made to file same prior to that date. If unable to supply demands for documentary stamps for bills of lading, permit shipment to go forward, have record kept and affix or cancel stamp when received. Notify railroads."

Officials of the internal revenue bureau here explain that while everything possible had been done to get ready to enforce the law they have been hampered in their work because of the failure of congress to appropriate additional money for that purpose.

ATLANTA CLUBMAN SLAIN.

James P. Callaway Victim of Pistol Fired by W. B. Carhart.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 2.—James P. Callaway, a prominent young business and club man, was shot and instantly killed here early today by W. B. Carhart, president of a shoe manufacturing company. The killing occurred in Carhart's apartment in the fashionable residence section of the city. Carhart immediately notified the police and surrendered.

MORGAN PARTNER DIES.

New York, Dec. 2.—Temple Bowdoin, 51, a partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., one of the two board members of the firm, died here today. He underwent yesterday an operation for intestinal disorder.

Mr. Bowdoin succeeded his father as a partner in the Morgan firm upon his father's death about a year ago.

MINISTER VAN DYKE TALKS WITH WILSON

Brings First Hand News of War Conditions in Europe.

Washington, Dec. 2.—Conditions in Europe, as viewed by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, American minister to the Netherlands, were up for discussion at a conference at the white house today between President Wilson and the minister. Dr. Van Dyke had been invited to be the luncheon guest of the president.

Fresh from observation of conditions generally in Europe, Dr. Van Dyke was ready to give President Wilson first-hand information. The minister already had discussed the subject with Secretary Bryan. While denying the report that he was the bearer of a personal letter from Queen Wilhelmina relative to peace, Dr. Van Dyke told the secretary that the queen and the people of Holland earnestly desire an early return to peace among the warring European nations. That the present does not appear to be a propitious moment to advance definite proposals for terms of peace, however, was made clear by the minister following his conference with Mr. Bryan. "The desire of the United States for peace," he declared, "is a well known fact. The decision as to the proper moment for us to act is in the hands of my chiefs. The president and the secretary of state can be trusted to determine when that moment arrives."

COMPROMISE IN PROSPECT.

New Effort to Settle Prolonged Ohio Coal Strike.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 2.—Efforts to settle the strike of 15,000 eastern Ohio coal miners which was begun eight months ago were to be made here today at a conference between representatives of the miners and operators. The miners' representatives are said to be prepared to demand 47 cents a ton on the "run of mine" basis while the operators are expected to offer 44 cents a ton. Prospects of a compromise, however, are said to be bright.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

Kills Animal Almost Instantly and Then Attacks James Listenfelt, the Owner.

Hartford City, Ind., Dec. 2.—James Listenfelt, aged about 40, foreman of the Lupton farm, east of the city, had a narrow escape from serious injuries yesterday afternoon, when a large bull, suddenly developing a fit of frenzy, attacked a valuable mare.

The furious charge of the heavy bull caused the horse almost instantaneous death. Eleven other bulls in the same field were kept under control by keeping them from the scene.

Listenfelt had just brought a load of fodder into the field. Seeing the bull was about to charge one of the horses he was driving, the foreman seized a standard from the wagon and faced the onslaught of the infuriated animal. Listenfelt struck the animal, but was himself knocked down, alighting under the horses. Grabbing the tongue of the wagon, he worked his way out between the two horses.

Meanwhile the bull had killed the horse. Frank Widdup, another employe of the Lupton farm, hearing the disturbance, came to Listenfelt's assistance with a pitchfork and drove the animal away. The beast was killed Tuesday afternoon at one of the slaughter houses.

The animal had heretofore been very gentle and it was because of this that the attack came so unexpectedly. Listenfelt's escape from serious injuries seems very remarkable, for, when he was thrown under the horses, he was in grave danger of being stepped on. The man's side and one arm were slightly injured.

COUNTY OFFICIAL INDICTED.

Grand Jury at Van Wert Returns Bill Against Surveyor Simon.

Van Wert, O., Dec. 2.—As the culmination of the many charges and countercharges which have been flying about the county for the past year or more, as to the conduct of affairs in the office of County Surveyor Carl Simon, the grand jury, after an investigation lasting three days, yesterday afternoon returned an indictment against that gentleman, charging him with having falsely and fraudulently issued a voucher for a warrant upon the county treasury, an offense against the laws of the state, punishable by imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary for from one to ten years.

As soon as the indictment had been returned against Mr. Simon and the warrant for his arrest issued, Deputy Sheriff Wilson served the document. Mr. Simon, however, had evidently felt that he was about to be charged with a serious offense and had already engaged Mr. H. L. Conn as his attorney, and secured a bondsman, Mr. B. R. Leeson, furnishing bond in the sum of $500 for Mr. Simon's appearance in court from day to day.

SUIT IS COMPROMISED.

Columbia City, Ind., Dec. 2.—The case of Andrew Jackson Lippincott, of Washington township, against Martin Luecke, a wealthy and prominent farmer of the same township, in which a demand for damages in the sum of $5,000 was made, and which was docketed for trial today, has been closed up. Luecke agreed to pay Lippincott the sum of $500 and defray the costs in the case. The case grew out of an escapade at a wet and dry election held in Washington township a year ago last March. Lippincott was serving as a sheriff for the drys, and as Luecke went into the booth to vote he pushed Lippincott off a chair on which he was sitting, and in coming out repeated the performance. Lippincott was injured in the fall and brought suit against his assailant for damages.

VICTIM OF ACID THROWERS.

Wabash, Ind., Dec. 2.—Floyd Circle, aged 19, residing at the corner of Washington and Walnut streets, in this city, was the victim of a carbolic acid throwing plot shortly before 6 o'clock when he was unexpectedly accosted by two men while walking east on Walnut street, and the liquid thrown upon his face and clothes. Circle was walking to his home at the time, and according to a statement made by him today, believes he was taken for some one else, as he has no enemies who would attempt such an act. His raincoat was ruined and one side of his face blistered by the acid.

KILLED ON THE TRACK.

Kendallville, Ind., Dec. 2.—Frank Burby, aged 58 years, who for the last three months had been making his home with Elmer Apple, farmer residing near Allen Chapel, was struck and killed by a Grand Rapids and Indiana train south of the city, near the Main street crossing. The body was taken to the Berhalter morgue where it remained several hours before identified. No papers or letters were found on his person, a fifty-cent piece being the only object in his pockets. Just how Burby was killed is a matter of conjecture. Nothing is known concerning the man, who came here a stranger.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Thickness and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur receipt at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy,

CLOSE NORTH WEBSTER SCHOOLS.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 2.—The schools of North Webster were closed today on order of County Health Officer Dr. C. W. Burket, several cases of diphtheria having been discovered in that locality. The homes of Paul Popenfoose and Harley Miller are under quarantine and the exposure may result in a number of more cases being put under quarantine. None of the cases is at present in a dangerous stage, but the health officers thought it better to close the schools for a short time until all danger of an epidemic is passed.

AT 85 HE ASKS DIVORCE.

Wabash, Ind., Dec. 2.—After only ten months of married life, George W. Porter, eighty-five, has filed suit for divorce against Alice Porter. They lived together only sixty days, when, the plaintiff declares, he found he could no longer endure the yoke of matrimony and they separated.

TO HAVE A NEW PASTOR.

Auburn, Ind., Dec. 2.—An almost unanimous call was extended to Joseph M. Harrington, of Indianapolis, at the conclusion of a special service at the Christian church. Mr. Harrington preached at the church Sunday morning and evening and also on Monday evening. The new pastor has been engaged in evangelistic work for some time and for eight years has been on the lecture platform. For the past several months Mr. Harrington has been taking a special course in theological work at Butler college. The new pastor will commence his work at once.

ROBBERY STORY WAS PURE FAKE.

Hartford City, Ind., Dec. 2.—Jacob Webb, twenty-two, of Franklin, Ind., weakened when given a grilling in the sheriff's office here and made a full confession that the story he told of having been held up by two men under the Pennsylvania railroad viaduct and at the point of a revolver robbed of $22 was false. Webb admitted that he had concocted and told the story to gain sympathy. "I've got a wife and baby in Franklin and have no money. I hoped to get funds by my story," said Webb. He caused much excitement and had the whole police force working on the scene of the supposed robbery.

SCHOOL HEADS TO MEET.

Goshen, Ind., Dec. 2.—About fifteen superintendents of schools of various northern Indiana towns and cities are expected in Goshen next Friday and Saturday. They are coming here for the primary purpose of visiting and inspecting the local system. Incidentally efforts will be made to form an organization to be known as the Northern Indiana Superintendents' association. Superintendent Mendenhall, of Goshen, is largely instrumental in the effort to form this organization, he having invited school authorities to Goshen for that purpose.

QUARANTINE IS LIFTED.

Kendallville, Ind., Dec. 2.—The diphtheria quarantine was lifted in the city at noon yesterday in so far as adults are concerned. It was raised on children today, except in those families where the disease still prevails. Churches, theaters, lodges, clubs, societies, poolrooms and other such places are again open to the public after being closed for eight days. Only adults shall be admitted for the present, however.

DECATUR PAIR RUN OFF TO WED.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 2.—Darus Statler, twenty-one, and Miss Catherine Roop, eighteen, both of Decatur, Ind., came here and procured a marriage license and were united in wedlock in the office of the county clerk. Rev. Isaiah Wilson performed the ceremony. The bridegroom is a prosperous Hoosier farmer.

PARLOR MAGIC EXPLAINED BY THURSTON, THE MAGICIAN

READ NUMBER ON DOLLAR NOTE.

Ask anyone to take a dollar note and observe whether the number on the face of the bill is odd or even, and then lay it face up on the table, covering each of the numbers which appear on the right and left of the bill, with the right and left thumbs. The performer now touches the person's forehead, and instantly tells whether the number is odd or even.

The secret: Every dollar is plainly marked in the upper left and lower right-hand corners with one of the four letters, A, B, C, D. If A or C, the number on note ends with an odd figure; while if B or D, it is an even figure.

While the thumbs are covering the numbers you can plainly see the letter, and will therefore know whether the number is odd or even.

COIN IN MATCH BOX.

A small safety match box is shown to be empty, then closed, and, upon opening, a quarter is found therein.

The outside, or cover, of the match-box is held by its top between the first finger and thumb. The quarter is concealed on the underside of the top and held by the first finger.

Then insert the sliding, or inside portion of the match box in its proper place, when the quarter will become wedged between the sliding portion and the top.

Now place the whole of the box upon the table, and you can show your hands to be unmistakeably empty. Pick up the box, close it quickly, and, when opened, the quarter is seen therein.

CIGAR AND CIGAR HOLDER.

How to place a cigar in a paper cigar holder, and upon tearing the cigar holder in half, the cigar is found to have vanished. Hold the paper holder near its opening, between the first finger and thumb. Under the pretense of sliding the cigar into the holder with the right hand, it is simply pushed back of the right hand, where it is held and secreted. The holder is then torn in half, cigar has vanished and can be produced from the nose.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Revelation 1:9-20.

9 I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,

11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches, which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks;

13 And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire;

15 And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seven stars; and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last;

18 I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter;

20 The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

Happy Ever Afterward

The record of a recent romance is chronologued thusly:

Went to the play at 8:15 p. m.; saw her at 8:20; gazed soulfully till the curtain fell at 11 p. m.; dreamed of her all night. Next day, found a friend who knew her; was introduced; took her to dinner; met again after the play; proposed; married next morning.

Why that giggle? He had the price. Besides, how do you know they won't be happy? Or, putting the question the other way round, how do you know that, had he courted her in the conventional, slow-as-molasses way, there's have been any greater certainty of happiness ever afterward?

Marriage, anyhow, is a series of adjustments. Unless it develops a spirit of give and take, of mutual sacrifice and forbearance, it's bound to end in a smash-up, no matter how long the courtship.

There was happiness in marriage even in cave days, when wooing was done with a club.

It's not the "before," but the "after" that counts.

President Wilson's opposition to Representative Gardner's proposed congressiinal investigation into the preparedness of the United States for war at this time will be generally commended by those who realize the possible danger of a threshing over of the subject at this juncture of affairs. Indeed, Mr. Gardner's launching of the movement in a speech in which he manifested hostility toward Germany supplies a definite example of just what the American people should desire to prevent. It is well to take careful note of the military lessons taught by the present war, but this is assuredly not the time to invite discussion that might embarass the United States in its announced purpose of absolute neutrality.

Speakers at the Indiana state tax conference are calling attention to one patent fact that most of us seem to have overlooked, to-wit, that the advance in taxes over which so much complaint is made is largely due to the public demand for larger governmental undertakings. We have been insisting that federal, state, county and city governments broaden their work, undertake more things for public benefit and contribute more largely to public comfort and public sightliness. All of them cost money. Taxes might be lowered if we were content to require less, but we do not believe public sentiment today would countenance a backward step in its governmental affairs any more than it is willing to revert to older methods in its way of living.

The two county jail prisoners who took leg bail and made their escape in safety while engaged in public work along the river banks at least made it clear that the grave state of health which made it impossible for them to work on the first day the new plan of working prisoners was tried did not involve their sprinting equipment. Their action, however, in indulging in flight in this summary fashion has probably placed them in contempt of that famous kangaroo court maintained by their erstwhile companions in the lockup.

Bloomingdale citizens have launched another movement to secure improved street railway service, and a study of the extensive area in that section of the city that is now remote from the street cars will make it quickly evident that they should have it. The project has been broached a number of times previously in one form or another without the attainment of the improvement, but the north side understands that the way to get anything it wants is to keep hammering away long enough. More power to 'em.

The request of the authorities of the Indiana school for feeble-minded youth for but $24,000 with which to tide it over in the matter of improvements for the coming two years is so modest that the legislature will scarcely have the heart to question it for a moment. It is a gratifying step toward rigid economy that may well be emulated by other state institutions.

THE FARMER AND THE WAR.

(Indianapolis News.)

A report lately issued by the government bureau of statistics shows that the northern farmer is getting his full share of increased export business, which this country is at present carrying on. Wheat exports for October, for instance, exceeded the total for October, 1913, by about twelve million bushels, but the September shipments this year were larger than the October by about seven million bushels. This is due in part to reduced facilities for shipping a condition which will probably not prevail long. In contrast to the increased volume of exported wheat, the cotton exportations fell off more than a million bales from last year's total for October, but the planter is being relieved by the cotton pool from which he will be able to borrow money on his unmarketed crop.

Reports from Europe that cotton seed oil is being utilized extensively for food are confirmed by the increased demand for export purposes. In October, 1913, 12,000,000 pounds were exported, while during the corresponding month this year the total was about 16,500,000 pounds. This demand serves to alleviate the troubles of the southern planter. Corn shipments were also very much larger than in October, 1914, the figures being 342,809 bushels last year, as against 1,951,614 bushels this year, which is by no means a record for the month, but which is good, considering the unprecedented demand for wheat, and the fact that the corn crop is, as yet, not moving freely. Wheat exportations, on the other hand, far exceed those of the corresponding month in many years.

A rough idea of the demand which the war has created for commodities which the belligerent nations have heretofore supplied themselves may be got from the fact that in October, 1913, this country sent abroad breadstuffs to the value of $13,321,891, while this year the October shipments amounted to $88,247,570. Thus the government figures bear out the prediction that before long the armies of some of the warring nations would be going into battle on food from mid-western farms. And as the war proceeds this dependence on the United States will probably become more evident, and extend eventually in many unforeseen directions, and the farmer will very likely find himself the beneficiary in every case.

PRESS COMMENT ON LEO FRANK'S CASE.

"Dubious Evidence."

Philadelphia Press: "Leo Frank, of Atlanta, Ga., was convicted of murder on extremely dubious evidence. He was tried amid most hostile surroundings."

"The Jury."

"No Trial at All."

Boston Transcript: "A trial that is conducted in the face of mob menace is no trial at all, and whatever the guilt or innocence of the prisoner he was entitled to all the protection that the law provides for those who are charged with the law's violation."

"Larger Question."

"South Has Suffered."

New York Mail: "The South has suffered enough from the charge, often ill founded, sometimes well established, that it denies fair trial to negroes. Can it afford to rest under the imputation that the same is true with regard to its attitude to the Jews?"

"Governor Slaton."

New York Post: "It is to be hoped that Governor Slaton will subject the case to a searching examination, and will allow nothing to interfere with his taking such action as may then recommend itself to his conscience."

"Second Trials."

New York Globe: "It is amazing, in a land where many second trials are granted on slender grounds, that the courts of Georgia have stubbornly refused a second trial in a case where all the circumstances seemed to require it."

Sick Two Years With Indigestion.

"Two years ago I was greatly benefited through using two or three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. S. A. Keller, Elida, Ohio. "Before taking them I was sick for two years with indigestion." Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

TWELVE CLEAR DAYS.

Weather Forecaster Makes Report for the Month of November.

There were only twelve clear days during the month of November, according to the monthly summary of Weather Observer W. S. Palmer. The rainfall amounted to a total of .75 inches, which is the lightest ever recorded in Fort Wayne with the exception of 1904, when .19 was the lightest. The total rainfall in November of last year was 2.14. The mean temperature in November was 41.4 and the highest temperature 70 on the seventh. There were six partly cloudy days and twelve cloudy days. The total snowfall was four-hundredths of an inch.

BETTER SERVICE WANTED.

Residents of Bloomingdale Are Circulating Petitions.

Petitions are being circulated by residents residing in Bloomingdale asking for better street car service for that part of the city. The petitions ask that a car line be established on Second street to form a loop either with the Huffman car line or the West Main street line. Ten petitions are being circulated and there is no trouble in getting plenty of signers.

John and Perry C. Archer, brothers, and their uncle, Andrew Archer, have purchased the City Trucking company from E. H. McDonald. The business will be conducted from the same barn on North Clinton street.

DOCTORS REFUSE TO TREAT PATIENTS

Many Sick People Beyond Relief Are Refused Treatment by Great Specialists.

No Incurable Cases Are Accepted, Only Cases Which They Can Benefit.

Yesterday was another busy day for the Inter-State Doctors, who now have their Fort Wayne institute permanently established on the second floor at 205 West Berry street.

All day long the waiting rooms were crowded with patients eagerly waiting their turn for consultation with these great specialists. A number of cases were accepted for treatment, but many were refused treatment, as it is the invariable rule of the Inter-State Doctors not to accept any case for treatment unless they are sure it can be benefited. These specialists want the reputation of relieving every case they treat, so they are careful in selecting their patients.

John L. Burroughs, of Kendallville, was among those in the waiting rooms. Mr. Burroughs said: "I brought my wife to these specialists because I have heard so much of their work in other cities. My brother lives near Girard, O., and he was cured by the Inter-State Doctors in their Youngstown institute, after four good doctors had given him up to die of Bright's disease."

All who call on the Inter-State Doctors before December 15 are treated free, be they rich or poor. This free offer, except as to charge for medicine is made to secure a large number of patients quickly to show the public what this wonderful treatment will do for sick people, even after all others have failed.

The diseases treated by the Inter-State Doctors are diseases of the nerves, blood, skin, stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels, including rheumatism and gall stones, weak nerves, heartburn, epilepsy, catarrh, goitre, appendicitis, asthma, eczema, scrofula, diseases of men and diseases of women. Adv.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

The ladies of the Christian church are serving dinners in the Schmitz Block.

Col. R. S. Robertson will leave for Salt Lake City Thursday on duty connected with his position as one of the Utah commission.

Contractor James Madden and a party of twenty men from this city this morning commenced the plumbing job in the new insane hospital at Richmond.

Operations have been suspended at the Barber asphalt plant in the southwest part of the city for the season. The plant will be maintained permanently in this city.

John F. Dalton, formerly of the Electric works offices, sends to friends here copies of Lynn, Mass., newspapers containing accounts of the big fire in that city, where he is now employed.

Thomas Davidson, charged with the murder of Thomas Davidson, his aged uncle, near Arcola, was arraigned before Justice France yesterday afternoon and the hearing was set for the 12th inst.

Consumers of natural gas in this city have taken some apprehension from reports that the supply of natural gas is failing at Richmond in this state. The supply of manufactories in that city will be shut off.

Saturday afternoon a team belonging to Joe Mason, a farmer residing on the Bluffton road, broke their halters and ran away charging into a barb wire fence and mutilating themselves so badly it is believed they will have to be killed.

The annual election of E. S. Walker camp, Sons of Veterans, was held last night and the following chosen: E. H. Bookwalter, captain; A. E. Dougherty, first lieutenant; W. F. Geller, E. C. Close and Theodore Hardendorf, camp council; W. F. Geller, representative to the grand encampment, and William P. Bidwell, alternate.

At the congregational meeting of the Zion Lutheran church yesterday afternoon it was decided to build a church edifice on the site of the old one at the southeast corner of Creighton avenue and Hanna street. The new structure is to be a handsome one and will cost above $30,000. Work on it will be commenced in the early spring.

PARK BOARD CALLS MEETING THURSDAY

Asks Residents of Southwest Park District to Confer.

Messrs. David N. Foster, Louis Fox, Louis Dorn and Abe Ackerman, members of the board of city park commissioners, today issued the following call for a meeting to the residents of the Southwest park district:

"For a couple of years our board has been urged to proceed to the improvement of Foster park without further delay, said improvements to consist of a graded and improved roadway, next to private property, the whole length of the park; the laying out of additional walks; planting of additional trees; the erection of a low dam, furnishing a boating course some four miles in length; the putting up of boat sheds and dock; a combined refectory and shelter house, with public comfort facilities included; the laying out and building of a battery of six to eight tennis courts; the preparation of a river bathing pool, with dressing rooms upon the bank; an athletic field running course, with baseball diamonds in center and football ground; a shelter house, including public comfort facilities, located between the tennis courts and athletic field; additional seats and play apparatus and such other minor improvements as will become necessary.

"All of this work can be done by an average assessment of $5 to $6 upon each piece of property in the southwest park district, the nearby properties paying more than those at a distance. The demands for maintenance and minor improvements upon our various parks absorb nearly all of the regular revenues of our board so that many years must pass before any considerable part of this necessary work can be done in any other way.

"At the request of many citizens in this southwest district our board hereby calls a meeting of the interested property holders, at the assembly room of the South Wayne school house, corner Indiana and Cottage avenues, for Thursday evening, December 3, at 8 p. m., to confer with our board upon this proposition. If you will come together and instruct us that it is your desire that the work shall go forward we shall be glad to comply with your wishes."

HOAGLAND NEWS.

Hoagland, Ind., Dec. 2.—A pretty wedding occurred last Thursday morning at the Lutheran parsonage, when Miss Maud Stout and Mr. Xoma Minehart were united in marriage, Rev. A. K. Mumma officiating at the ceremony. Mrs. G. E. Corville, a sister of the bride, served the wedding breakfast. Only immediate relatives were present at the ceremony, but a great many friends had assembled at the depot with an abundance of rice, with which to shower the bridal couple. Mr. and Mrs. Minehart left immediately for Bryant, where they will spend a few days with relatives. They will then go to Fort Wayne.

The Mite society of the Lutheran church will meet Friday with Mrs. Barbara Corville.

Sick Headache.

Sick headache is nearly always caused by disorders of the stomach. Correct them and the periodic attacks of sick headache will disappear. Mrs. John Bishop, of Roseville, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with indigestion and had sick headache that lasted for two or three days at a time. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until during one of those sick spells a friend advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. This medicine relieved me in a short time." SOCIETY

Mrs. George W. Beers and her daughter, Mrs. William McKay, entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Beers a number of friends in a most informal manner. The ladies took their sewing or crocheting or whatever bit of work they are making for Christmas, but there was more conversation than sewing. The serving of some delectable refreshments made a fitting climax for the sociability of the gathering.

• • •

The first of two afternoon companies Mrs. John A. Shoaff is giving this week was enjoyed by about twenty ladies this afternoon at her home in Spy Run avenue. A game of bridge was followed by the serving of a luncheon of most tempting things to eat and drink. The guests spent a delightful time. Mrs. John Hoagland, of Chicago, was an out of town visitor who was present.

• • •

Mrs. Ben Rothschild gave the second of two very attractive bridge parties of the week this afternoon at her home in West Berry street.

• • •

Mrs. C. A. Dunkelberg has introduced an innovation in the afternoon bridge game which, while not new everywhere, is not common in Fort Wayne. The change is to play two games of auction, then have tea at 4 o'clock and two games of cards afterwards. With the tea Mrs. Dunkelberg follows the English custom of serving pound cake and bread and butter. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Dunkelberg gave the fifth of a series of card affairs and nearly thirty ladies were delighted with their entertainment.

• • •

Mrs. M. S. Maburin went to Indianapolis today for a visit with relatives.

Miss Maude Geake has returned to Elgin, Ill., after a few days' visit with her sisters here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Vesey have as guests Mr. and Mrs. Warren Seidmore, of Clarke, N. D.

The Laurel club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Kelsey, of 826 Belle avenue.

The extension department of the College club will give its next dance in the Casino hall on Monday, Dec. 7.

The Wednesday Bridge club was entertained this afternoon by Mrs. Marshall Comincavish, of Ewing street.

Miss Hazel Early has returned from a few days' visit in Columbus, O., with friends.

Miss Linda McKinnie left today for New York city to spend ten days with relatives and friends.

Mrs. J. E. Canada and daughter Juanita have returned from a visit of a few days at Mishawaka and Michigan City.

Mrs. Arthur F. Hall has as her guest her sister, Mrs. Agnes Brown, of Indianapolis.

Walker and Howard McCurdy have returned from a visit in Indianapolis with their grandparents.

Mrs. B. L. Gore and daughter Catherine, of Van Wert, O., were guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Horton.

The ladies of the Order of Eastern Star will give a card party in the social room of the Masonic temple tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. John Gilbert's guest, Mrs. Corey Bryan, has returned to her home in Marshall, Ill., after a few days' visit here.

Mrs. Mary L. King, of Muskegon, Mich., who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. D. Fox, of West Wayne street, has returned home.

Mrs. S. T. Remmel, who has been spending the week with her son, Arthur K. Remmel, and wife, returned to her home in Winchester Tuesday afternoon.

A former Fort Wayne resident, Miss Clara Lukens, of Brewster, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Arthur Edgerton, of Indianapolis, for the winter months.

The South Side Tennis club will be entertained tomorrow evening at dinner and cards at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dunkelberg. Mrs. W. H. Crighton is to be the assisting hostess.

Miss White, of Providence, R. I., who has been here visiting Mrs. Don Mungen and who was the honor guest at a number of small parties, left Tuesday for her home.

Mrs. John Hoagland, of Chicago, who is the guest of Mrs. Sturgis and Miss Rudisill, of Spy Run avenue, met a few of her girlhood friends in a most informal manner yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Hoagland will return home tomorrow.

Ruth Pape, of 815 High street, was six years old yesterday and her mother, Mrs. Theodore Pape, arranged to have a few of Ruth's small friends enjoy a birthday party. The guests and the little hostess had a happy time. The children were Dorothy Katt, Dorothy Stahlhut, Eleanor Busching, Helen Bunck, Erma Franke, Helen Mueller and Gertrude Pape.

A luncheon at the English tearoom on Saturday noon will be given in honor of Miss Charity Dye, of Indianapolis, who is to be here to talk before the Woman's League on "Dramatic Possibilities of Historic Indiana." The program for the meeting is in charge of Miss Flora Wilber, principal of the Normal school, who is much interested in an historic pageant of Fort Wayne and who supervised a charming outdoor entertainment along that line given by pupils of the Lakeside school early in October.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Thurston, the Magician, at the Majestic Starting Thursday.

Magic on the stage nowadays is no such simple thing as it was in the early days. Audiences can no longer be satisfied with card tricks, disappearing glass balls, restless handkerchiefs and hats full of paper flowers. Nowadays up-to-date magicians have a much more strenuous task.

Thurston, who is the attraction at the Majestic three nights and Saturday matinee, starting Thursday, Dec. 3, doesn't limit himself to juggling ducks and eggs. He juggles men, women, lions and pretty girls. He deftly passes the latter into trunks and baskets, causes them to reappear high above the audience—palms them, in fact as successfully as the amateur palms his glass balls or his china eggs.

AT THE TEMPLE.

With everything even bordering on the suggestive rigorously barred and with the censorship carried even further than it might be absolutely necessary to do, the Temple's management daily is making good its original claims that the Barton wheel of burlesque relies on clean comedy, rapid-fire action, tuneful melodies and graceful pretty girls for its success rather than the basis of lewdness that formerly held sway in the burlesque world. "The Froliques of 1914" fairly sizzle with the speed with which the comedy lines tumble over one another to find a way across the footlights to the big appreciative audiences that have been rocking the theater with their gales of applause ever since the show opened its current week.

"Uncle Sam's Girls" is the next Barton booking for the Temple. This combination originally was headed for Cincinnati for next week, but when Mr. Barton saw how kindly Fort Wayne was taking to the Froliques he ordered the "Uncle Sam Girls" to come here to reward the patrons by giving them the very cream of the entire output.

GIRL WITH "PEARLY SMILE" HAS TAKEN PLACE OF MAID WITH GOLDEN SMILE.

THE GIRL WITH THE "PEARLY SMILE."

The "golden smile" has faded away.

The gold tooth has been pulled—yanked out by art and fashion.

And the yawning cavity has been filled with "pearl," that is with "pearly porcelain" and when Gladys or Irene, Polly or Pansy smile now their coral lips no longer frame a splash of gold, not even the tiniest gilded filling dazzles the eye for the gold tooth is passe. It has passed on with the tube skirt, false hair and willow plumes.

It was the highbrow art critics of New York who pulled the golden tooth, banished the "golden smile." Esthetic taste revolted against the vulgarity of the "headlight" beaming from pearly banks of eye-teeth, wisdom teeth or plain molars. Art yearned for pearly smiles and it got it.

Fashion took a tip from art. It frowned darkly on the "golden smile," it began a wholesale white washing of golden teeth. Incidentally it gave out these "don't's" to girls who would cultivate the new "pearly smile":

Don't put your hairpins in your teeth.
Don't bite threads.
Don't bite your fingernails.
Don't bite anything except your food.
Don't forget the "don't's" and the "pearly smile" will be yours.

AT THE EMPRESS.

It is surely a dandy bill that is now on view at the Empress theater. The bill is one of those pleasing kind that has plenty of novelty, bright songs, plenty of action and mighty clever people. It's small wonder that Fort Wayne theater-goers are coming back to the theater to see the bill a second time.

Those clever comedians and excellent singers, Morrie and Allen, headline the bill. Their act is one of distinct class. Murry Livingston, the noted character actor, appears on this bill in an offering which bears the title of "The Man from Italy." The Phillippi Four are playing some splendid music at the Empress. Smith and Farmer have an act that is a dandy. Miss Smith has a superb voice. Wolgas and Girlie combine beauty and strength in an attractive manner.

THE ORPHEUM.

"THE NEWLYWEDS" ARE HERE.

Photo-Play Taken in Fort Wayne Opens Two Day Engagement at Orpheum.

The long looked and wished for "Newly-Weds in Fort Wayne" moving pictures are here at last, booked for a two days' engagement at the Orpheum. It is safe to say that there are but few people in the city who have not heard about this adventurous couple, and how a few months back they posed for a real moving picture (real plot and all) using well known stores and well known localities in and about Fort Wayne as a background.

The story is very romantic and tells of a young man who comes to Fort Wayne and takes a trip out to Robison park. The young man has no acquaintances in the city, and hence, is very lonesome. Now, owing to some peculiar circumstances, there is a young lady wandering about the park beset by the very same emotion, and when Manager Williams notices these two very agreeable people looking very bored and disinterested at their surroundings, he forthwith acts in his capacity as host in general and introduces the two. Of course, after that everything is lovely. As they grow better acquainted the young man prolongs his stay in the city and takes the young lady for numerous trips about the town.

Heralded and acknowledged as the greatest photo-play ever produced in America, "The Spoilers," Selig's titanic photograph adapted from Rex Beach's well known novel of that title, comes to the Jeffreson today, starting a two day's engagement.

When men are big enough, and brave enough to go into unknown country such as Alaska was in 1898 and find their sacrifices to secure a foothold among its primal treasures about to be snatched from them by a perversion of the law in corrupt hands, they fight, and fight hard and wickedly. That is the story of "The Spoilers." But Rex Beach could never have reached so straight and true to the sympathies through print or even stage drama as the moving picture of his novel reaches. It is the fullness of relation in swift presentation, a suspense beyond description, maintained and with climatic scenes and acts numerous and thrilling. It takes nine reels to tell the story, as W. N. Selig has produced it and there are no dull moments for the observer. These are reels of swift developing drama. The characters are drawn from the every day life of Americans placed in circumstances which call forth the best and worst in human nature. The photography is excellent and the staging unsurpassed so far in the moving picture world. It is a great human story told of people with rich red blood in their veins, facing supreme difficulties and fighting with sublime or demoniac fierceness as well as patience to maintain their position in the world old struggle for power.

Ethel Barrymore in "The Nightingale," at the Lyric, tonight.

The members of the Mizpah Shrine patrol will be the guests of Thurston, the magician, at the performance at the Majestic theater Thursday evening. Mr. Thurston, who is a Shriner, was present at the national meeting at Los Angeles, three years ago, when the local patrol won first prize in the drills. Here he became well acquainted with several members of the patrol. He instructed his advance man to call on E. H. Kilbourne, the captain, and invite the body to attend the performance.

Those on the program were Dan M. Link, state tax commissioner; John A. Lapp, director of bureau of legislative information; State Senator Evan B. Stotsenburg, New Albany, and M. Bachelder, Indianapolis. The meeting was to close with a general discussion.

The showing was made today that about every state that has found it possible thus far to get away from the old general property tax system has done so in various degrees ranging from classification and specific rates for certain classes of property, and limitation of tax rates, to the income tax enacted by Wisconsin and now part of the legislative action in Massachusetts and approaching the second consideration and ratification. The showings made today also were that nineteen states other than the twelve or thirteen that have already broken away, now have constitutional amendments pending.

Will State Its Findings.

It is probable that before the conference adjourns this evening resolutions will be adopted concisely stating the findings of the conference so drafted as to bring the facts before the legislature for its consideration. If those conclusions are in line with the speeches that have been made in the conference there can be no reason to doubt that they will point to serious defects in the present taxing system in Indiana and also in its administration.

There was a strong movement noticeable today to create a state-wide committee to digest the great mass of reports and points made in this state conference, to get in touch with different sections of the state and to meet again in Indianapolis just before the legislature convenes to map out a policy for the 1915 legislative year. It has become apparent that the legislature is going to be deluged with tax bills this year.

Repressive Force Needed.

It is evident, conference leaders say, that it is going to be vitally necessary to have a well-posted "repressive force" at work which will be able effectively to point out what are half-baked, inadequate or bad measures, and to be ready to offer the service of students, practical business men and real tax experts of this and other states to the legislature for its aid. It remains to be seen whether the conference will cause the drafting of any bills or measures, or stand for any one policy, but all are impressed with the need of a guard against ill-advised measures.

The Indiana state tax conference has been commented on by several as being probably the most representative body of men that has met in Indianapolis for some years on a state question. At least fifty townships scattered all over the state have sent delegates; probably as many villages and towns have delegates in the conference, at least a third of the counties are officially represented, and every one of the important cities in Indiana has one or more delegates. In addition to these Governor Samuel M. Ralston, various state officials and thirteen congressional delegates appointed by the governor represent the state. Aaron Jones, master of the state grange, and other official delegates representing agricultural interests are here. Indiana organized labor, bankers, manufacturers, lawyers, women's organizations and a long list of various state organizations have official representatives present.

Ohio's Experiments.

Interest in the session this morning centered pretty much in Ohio's experiments with placing a limitation on the tax rate and in the centralization under state control, of assessing machinery organized on the basis of efficiency for the work and protected by civil service. Prof. Lockhart was unable to attend, but his address was read by Fred H. Lemen, chairman of the tax committee of the Richmond, Indiana, chamber of commerce, who has been making an investigation of that system. The showing was the uniform one—that the property tax system had "broken down;" that intangibles would not pay a tax which demanded half or most of income and that such capital was getting out of the state, or into hiding. The situation was illustrated by the fact that the total intangible property listed in the state in 1912 was only $307,000,000, though there was actually in the banks of the state shortly after tax listing day $746,000,000 of deposits—and deposits are only one item of personal property. The limitation on tax rates, which are not under any conditions to go over 1½ per cent., and the new efficient state-centralized assessing machinery are producing results. Mr. Lockhart produced a tabulation of nine counties, well scattered over the state which show that the valuations in 1913 show an increase of 8.4 per cent. in the case of real estate, that the increase of tangible personal property is 1.1 per cent. and intangible property show an increase of 5.1 per cent.

The Wisconsin Way.

Alfred F. Holt, a special commissioner for Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin, presented a survey of the reasons why Wisconsin went to the income tax and state centralized assessment of property and also of the results.

"One thing Wisconsin with all its wonderful educational system had failed to accomplish," said Mr. Holt, "that was to get people to stop lying about their personal property when the tax assessor came. They would tell the truth under any other temptation to prevaricate—would sacrifice business, social position or political preferment on the altar of personal integrity—but when it came to naming the number of dollars they had in bank or loaned out they would lie about it just as brazenly as anybody in Indiana. This evasion went on until the owners of real estate, the builders, the men who improve and make the state and create its industries and trade and the demand for money, were paying all the taxes and carrying all the burden of government as they are increasingly doing in Indiana. Finally everybody realized that the general property tax was a farce. Thus came into existence in 1911 the Wisconsin income tax."

Mr. Holt described the system in detail. Income taxation, he said, could be pronounced an unqualified success as efficiently administered in Wisconsin.

It produces abundant revenues, he said, and he showed that in equalizing the burden it lightened the burden on all. The speaker touched on the high efficiency of the state centralized system of assessment and equalization and reported that equalization was now up to 82 per cent of true value and was steadily being brought to a more perfect equalized point represented by 100 per cent.

GO OUT TO LOCATE NEW BRIDGE AND DAM

City and County Boards to Get Ready for Fourth Street Work.

Messrs. Singrey, Kelly and Illgesman, of the board of works, City Engineer Jtandall and County Commissioners Butt, Schwier and Black went out Wednesday afternoon to locate the proposed Fourth street bridge over Spy Run, just below Lawton park. The bridge will be built early the coming year and in connection with it will be constructed a concrete dam to back up Spy Run to the pool that furnishes water for the condensers in the city light and power works. The commissioners expect to get the appropriation from the county council for the bridge this month. The city will pay for the dam.

PARK BOARD ECONOMIES.

Changes Planned That Will Save the Department's Funds.

At a meeting of the council committee on parks, public buildings and grounds with members of the park board at the city hall Tuesday evening, changes were planned that if carried out will do much to effect economy in the expenditure of park funds. It was decided that the offices of park superintendent and city forester should be combined and the dual position given to Carl J. Getz, the present city forester. Another place will be found for August W. Goers, who for seventeen years has been superintendent of parks. Park Engineer Marriott Price will be transferred to the city engineering department and will give his services to the park board when needed. The board of park commissioners says that Engineer Price has so far worked out the engineering phases of the scheme of improvements contemplated by the board that not much of his time will be needed next year. The city engineering department, on the other hand, is badly in need of an increased force. Since the stenographer in the park department does much of the work for the city engineering department it is considered proper that Engineer Price's salary be paid by that department as an offset. The matter of combining the forestry and park superintendency was left entirely with the park board. The councilmen expressed the opinion that the park department should not be assessed for street and sidewalk improvements along parks nor for sewers draining territory in which parks are located. The conference was attended by President Bayer and Members Rogge, Hartman, Welch, Mills and Keller, of the council, and Park Commissioners Foster, Fox and Dorn and Park Board Secretary C. J. Steiss.

QUARTERLY HEALTH REPORT.

Improvement Shown Over Record of Same Quarter Last Year.

The health office records for the three months ending Nov. 30 show that during that period there were reported in Fort Wayne a total of 128 cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever and typhoid fever, whereas the record for the same months of 1913 was 186 cases of the same diseases. In detail the record for September, October and November this year is as follows:

September, 1913—Diphtheria cases, 38; scarlet fever, 5; typhoid fever, 14. Total, 57.

Henry Langhor Prefers Imprisonment to Giving Ex-Wife Money.

"Thank you, judge; that suits me."

So said Henry Langhor in the superior court Wednesday, when Judge Yaple sentenced him to sixty days in jail for contempt of court in having failed to obey the court's order to pay an allowance to his divorced wife, Ollie Langhor. Langhor had steadfastly refused to pay money to his former wife, and when arraigned on the contempt charge assumed the air of a martyr. He declared he would break jails and prisons before he would give her a cent and accepted his penalty with good grace. Judge Yaple told him he could any time relieve himself of the penalty by promising to obey the court's order, and also told him he was headed for prison. That did not move Langhor and he went contentedly to jail.

Leininger Given a Chance.

After sentencing John Leininger to from one to seven years in the state prison at Michigan City for neglecting his children, Judge Eggeman in the circuit court suspended the sentence on Leininger's promise to support his four little offspring. He was given into custody of Frank G. Klotz, who is going to employ Leininger and who will hold out $6.50 each week of the man's pay for the benefit of the children. Leininger's first wife got a divorce in May. The day following his second marriage last week he was arrested. Judge Eggeman gave him a grilling and warned him that any delinquency would cause him to be sent to prison.

Says He Struck Her.

In a divorce complaint filed in the superior court Elizabeth Raber says Harvey Raber called her vile and indecent names, struck her and is a habitual drunkard. She got a restraining order to prevent him from molesting her or interfering with her rooming house business at 113 Brackenridge street. They were married in September, 1913, and separated last June.

Is Brutal and Jealous.

Dessie Shroll says Ernest Shroll was cruel and inhuman in his treatment of her from the beginning of their married life, May 8, 1908, made no proper provision for her support, did not make a home for her, has an ungovernable temper, calls her names too filthy to put in a complaint, is jealous, spies upon her continually, follows her from place to place, when angry would threaten her with bodily injury and said he would kill her, drinks to excess and spends his money for drink. They separated November 30.

Sued for Death of Employe.

Vassilios H. Theodore, as administrator of the estate of the late Andrew Theodore, has begun action in the circuit court against the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad for $1,000 damages for the death of Andrew Theodore, who was an employe of the road, last February. The complaint alleges that while Theodore was employed in repairing a switch track in Fort Wayne he was struck by a switch engine and caboose and killed. It is charged that the blowing of steam from an engine on the main track made so much noise that Theodore did not hear the approach of the other engine, which gave no warning of whistle or bell as it came down the switch track. The deceased is represented as having been the support of his father and mother.

An Echo of the Durand Affair.

In the superior court, in the suit of William Hatfield vs. William P. Walsh and Frank Durand, the court finds that there never was a process issued or served on Walsh and that such omission never having been waived, it finds for the plaintiff against Durand in the sum of $200 damages. Durand is the man who married a Fort Wayne woman, spent her money, abandoned her and has since been floating large amounts of fraudulent checks on Fort Wayne financial institutions. The suit was on a contract.

Notes of the Courts.

The superior court has fixed March 29, 1915, as the date for hearing the suit of Allie Burrier vs. Lela H. Ashton, et al.

The suit of Keziah Starkey vs. the Adams Express company for $20,000 for personal injuries has been sent to Wells county on a change of venue.

The circuit court has dismissed the suit of Anna Meyers vs. Jacob Cupp, the case having been settled, and has also dismissed the suit of John A. Swayzee vs. Cyrus A. Swank, which came up on an appeal.

After thirty-four years of married life, Anna C. Medaker has brought suit in the superior court for a divorce from John H. Medaker. They were married in April, 1880, and separated October 20, 1914. She charges failure to provide during the last four years.

In the superior court Evelyn E. Purcell has brought suit against Thomas and Louise Roach to foreclose a mechanic's lien, demanding $530.

Judge Carl Yaple has returned from Mendon, Mich., to which place he was called by the serious illness of his 8-year-old son. The child is much better and was brought home. Judge Yaple has returned to his duties on the superior court bench.

In the suit of the German-American Realty association vs. Caroline C. Baumgratz, et al., title to real estate was quieted in the plaintiff, and similar judgment was entered in the case of Frank J. and Theresa Steinacker vs. Theodore E. Brackenridge, et al., by the superior court.

Wilbur G. Carpenter, Guy Colerick and David Hogg are a committee of lawyers who will examine Alvin O. Smith in the superior court for admission to the bar.

ONE MORE PRISONER RUNS.

County Convict Takes Advantage of Fog to Gain Liberty.

One of the gang of prisoners from the county jail that went out Wednesday morning to work for the city on the Maumee river bank under Street Superintendent Strodel, took advantage of the thick pall of fog that hung over the city during the early hours and made his escape. Two others escaped Tuesday from the guard on the river work.

CONFESSES TO BURGLARY.

C. D. Smith, the man who was arrested by Detective Spillner on Calhoun street, Wednesday forenoon, confessed to the police in the afternoon that he broke into the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad freight house at Decatur, Tuesday night, and stole the silver solder, lead pencils, postage stamps and other plunder found on him.

AMERICAN WOMEN'S DISPUTE SETTLED

London, Dec. 2.—The long standing dispute of two American women, Lida Eleanor Fitzgerald and Josephine Moffitt, as to which was entitled to style herself Princess Victor of Thurn and Taxis, was settled in the chancery court today in favor of Mrs. Fitzgerald. The court allowed Mrs. Fitzgerald $600 damages, gave her the cost of the trial and granted her an injunction against Miss Moffitt. The prince is now serving in the Austrian army.

Prince Victor of Thurn and Taxis, a member of a well known Hungarian family, came to the United States in 1906, and in New York contracted a matrimonial alliance with an American actress named Josephine Moffitt, who came originally from Jacksonville, Fla. The prince later left Miss Moffitt and in 1911 he was married to Mrs. Fitzgerald, former wife of Gen. Gerald Fitzgerald, at Uniontown, Pa.

The difficulties of the prince and the women who claim to the right to use his title have been up from time to time in the courts of New York and London.

SUPPLY OF REVENUE STAMPS IS RECEILED

Deputy Revenue Collectors Thumma and McLaughlin announced late Wednesday afternoon that they had just received a new supply of internal revenue stamps and that they would be on sale Thursday morning at the office of the collectors in the federal building. The supply consists of 1, 2, 3 and 10-cent denominations.

THOUGHTFUL YOUNGSTER.

Little Boy Spends Money for Seals Instead of for Candy.

When Stephen Bond, jr., the ten-year-old son of Stephen Bond, sr., went downtown Tuesday to purchase a nickel's worth of candy he spent his money for Red Cross seals instead, greatly to the surprise of his parents.

The sale of seals is going merrily on, a total of 119,150 having been sold in Fort Wayne to date. More seals have been sold in Fort Wayne than in any other city in the state. Following are the sales up to 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon: Gilmartin Lumber company, $5; Centlivre hotel, $5.

There will be a regular meeting of Lawton-Wayne post, G. A. R., Friday evening, Dec. 4, at Vodermark hall, 624 Calhoun street. The annual election of officers will be held. All comrades are expected to be present.

Society

Miss Olga Rice, of Dixon, Ill., arrived in the city last evening and is the guest of the Misses Christine and Anne Shryock.

Mrs. Jessie Allhands and daughter, Fayo, of Marionville, Mo., are here for an extended visit with their uncle, J. W. Thompson and family, of 448 West Williams street.

Miss Alice Knight is coming home from New York city next Wednesday, where she has been visiting friends for some weeks. Miss Knight will have as her guest Miss Maud Stevenson, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. Kitty Alter, of East Leith street, entertained the Sindle club last evening, assisted by her daughters. Some excellent musical selections were furnished by Miss Clara Offenloch. The next hostess will be Mrs. Charles Offerle, of Centlivre avenue.

One of the best films ever seen in the city was that at the Lyric featuring Miss Ethel Barrymore yesterday and today. Miss Barrymore's popularity was well demonstrated by the crowds of people who went to see her in the new role of a beautiful singer who has many trials and much trouble. Miss Barrymore's acting was excellent and the supporting company good.

Mrs. Byron Somers, of Webster street, entertained the officers of Shiloh chapter, No. 141, Order of Eastern Star, on Monday evening in honor of Worthy Matron Matie Garwood. A contest of writing words from the letters found in Mrs. Garwood's title furnished a lot of fun. Mrs. Garwood was presented with an electric coffee percolator as a token of esteem from the guests. There were present Ada Carter, Mary Smith, Stella Phillips, Lottie and Olive Current, Mary Pietz, Hattie Ault, Anna Hartshorn, Bertha Pfeiffer, Sue Stiver, Byrl Nelson, Maud Stock, May Titsworth, Jessie Ashley, Amy Fitzsimmons, Edna Eckles, Laven Chapman, Grace McMillan, S. B. Dustman, C. A. Carter, C. Commeavish. The hostess served a lunch.

THE DEATHS.

SCHULER.

Mrs. Rinda Schuler, aged 27 years, wife of Albert Schuler, of St. Joseph township, seven miles north of the city on the St. Joe road, died at the family residence Tuesday noon. Death was due to blood-poisoning and followed an illness of but one week.

Mrs. Schuler was born in Perry township and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Parker. She was united in marriage to Mr. Schuler in 1904 and was a member of the St. Vincent Catholic church at Academie. Besides the husband she is survived by her mother and four children, three brothers and four sisters. The brothers and sisters are Jacob, Frank and Christ Parker, of DeKalb county; Mrs. Lizzie Frederick, of Michigan, and Rena and Maud Parker, of Perry township.

Funeral service Friday morning at 8 o'clock at the residence and at 9 o'clock at the St. Vincent church.

Carl Manor Falls Fifteen Feet, Alighting on Cement Walk.

Falling from a ladder a distance of fifteen feet to a cement sidewalk, Carl Manor, aged 27, residing at 516 LaSalle avenue, suffered a broken right arm about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. He was engaged in putting on brackets on a house on Freeman street when the ladder on which he was standing slipped out from under him and he was thrown violently to the cement walk below. He is a lineman for the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company.

NOT A SINGLE DEATH.

According to the annual report of the secretary of Home lodge No. 242, Free and Accepted Masons, which was read Tuesday evening at the regular meeting, there was not a single death in the lodge during the past year. The secretary reported a membership of 507.

PUBLICITY IS NOT SOUGHT BY T. COBB

Says Feelings Have Been Hurt and He Will Quit in 1918.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 2.—Thousands of people religiously hold the belief that if the bright spotlight of publicity were denied him Ty Cobb would freeze to death. They see in Tyrus a vain, boastful, elephantine-headed egotist. They're all wrong, absolutely misinformed.

Off the field Ty is first a gentleman, affable and retiring. He's not the bellicose, blatant butcher-beater that he has been pictured. On the contrary, he's what Robert Burns would call a "discontented ghost, a perturbed spirit." Ty has a grievance.

Cobb, unquestionably the greatest ball player on earth, the highest salaried individual in the rank and file of the diamond army, believes he has been made a martyr to publicity, a sacrifice offered to Mammon by avaricious club owners.

The writer located Cobb at his hotel after a particularly brilliant performance on the ball field, one evening with the hope of ascertaining how much money the "greatest player in baseball" had appropriated from the Elysian fields of frenzied baseball finance. The subject does not appeal to Ty, who, however, was anything but loath to be interviewed.

"I have saved my money and I have invested it well," said Tyrus, "and besides I have been well paid; but I will tell you a secret: My mind is set on quitting baseball in four more years, no matter what my services on the diamond may command at the time. I am 27 years old, and physically fortified, I believe, to go on as long as Wallace or Lajoie. But I have set 1918 as the absolute limit of further participation in baseball.

"I haven't been treated any too well. I have been successful, it is true, but my feelings too often have been wounded by undesirable notoriety. I'll explain.

"I have been pictured a 'tough' fighter, a user of 'cold steel,' so often that loads of people with whom I'm not personally acquainted regard me almost as a barroom gladiator. That's putting it rather strong, but it's my aggravated view of a serious matter. Let me give you some history.

"My career in the big league has been fraught with excitement. I broke in at the age of 18, with all the aggressiveness which a healthy young boy should have, but I was in baseball only a few days before I was forced to fight Eddie Siever, a pitcher, because he heaped insults on me for losing a ball game. He said things which no man with red corpuscles in his blood could stand. So I whipped him.

"Since that day nothing I have done has escaped the news columns. They even probed into my private affairs and things are exaggerated and magnified until I'm often astonished at myself. Take the New York episode, when I went into the stand after a fan. The man who would have ignored the insults offered me by that fellow I don't care to meet. He isn't a man.

"But I warned that fellow three times to stop before I went after him. Every player on my club was with me and most of them advised the course I pursued. But what did I get? The most thorough scourging any player ever received.

"In Detroit one afternoon a butcher called Mrs. Cobb a liar. What would you do? Somebody had to apologize, and when I forced the apology, a personal affair with me, I again broke into the papers as a rowdy. There have been other incidents, but not one in which the most minute details have not spread far and wide."

FEDERAL PLAYERS SEEK OLD PLACES

Back After One Season Asking to Be Taken Into the Fold.

That the Ray Keener case is to be repeated a number of times in baseball is one of the possibilities of the season of 1915. It will be remembered that at Terre Haute in 1913 Keener refused to go in and pitch a game of baseball to help out a staff of hurlers that was badly overworked.

He had been successful in the box that season and had no excuse to offer for his refusal other than that he was an outfielder and didn't have to pitch.

This didn't register with James Thomas Barlow. James T. was strong on discipline and strong on language to enforce this same discipline so he forthwith suspended Keener and told him to pack and "git." It developed that he had been tampered with by Bill Phillips, manager of the Indianapolis Federals, and in a short time he was playing the outfield for this organization.

He repented and wanted to get back. Claude H. Varnell needed him and probably would have given him a place but the national commission, supreme ruler in baseball, said nay and the nay went.

Last season Mr. Keener's name didn't appear in the Indianapolis lineup and there is some question as to what did become of him, but it is highly probable that he was left to pick up as much of a living as could be picked up about the town of Clayton, W. Va., which is a division point on a railroad.

Twenty players will constitute each Federal league roster in 1915, and the players who are likely to be left out in making up this number are seeking admittance to the old organization. They may get in but some of them undoubtedly will open minor league pay envelopes every fifteen days and find therein a stipend far below the amounts drawn while they were in good standing in organized baseball.

The fellows who got three year contracts with guarantees are safe, of course. They had little confidence from the first in the stability of the new league and required that their money be so arranged that they could get it whether the new league blew up or not.

All of the men were not in position to demand terms of this kind and these are the fellows who want back. Baseball needs some of them and it is not just and proper that they should be deprived of the means of making a living but they will find it pretty difficult sledding.

If they continue at the game they must accept reductions because they will go to the minors and the minors must retrench. They have paid salaries that were way beyond the amounts justified by gate receipts and the probabilities are the fellows who will feel the ax more keenly than those who struck to organized ball and refused the temptations held out to them by the new organization.

The Federal will continue probably for another year. Some of the men in the league would have been welcomed to organized ball under a peace pact but when it came to a showdown the magnates did not have the money to swing the deals that were proposed and negotiations, so far as the public is concerned, were declared off.

There may be some sort of an agreement between the owners that the public does not know of. These agreements often exist and are kept under cover for the reason that if they were known they would disrupt the league by causing discontent and uncertainty in the playing ranks.

Then there is another lesson to be taught. Baseball players must be shown that when they sign contracts they must respect them. None of them ever signed one that he did not understand thoroughly and when they violated their contracts they know they were acting in bad faith.

These men probably will be taught by organized ball that they cannot treat contracts lightly and that once they are entered into they must be kept inviolate.

PLAYED HOOKEY FROM SCHOOL TO TAKE BOXING LESSONS---NOW HE'S MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMPION

JIMMY CLABBY IS A BASEBALL BUG AND AN ALL-ROUND ATHLETE—HE'S THE PLUTOCRAT OF THE BOXING GAME.

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—Jimmy Clabby, middleweight champion of America, and possessed of a struggle hold on the world's title for the same division, made his mark under his own name.

The Indianian was introduced in his youth to the squared circle by his father, who took him to the first mill he ever witnessed. When asked as to whether there were parental objections to his embarking in the game, Clabby answered:

"What, my father kick at boxing! Why, he'd travel in his stocking feet over a hard shell road just to see two good, clever fellows mix!"

Clabby is a son of good down-east stock. He hails from Norwich, Conn. His recollections of his birthplace are scanty for he was a baby of 4 when his father, a steel rolling mill man, migrated to Hammond, Ind.

Some nine years ago, when Jimmy then 14 years of age, was escorted by his daddy to see a couple of boys don the gloves, he was introduced to Ole Olsson, the featherweight, who was well known in the middle west not many years ago, and that was what started Clabby ringward. He admits playing hookey from school on various occasions just to take some lessons from Olsson—and Father Clabby had no protest to offer when the real facts became known.

Clabby's first bout was at Laporte, where he put on the gloves with some unknown in a six-round affair that was called a draw.

"Right there was where I turned professional," explains the king of the middles, "they took up a passable collection and I received $6 for my services, the first money I ever earned."

Incidentally it gave Jimmy the idea of how to make a living. Already he had been expelled from school because of his tendency to settle arguments with his fists, and there was nothing to hinder his turning into an out and out gentleman of the padded ring.

The years 1906 and '07 saw Clabby a full fledged performer in the short round game around his home state and finally he increased his prestige until he was doing nicely in Milwaukee.

Now the champion boasts proudly that he has taken part in more twenty round contests than any pugilist in the ring at the present time. Twenty-seven is Clabby's record.

Where did he acquire the cleverness that makes him so much of an attraction and so successful?

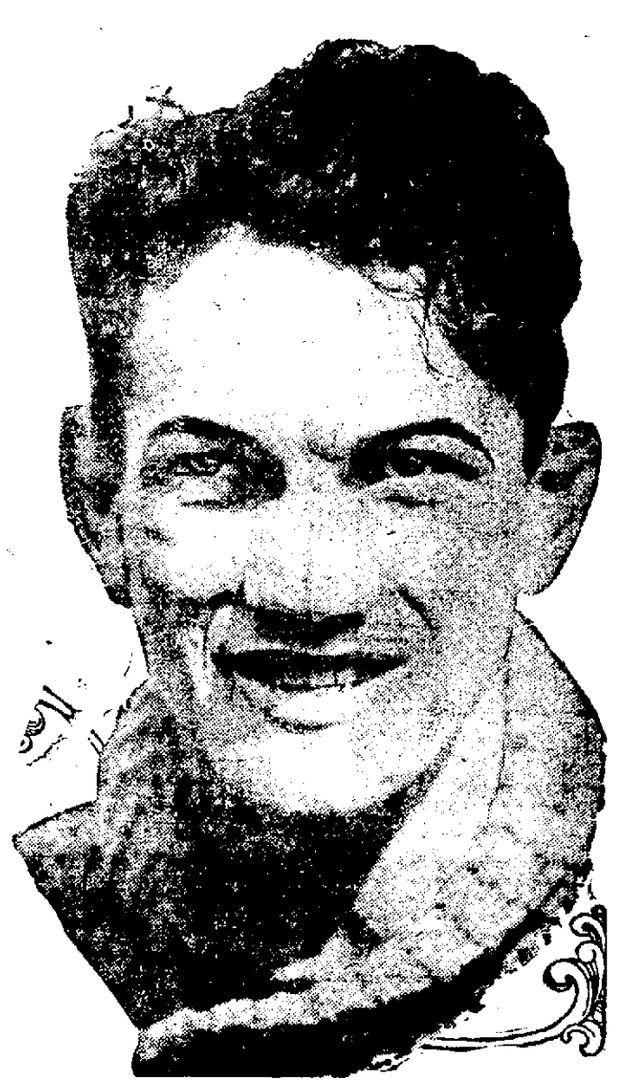
Even Clabby is pressed to answer.

"Just picked it up, I guess," was his reply. "Boxing always seemed to come naturally to me.

"I have the leverage system. When boxing I put my opponent's body to one side, then swing him around. Ever see Frank Gotch wrestle? Well, that's one of his stock moves. It works as well in boxing as it does in wrestling."

Clabby likes to box. Outside of his profession, Jimmy has a dozen hobbies, most of them of the open air variety that keeps him in good shape.

"He's a baseball bug of the virulent type and can shake hands and call by name 60 per cent. of the big leaguers, for he never misses a game when the opportunity affords.



JIMMY CLABBY.

He's a tennis sharp and an all-round athlete.

Clabby likes to read good books—not the trashy sort—and to attend first night performances.

He's of a saving disposition. Several years ago Clabby opened up a cafe and restaurant in Hammond, a city of some 35,000 population, and his dad is installed as the boss. Also he has accumulated some bank stock that returns an investment of 12 per cent. and he's the owner of an apartment house.

As the money comes in from his fistic ventures Clabby sends a fair proportion of it to Indiana, so that it will be awaiting the time when he is done with the game.

"What are you going to do when you're through with boxing?" brought from Clabby, "Back to Hammond and go into business with my father."

NEW BASKET BALL CLUB IS READY

Federals Will Seek Berth in City League for Present Season.

(By Morton B. Williams).

The Federal basketball team of the Lyceum Athletic association has been organized for the season, and, if charges of professionalism against some of the players are not held will enter the City league. The manager has attempted to have the charges proved unfounded but thus far has been unsuccessful. The Federal club is one of the strongest in Fort Wayne, and in the event that it is not accepted by the league, intends to book games with Zanesville, which was so well received last year, Corby hall and teams of that caliber.

The Feds have been practicing three nights a week for a month, and are confident of winning a big percentage of their games. The regulars as picked a week or so ago are Miller, Flaherty, Loos, DeWald and Brown. Their play is speedy and the whole team seems able to shoot baskets from all part of the floor and at any angle. About twenty-five reported for practice, and from these aspirants for basketball fame have been chosen the five strongest. The lineup this year reads much the same as the Federals of last season and it will undoubtedly put up the same high standard of basketball.

Miller, the former St. Mary's player forward, is at the same position with the Feds and is playing a shade better than before. His work at forward is speedy and accurate and very few shots for goals go bad from him. He shoots baskets with apparently as much ease from the center of the floor as from under the goal.

Next in line is Flaherty, the other forward, whose style of playing is clean and fast. He is much faster than Miller, although not so accurate.

Big Loos, the center, hardly needs introduction since nearly everyone about town who follows basketball has seen him work. He tried out with the Friars at the beginning of last season and played parts of several games. He is almost indispensable to the Feds since his general all around play keeps them together and working in harmony.

At guard is DeWald, who was with the Lyceum team last year, and whose work in that capacity materially assisted to give the former team the reputation that they deserved. He is also a good man on long range basket shots.

The other guard is held down by Brown, who also played on last year's team and who is playing his usual game. His play is steady and he covers his opponent in good form. If he gets half a chance he can be counted on to score a couple of points for his team. Taken on the whole the teams that run into the Lyceum bunch are going up against a stiff proposition and will have to work their hardest to win.

The team will secure the Lyceum auditorium to play in if a plan on foot goes through, and it will be a most desirable court. The floor is smooth, and with the addition of a wire net and a glass back board will certainly be a great place for the game. The auditorium will comfortably seat 650, with standing room for a large number additional.

The Aeolians.

The second Lyceum team in the field is the Aeolians, who have just had their first practice and have chosen their manager, Willard Daley. The captaincy is to be left vacant until after two or three try-outs. The Aeolians will accept games with the best second string teams in and out of the city.

FRANK CHANCE IS GIVEN A PANNING

(By Ed Bang).

Cleveland, O., Dec. 2.—You can say for me that Frank Chance stands forth as the biggest individual failure in the history of the American league. That's the sum and substance of what B. B. Johnson, president of the American league, said a short time since when the "Peerless Leader" came up for discussion, "and what's more you can write a story to that effect and quote me as strong as you like," Ban continued.

President Johnson had great hopes of Chance molding a winner in New York, and when, after almost two years as the leader of the Yankees, he quit a dismal failure, the blow all but floored Ban for the count. The American league has always played second fiddle to the Giants in New York, and Ban and other American leaguers figured that Chance was the man to bring about a change in the condition of affairs.

But Chance fell down. His failure couldn't have been worse. Little wonder Johnson took it so to heart. Ban believed he made a ten-strike for the American league when Chance was secured to manage the Yankees. He had visions of the teams in his league playing to the 25,000 and 35,000 crowds that have greeted the Giants and their opponents time and again. But it was not to be.

"Chance had the material in New York and I think any other man would have made a success of the venture," said Ban. "Surely no one could have done any worse. Of all the players that were on the New York roster in 1913 and 1914, and there were any number of likely looking recruits, Chance failed to develop even one man of class. Why, it was an outrage.

"And then when he made up his mind that he was a failure, or at least when he was ready to step down and out he had the unmitigated nerve to ask for pay for services that he had not performed. That surely was gall, to say the least. Why, Roger Peckinpaugh, youth, though he is, displayed far more class as manager of the Yankees in the short time he was at the helm than Frank Chance ever did."

TRANSFER A TERM TO BROOKLYN LOT

New York, Dec. 2.—Plans to continue the fight against the Federal league, among others, the proposal to transfer the Jersey City club to Brooklyn, will be discussed at the annual meeting here next week of the National and International leagues. Advance statements from club owners of the two leagues, who will attend the big annual winter baseball conference indicate that peace negotiations between organized baseball and the so-called outlaw Federals have been abandoned and that the fight will be resumed next season.

The only obstacle in the way of transferring the Jersey City club of the International league to Brooklyn lies in the ownership by Charles Ebbits and the McKeever brothers of the Brooklyn National league club, of the Newark franchise, which they wish to sell before consenting to assume the joint responsibility of directing two teams on Ebbits field in a campaign against the Brooklyn Federals for patronage.

It became known today that among the bidders for the Newark franchise is Arthur Irwin, scout for the New York American league team. Irwin is said to have the backing of an organization of Newark business men who seek control of the franchise to insure baseball in that city.

A. C. W. HOLDS ITS FIRST ANNUAL MEET

Banquet and Election is Attended by Over 300 People.

Organizing in June and accomplishing some notable attainments during its short existence, the Associated Christian Workers of Fort Wayne Tuesday evening held its first annual banquet and election of officers at the Simpson M. E. church when over 300 young people were in attendance.

The meeting opened at 8:15 o'clock when a short business session was held in the auditorium of the church at which time minutes of the last annual meeting of the Local Union of Christian Endeavor societies and the reports of all the committee chairmen were read. The treasurer's report showed the financial standing in good condition.

Following this session all retired to the basement where the Ladies' Aid society of the Simpson M. E. church had prepared a four-course banquet. It was a very elaborate affair and the eatables were so savory that they even attracted the attention of a passing canine friend who caused quite a bit of merriment when he almost insisted in crawling through an open window. However, he did not succeed in getting in but nevertheless he received a "handout" from some generous person.

CLIFFORD J. HUTCHINSON,
President of A. C. W. for 1915.

At the close of "the sumptuous feast," as someone expressed it, a very delightful program of musical numbers and talks was rendered. E. A. K. Hackett as a representative from the Lyon evangelistic campaign executive committee gave an address on the work that he said was sure to be accomplished if the young people would assist.

The most enthusiastic speech of the evening was given by Rev. Edward H. Clifford, pastor of the East Creighton Avenue Church of Christ, who spoke on the subject, "The Possibilities of the A. C. W." He said in part:

"Since the A. C. W. is composed of young people and since young people know not what failure really is, the possibilities of the A. C. W. will only be limited by our common humanity." He closed by saying: "The day is coming when all young people's organizations of the country will be united in one great federation and the A. C. W. of Fort Wayne has started this great movement."

Another very interesting address and one that was received with a hearty applause was the one given by Rev. F. H. Creneau, of the St. Paul's M. E. church, on "Appreciation." He said that all must be intensive in this life to be appreciative and that great issues or battles came to each one and that we must either win or lose. He further said that the A. C. W. as a whole were appreciative for the work that was done during the past year by the retiring officers and that he believed everyone present was of an appreciative spirit due to all the happenings of the evening. He referred to the canine friend and said that even the dog was appreciative for after he had been given something to eat he came back the second time for more.

An instrumental duet by Miss Georgia Wirth and A. Leslie Jacobs and a vocal solo by Joseph Fitch were also well received. Other talks were given by Winston Stone, C. J. Hutchinson and F. Beatrice McCormick, who gave a summary of the work of the A. C. W. of the past year. Glenn A. Smiley acted as toastmaster and his many toasts of humor brought forth long peals of laughter.

The report of the tellers who counted the ballots was read at the close of the program and showed the following officers elected: President, C. J. Hutchinson; first vice-president, Clarence Aiken; second vice-president, Paul Burt; secretary, Evelyn Roberts; treasurer, Joseph Fitch. Following are the chairmen of the various committees: Devotional, Esther Fritz; social, Marie McKeeman; missionary, Hazel Shoub; temperance, P. A. Riblet; publicity, Ethel Brandon; efficiency, Silas Arick; devotional, Avajean Kincade, and orchestra and music, Frederick Brown.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

Bass Foundry and Machine Works Sends First of Lot of Seventy-Six East.

The first carload of large steel tanks built by the Bass Foundry and Machine works on an order for seventy-six left the works yesterday for New York and will be followed at the rate of two or three carloads a week until the contract has been filled. It is estimated that there will be fourteen or fifteen carloads in all. This contract came in three parts. First, W. C. Slater, representing the Bass company, went east and secured a contract for thirty-one tanks two weeks ago. A few days later the mail brought a duplicate order and early this week the telegraph brought another order for fourteen tanks, making the total seventy-six. They are badly needed by the purchaser and orders have been given the local works to push the work with all possible speed. As a result the boiler shop is working a big force day and night and is undoubtedly the most active industrial plant in the city today.

THE PAY DAYS.

The Pennsylvania and the Grand Rapids and Indiana pay masters will be in Fort Wayne this week. The Pennsy paymaster will pay the road men, the office men and maintenance of way men Friday. The G. R. & I. paymaster will pay the employes of that line between Grand Rapids and Fort Wayne, including the office force here. Thursday afternoon, go to Richmond Friday morning and return here at noon, when payment of the Pennsylvania shopmen will commence. They will receive their pay Friday afternoon and Saturday.

WABASH CLUB'S NEW SECRETARY.

The following contribution, which will explain itself, was picked up at the Wabash shops this morning: "Wentz Gabriel has resigned the office of secretary of the club at the Wabash shops, as his time is taken up with his poultry yard. His successor has not been chosen. There are several eligible and very good men who will take it, it is said. One is Machinist L. D. Miller and another Machinist James A. Lechler. Either would be acceptable to the members."

WILL DO ITS OWN WORK.

Commencing yesterday the Pullman company took over all work connected with the lighting of its cars and cancelled a contract it had with the Pennsylvania company. Hereafter the Pullman company will furnish all labor, material for repairs, batteries and light devices, clean all lamps and furnish all the material in connection therewith. This work was formerly performed by men on the Pennsylvania pay rolls. The change effects only such terminals as Chicago and Pittsburg and does not affect Fort Wayne.

SHIPPING TONS OF CANDY.

The Hitz-Miller-Lau company are engaged this week in sending out the holiday candy supplies to the dealers in the towns within its trade territory. Monday heavy shipments were made over the Pennsylvania, the G. R. & I. and the Wabash and yesterday about thirty tons of the sweets were shipped over the Lake Shore and the Lake Erie and Western. Despite the general depression in business, the candy trade is as heavy this year as last.

MR. WOOD GOES HOME.

General Manager W. B. Wood, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana company, passed through the city at 8:50 o'clock this morning, in his private car on train No. 7. Mr. Wood had been east on railway business and incidentally visited his relatives. Supt. Benj. H. Hudson, Trainmaster R. G. Casey and Division Engineer C. L. Barnaby accompanied General Manager Wood from this city to Grand Rapids and discussed railway matters with him.

HOST AT THEATER PARTY.

Twelve to fifteen office men and foremen at the Wabash shops will comprise a party which will attend the vaudeville at the Masonic Temple this evening. Mr. Granger, a prince of good fellows, will chaperon the party. The "boys" anticipate a fine time.

WILL GIVE CARD PARTY.

AT CHICAGO ON BUSINESS.

Art V. Williams, foreman of the Pennsylvania toolroom, went to Chicago this morning on business that will keep him there two or three days.

IN CHICAGO ON BUSINESS.

General Manager F. S. Hunting and Factory Supt. E. A. Barnes, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, are in Chicago today on business for the company.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Herb Smith, an apprentice at the Wabash blacksmith shop, is sick and off duty.

C. L. Clodfelter, Lake Shore agent at Corunna, Ind., was a Fort Wayne visitor yesterday.

H. J. Yorgy, Pennsylvania car clerk, is in Altoona on business connected with the car department.

Division Storekeeper C. P. Cherry, of the Pennsylvania, is in Pittsburg on business for the company.

Hammersmith Owen Barry, of the Pennsylvania shops, is off duty for the purpose of attending court.

S. M. Childs, of the St. L. & S. F., and Ben R. Grove, of the L. & N., passenger agents, were in the city today.

Road Foreman of Engines A. L. Lopshire, of the G. R. & I., went to Grand Rapids this morning on business.

The Painters and Decorator announce business of importance at the meeting tonight and want a good attendance.

Henry Lamaster, Wabash machinists' apprentice, returned to work yesterday after spending several days in Toledo.

After a week's sickness, Machinist E. C. Rehling resumed work at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

W. L. Wilt is in New York this week on business for the motive power department of the Pennsylvania Northwest system.

Frank Zack, Wabash shop laborer, and his sister, went to Chicago this morning to spend the remainder of the week with friends.

George Henschen, a car inspector on the Wabash, and his family have returned from a fifteen days' visit with relatives in Nebraska.

T. T. King, of the engineering department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, is looking after some business at Louisville for the company.

Charles R. Smith, of the Electric works, is preparing to move into a new house out in the southwestern part of the city about the holidays.

William J. Murphy, an armature winder at the Electric works, was sent to St. Mary's, Ohio, yesterday to make some repairs on a lighting plant.

Frank E. More, Pennsylvania motive power inspector, is still confined to his home with a severe attack of lumbago. He has been unable to get to his office for over a week.

W. O. Thompson, master car builder of the New York Central lines, with headquarters at Buffalo, left yesterday for that city after a business visit of two days in this city.

Machinist W. H. Miller, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is kept from his work by the serious illness of his father, who will be taken to the hospital for a surgical operation.

Machinist J. Moran, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, was summoned home this morning by a message stating that his mother, who lives with him on Leith street, is seriously ill.

Mrs. Moering, wife of Pennsylvania Machinist J. T. Moering, expects to visit relatives at Delphos the latter part of the week. Mr. Moering may join his wife there Saturday and stay over Sunday.

Ten homeseekers left yesterday via the Lake Erie and Western railroad for Dundee, Fla. The party was piloted by D. R. McCready, a local real estate agent. Nine left for Texas yesterday via the Wabash.

W. G. Cartwright, wire chief of the G. R. & I., was at Kalamazoo yesterday to see his sister, who has been taken to a hospital for a surgical operation, the second within the past three months. Her condition is serious.

J. B. Hurley, general road foreman; J. E. McLone, shop and engine inspector, and H. C. Bohls, round house foreman at Toledo, of the Wabash, were in the city today looking after business connected with their departments.

John T. Scott called at The Sentinel this morning to request a correction concerning an alleged injury to himself, in which the attending surgeon is alleged to have taken several stitches in closing the wound. The item originated from a practical joker.

A. W. Eylenberg, who recently completed an apprenticeship in the Wabash machine shop, is in San Francisco. This news was conveyed to his father, John H. Eylenberg, the telegraph operator, in a card from his son, which was mailed from San Francisco.

Robert Getz, weight nine pounds and appearance all that fond parents could wish for, arrived last evening. The happy father is Art Getz, chief clerk for Road Foreman A. L. Lopshire, at the Grand Rapids and Indiana offices, who had on tap a box of good cigars for all callers at the office today.

With revolvers flashed in their faces the crew of second 51, Nickel Plate freight train, was held up on the Buffalo division of the road Saturday night. Ten or a dozen men were in the hold-up crowd, according to the report of the trainmen, and cars were completely looted, much of their contents being taken.

Hogs from the northeastern part of Indiana are being shipped to Indianapolis in greater quantities than ever before. Nearly every day the Lake Shore and the Lake Erie and Western handles some business of this kind. Yesterday six car loads of hogs passed through the city over those lines, consigned to Indianapolis packers.

Bulletins from General Passenger Agent B. F. Horner, of the Nickel Plate, announce that with the expiration of December 27 will come the withdrawal of the dollar Sunday rate. It went into effect last April and its popularity is attested to by the many thousands of people who took advantage of the rate to enjoy a visit with friends in other towns without spending much money for railway fare.

Engineer George Ek is again an extra passenger man on the Pennsylvania, after being in the freight department for some time. The change is probably due more to many of the regular passenger engineers wanting off duty for various reasons at this season of the year, more than to heavy travel on the road. One, Engineer H. E. Wagner, left a few days ago, with his wife, for California to be absent all winter.

C. W. Nelson, employed on the second floor of the Electric works, under Foreman William Wehrs, sustained a painful wound on his right hand at 10 o'clock this morning. He was grinding a tool, when his hand came in contact with the emery wheel and the flesh was cut badly between the first and second fingers and the tendon of the index finger was also cut. Dr. Schulz had to take several stitches in dressing the wound.

Nickel Plate Officer Puts in New and Clean Tale at His Trial.

Charles A. Ray, a Nickel Plate railway detective, went on the stand in the city court Wednesday and reversed himself in complete fashion, freely confessing, after repeated and persistent denials to the police, that he had fired shots from his revolver at William Hasselgren, the gigantic young Swede, who was wounded in the leg by a bullet, Saturday afternoon, November 14.

Judge Kerr, after hearing testimony for nearly two hours, took the case under advisement until 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Hasselgren and a fellow tramp named George Williams, aged 23, were making their way westward near the Maytlower mills, west of the city, and the Swede had gone into a clump of trees south of the Nickel Plate tracks. Ray came along the track on his bicycle. He questioned Williams and searched him. Then he called to Hasselgren to come back. Hesselgren started to walk away and Ray drew his revolver and fired. The Swede then started to run and Ray fired a second time. One of the shots took effect in Hasselgren's leg and after running through Lindenwood cemetery to the road he got a man who was passing in an automobile to take him to St. Joseph's hospital. The police gathered from Hasselgren's description of the man who fired that it must have been Detective Ray. Twice when questioned by the police Ray denied all knowledge of the shooting, but was nevertheless ordered locked up by Chief Lenz. In court Hasselgren and Williams fully identified Ray as the man. When Ray took the stand in his trial for assault and battery with intent to kill, he "came clean," and said he knew he had made a mistake in denying his guilt, but said he had been afraid to tell the truth. He admitted that while in the employ of the Lake Shore road as a special officer in Erie, Pa., he had shot a man.

Boy Burglars Are Held.

Walter Seabold and Eugene Miller, each 13 years old, pleaded guilty in the city court to burglary charges and were bound over to the circuit court under bonds of $500. Tuesday night the lads broke into the saloon of William Shorey, 1716 Broadway, and stole cash in pennies and nickels from the register and a slot machine. The robbery was committed between 11:15, at which time Shorey went riding with a friend, and 11:50, when he returned and found his place had been burglarized. Later an attempt was made to burglarize the Goeglein saloon, 2606 Broadway. Detective Sergeant Peter Junk, who was put on the case, traced the job at Shorey's to young Seabold and Miller, and arrested them. They took the officer to a place on Nelson street, near the Rastetter factory, where they had buried the pennies near a fence post. After being taken to headquarters Wednesday morning the lads confessed that they had robbed not only Shorey's place, but were guilty of the robbery at the Gephart saloon on the Bluffton road several weeks ago, when $9 in pennies was taken from the slot machines. They denied that they were guilty of burglarizing the Gephart saloon some days earlier, when the cash register, containing $15, was carried down to the river bank, broken open, looted and left there.

Mauled on His Own Doorstep.

Rudolph Langas and Ed J. Barry were fined $20 and costs each and given suspended sentences of twenty days in jail for assault and battery on Charles Breight, of 1201 Elm street. Barry, who is Breight's brother-in-law, and Langas went to the Breight home Monday and asked Mrs. Breight if they might speak to her husband. She invited them in, but they insisted on having Breight come out on the porch. When he emerged the pair set upon him and gave him a terrible beating.

Other City Court Cases.

Fred Messenger, who got drunk and was ejected from the "Beehive," on West Superior street, and then rammed his fist through a plate glass window of a fish market near by, was fined $10 and costs for malicious trespass. He is said to be wanted at Auburn for horse-stealing.

A man who gave the name of Joseph Mommer was turned loose after pleading guilty to a drunk charge, and so was Charles Stuckart, a loiterer.

Dr. Dave Brothers, the veterinary surgeon, was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness, and Frank Anderson, another drunk, was fined $1 and costs.

MAY BE STOLEN PLUNDER.

Detective Sergeant Charles Spillner Wednesday forenoon arrested a fellow who gives the name of C. D. Smith and booked him for loitering. The man had a package that contained six new boxes of ribbon silver solder, such as is used by dentists or jewelers, one new leather specie purse of large size, six new lead pencils, thirty-five 2-cent and eighteen 1-cent postage stamps, four war revenue stamps and a pair of pince-nez colored eyeglasses. Smith said he found them near the Grand Rapids and Indiana railway tracks this side of Decatur, from which city he claimed to have come. He was on Calhoun street when arrested.

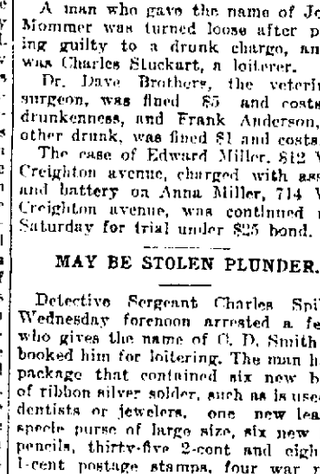
Idle Wives Are Parasites, Says 'Frisco Minister



Dr. Martin A. Meyer, a minister who chucked a bombshell into his congregation in San Francisco recently when he asserted that idle wives are parasites economically, weaklings physically, paupers mentally, and menaces socially. "There is," said Dr. Meyer, "one outstanding cure—work! The problem of the modern home is the fixing of a happy medium between the household drudge and the idle wife. In emancipating herself from the old-time bonds the modern housewife has, in many instances, broken all bonds; she is not like her mother; and the world does not want her daughter to be like her. It is in the atmosphere of the idle wife that social laxity, broken homes and the divorce court grow fat."

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Soft Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.—Adv.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR PAIN FROM BACK

Rub stiffness away with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

Ah! Pain is gone!

Quickly?—Yes. Almost instant relief from soreness, stiffness, lameness and pain follow a gentle rubbing with "St. Jacob's Oil."

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your painful back, and like magic, relief comes. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin.

Straighten up! Quit complaining! Stop those torturous "stitches." In a moment you will forget that you ever had a weak back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist now and get this lasting relief.—Adv.

DISTRESSING.

"Please, teacher, me little brother can't come to school today because he's sick from eating eggs."

"That's too bad!"

"No, ma'am; only one wuz."

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Advancing cables together with reports of a strong foreign demand put the wheat market today on the upgrade. After opening unchanged to ⅛c up, prices reacted a trifle, but soon rose higher than before.

The close was the same as last night to ⅜c higher.

Less favorable weather made the corn market firm. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c to ⅜c higher, was followed by a moderate further gain.

Closing prices were steady at ¼@⅜c above last night.

Oats hardened with other cereals.

Provision shorts, attempting to cover, found the market bare of sellers. As a result prices took a sudden bulge regardless of lower quotations for hogs.

from twenty-five states met here today to discuss the future of their party.

Those in attendance included members of the progressive national executive committee, of which George W. Perkins, of New York, is chairman, state chairmen and others prominent in the party councils. O. K. Davis, secretary of the committee, said a statement regarding the future program of the party would be issued at the close of the conference. The impression prevails among the early arrivals, it was reported, that the conference would not attempt to formulate a policy for the presidental election of 1916.

Neither Colonel Theodore Roosevelt nor Governor Hiram Johnson, of California, vice presidentiat candidate in 1912, was present. California, however, was represented by four delegates reported to be prepared to launch a boom for governor Johnson for president in 1916.

200 INDIANA BOYS TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Efficiency in Training to Be Taught Sunday School Youth.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 2.—Two hundred boys from sixteen to twenty-one years of age who are actively identified with Sunday school work in Indiana are to hold a conference at Crawfordsville, January 8, 9 and 10, to inaugurate a movement that is entirely new to Sunday schools in this state. The meeting will bear the name of "Older Boys' Conference," and it will be held under the auspices of the Indiana Sunday School association, which makes its headquarters at 417 Law building, Indianapolis. The conference is open to the older Sunday school boys of the whole state, but it is intended primarily for the youth from northwestern Indiana. It will be followed by conferences of the kind in other sections of Indiana.

The state association is now making out the list of counties which are to be represented by boy delegates. With each two delegates an adult leader in boys' work may also attend. The boys are to pay their railroad fare, fifty cents for registration fee and twenty-five cents for Fellowship supper, but they will be entertained free as guests in Crawfordsville homes. No school is to send more than two boys and one adult leader.

The purpose of the conference is to get the delegates away from the environment of their home town, give them new visions of their duty toward their Sunday schools and the boys of their community, and send them back home with increased enthusiasm for Sunday school work. It is expected that the conference will be followed with much renewed activity in the Sunday schools that are represented by delegates, especially in work among the older boys.

The general theme of the conference will be "Training for Efficiency." A very attractive program is being made up, which will be largely of a round table character, and one of the chief speakers will be John Alexander, of Chicago, superintendent of the "teen age" division of the International Sunday School association, and a specialist in work among boys. The conference is to open with a banquet. Music will be another feature, under the direction of F. E. Hathaway, of Chicago, a noted convention and evangelistic song leader.

The conference will be under the immediate direction of E. T. Albertson, superintendent of the "teen age" work in the Indiana Sunday School association, and he is now making up the details of the program. This will be, it is thought, the most popular movement that has ever been started among the Sunday school youth of Indiana. It will later be followed with conferences of girls.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Cloudy tonight and Thursday, with probably rain; colder tonight.

For Indiana: Cloudy tonight and Thursday, with probably local rains; colder tonight and in southeast portion Tuesday.

For Ohio: Cloudy and colder tonight and Thursday with probably local rains.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Cloudy, foggy, and rainy weather has continued general over the central and eastern states, with unusually high temperatures for this season of the year. No freezing temperatures are reported this morning east of Minnesota and Iowa. A storm which is central on the west gulf coast seems to be spreading northward, as it is giving rains this morning as far north as Missouri and central Illinois.

Moderately cool weather prevails over the upper Missouri valley, but in the extreme northwest temperatures have begun to moderate again.

Cloudy weather will continue in this section tonight and Thursday, and the southern storm will probably spread far enough northward to give us some rain. While it will be slightly colder tonight, no very cold weather is indicated for the next two or three days.

TO RESUME WAR ON PIGEONS THURSDAY

Unless something unforseen prevents, shooting the pigeons that have been making their home for these many years around the court house will be resumed Thursday morning. More than one hundred of them were killed Monday by Rodney Fleming and William Wiegmann, two of the best shots in this section of the country.

Already there are fewer pigeons in the vicinity of the court house than perhaps ever before and by the time the two executioners finish Thursday they will have been pretty well eradicated.

The pigeons will soon learn that their presence at the court house is not desired and they will hunt for new quarters. A large per cent of them already realize that the court house is no safe place to light.

Before starting the war on the pigeons Mr. Fleming consulted with the officers of the humane society and others and all agreed they were a nuisance and should be gotten rid of if possible. Officials at the court house and those having business there are rejoicing that this action is being taken.

Suffragist Will Rid Politics of All Its Cobwebs

Mrs. Geo. A. Armes.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 2.—A cobweb in the office of Secretary Tumulty provided Mrs. George A. Armes, president of the Democratic Women of America, with an argument for woman suffrage when she called recently at the white house.

"Give women a voice in politics, give them offices and they will sweep the cobwebs out of your office and out of your politics, too," was the message she sent to the president. He made an appointment to meet her committee early in December.

OHIO RAIL CONCERN NOW UNDER INQUIRY

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 2.—The Ohio public utilities commission today took steps to further investigate the Lake Erie and Youngstown railroad company, organized two years ago to build a steam railway. A report of an engineer retained by the commission shows only $61,000 worth of work actually has been done, although about $200,000 of the $9,000,000 securities authorized by the state commission have been issued. The company failed to make periodical reports to the commission as ordered, according to the report.

Among the expenditures of the new company are $10,000 for legal services rendered by J. L. Woodruff, of Springfield; $8,000 for two trips to Europe taken by officials of the company; $4,500 for engraving bonds; $5,000 to the National Trust and Investment company, of London, for cancelling a contract to buy $240,000 securities.

FOUR LOCAL LODGES NAME NEW OFFICERS

Four secret orders in Fort Wayne elected new officers Tuesday evening. Wednesday evening the election of officers will be held by Red Men lodge, No. 106, in Aldine hall, and the Eagles lodge in their hall on West Berry street.

Members of herd No. 1, Benevolent Order of Buffaloes, elected the following officers: Avery M. Groves, bison; Morris C. Elder, vice-bison; Guy Stookey, scribe; C. C. Case, treasurer; Edward Miller, chaplain; Samuel Lewis, inside picket; J. Ebner, outside picket; William Elder, trustee; N. Clippinger, guide. The musician and physician will be named at the next regular meeting.

Members of Wayne tent, No. 54, Knights of the Maccabees, have elected the following officers: Warren Byrer, sir knight commander; Carl Keller, lieutenant commander; N. H. Crawford, record keeper; S. G. Throckmorton, finance keeper; S. H. Dahlkamp, chaplain; F. G. Somers, sergeant; M. G. Rasmus, master-at-arms; B. W. Bright, first master of guards; V. E. Speck, second master of guards; C. W. Habecker, sentinel; E. F. Altekruse, picket; L. H. Dahlkamp, trustee for three years. M. G. Rasmus, C. W. Habecker and Henry Tieman were selected as members of the entertainment committee. Arrangements are being made for a Christmas entertainment.

The following officers were elected by Edward camp, No. 3127, Modern Woodmen: Harry Kline, V. O.; Joseph Michaels, W. A.; F. L. Waff, clerk; W. J. Fels, banker; Walter Knoche, escort; Charles Fels, inside guard; Foster Keller, outside guard; William Hensel, trustee for three years; Edward Tumblesson, trustee for two years.

Home lodge, No. 342, Free and Accepted Masons, elected the following officers: A. F. Keplinger, worthy master; Judge John H. Aiken, senior warden; D. Burns Douglas, junior warden; Fred Owen, secretary; Fred Hilt, treasurer. The new officers will be installed next Tuesday evening.

NEW COMMITTEE IS HARD AT WORK

Information is Sought Regarding Graduates of Vocational Schools.

For the purpose of getting information from different parts of the country regarding ways and means to advance apprentices in the trade, Edward Miller, chairman of the newly appointed apprentice committee of the Fort Wayne Typographical union, No. 78, is sending out hundreds of letters to the typographical unions in other states. The other members of the committee are R. A. Crosby, Perss R. Ball and O. S. Humphrey.

The committee is making an effort to see that all international and local laws to protect apprentices are enforced; to see that they do not shirk on the job; to stop their exploitation by proprietors and managers who are only looking for revenue; to weed out apprentices who are incompetent, and to get an agreement with proprietors and managers that will assure that when the apprentice is out of his time that he will be a printer.

Frederick Nugent, With Many Schemes, Is Sentenced to Prison.

New York, Dec. 2.—Frederick Nugent, long known to the postal authorities as the "supreme ruler" of the "Tridescent Order of Iris," head of the "occult school of science" and also as President Jean d'Astro, astrologer, and Professor Frederick, palmist, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Clarence W. Sessions, in the criminal branch of the federal district court, to serve a term of eighteen months in the United States prison at Atlanta, Ga. Nugent pleaded guilty to an indictment charging the use of the mails in the operation of a number of swindling schemes.

Immense Purchases Made in Chicago to Aid Sufferers.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Purchasing agents of the Rockefeller foundation bought 585,000 bushels of wheat in Chicago markets yesterday for relief of the starving Belgians, it was learned today. The Belgian relief association also bought 300,000 bushels.

The wheat will be shipped free of charge to eastern ports.

DIES AT AGE OF 81 YEARS.

Julius Baumgardt, a former Fort Wayne resident and well known to the older residents of the city, died Tuesday morning at his home in Kansas City at the age of eighty-one years. He was the father of Mrs. Fredrick Breimeyer, of West Jefferson street, this city, and another daughter, Miss Louise Baumgardt, was formerly a teacher in the Emmaus Lutheran schools.

WAR OVERTURNS FETISH.

Boon to American Musicians, Composers and Teachers.

Philadelphia, Dec. 2.—The European war is proving a great boon to American musicians, composers and teachers, according to Dr. Hugh A. Clarke, professor of music at the University of Pennsylvania, who yesterday addressed the annual convention of the Synfonia Phi Mu Alpha fraternity. "The war has been the means of overthrowing the great European fetish which was held sacred by Americans," he said. "Formerly no American artist could appear as a soloist with an orchestra unless he could claim foreign finish. The American public is beginning to see the true worth of their artists and will hereafter furnish the support which they have so long been denied."

OLDEST ODD FELLOW DIES.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 2.—William B. Emmal, 97, said to be the oldest Odd Fellow in the world, died here last night. He joined the order in 1829.

PULL THE TEETH AND BEAUTY FADES.

It seems that in England it is a common practice to pull all the teeth in order to cure pyorrhoea or Riggs' disease. Sir John Goodheart, the famous surgeon, has raised an earnest protest against this. He said in the Lancet: "To one not an expert it seems more reasonable to hold that so long as teeth are in their sockets, free from intense pain and serviceable for mastication, there is something to be said on the side of keeping our own rather than to take others that we know not of." Store teeth detract from health and beauty. When you find the teeth or gums are sore, painful to the touch of food or tongue, sensitive to heat or cold, loose in their sockets, brittle, set on edge easily, tender, or the gums shrink from the necks of the teeth, it is time for you to begin the work of destroying the microbes that infest the cracks or crannies of the teeth.

You can readily overcome these conditions by getting four ounces of fluid ergan from the druggist (you don't need more), and using a teaspoonful morning, noon and night, simply gurgling the mouth with this for a minute or so. The microbes will be washed out, the cracks cleaned, the teeth become strong and firm in the gums, the hard foreign substances dissolved and the yellow peel off. In the morning you will again see the white of your own teeth. wed-sat to dec 12
